

RUTH SNYDER UNDER DOUBLE GUARD

SENATE MAY PROBE DISASTER

CENTER SPOTLIGHT UPON M'ADOO WHEN SMITH DECLINES BID

Ex-Candidate Will Address Jackson Day Dinner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Gov. Al Smith's refusal to attend the Jackson Day "harmony" dinner here next Thursday night has had the rather curious effect of centering the spotlight upon his arch-opponent, William G. McAdoo.

Mr. McAdoo is not a candidate for the 1928 nomination. He has declared himself out of the picture. Yet he has accepted an invitation to be one of the principal speakers of the evening, and it is an obvious fact that the rank and file of Democrats are more interested in what Mr. McAdoo is going to say than in the speeches of the candidates themselves.

A good many Democratic leaders are somewhat uneasy over the prospects. They recognize that this dinner, which brings together more than a thousand party leaders from all sections of the country, and the attendant oratory, is fraught with considerable good or evil to the fortunes of the party. It will mark the first occasion since the disastrous 1924 route that there has been any serious effort among the leading Democrats of the country to come together and take stock of the party assets and liabilities. Every candidate for the 1928 nomination, save Smith, will be present, and most of them will speak. The Democratic governor of every state has been invited, and as well as all the Democrats in congress, and dozens of distinguished ex-hits and ex-thats.

Mr. McAdoo presents to most of the leaders who are praying for party harmony the biggest question mark of the gathering. Whether he wishes it or not, and irrespective of his semi-retirement, he epitomizes the anti-Smith element of the party.

Should the former secretary of the treasury, in his speech, join with other leaders in a plea for Democratic harmony and for the bandaging of those terrible wounds of 1924, it will be accepted by most of his hearers as the nomination of Smith is inevitable. McAdoo is about the only anti-Smith rallying post that is left and if his speech is indicative of his willingness, however passive, to see his 1924 rival nominated it will be about all over but the shouting in the opinion of most Democratic observers here.

If, on the other hand, Mr. McAdoo should wave aloft an anti-Smith banner, and signify the intention of himself and his friends to block the nomination of the Tammany governor, if possible, then a good many uneasy party leaders believe "it will be 1924 all over again."

Most Democratic leaders concede that Mr. McAdoo has lost much of the following he had in 1924, but there is still enough of it left to make a mockery of party harmony if the ex-treasury head cares to do it.

AUTO VICTIM DIES FOLLOWING CRASH

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 9.—The body of Mrs. Ruby Williamson, 25, of Detroit, who died in a hospital here last night, following an automobile accident, is to be taken to Marietta for burial today.

The victim was in a car enroute to Detroit which crashed into the rear end of a trailer on another machine, five miles north of here. A two-year old child in her arms escaped injury. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harpley, of Detroit, who were also in the car were slightly hurt.

SICK MAN KILLED IN AMBULANCE CRASH

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—An investigation into the death of Robert J. Spraley, 25, who died last night after an ambulance crash, in which he was being taken to a hospital, crashed with three other cars at street crossing, was under way today. Spraley was suffering from tuberculosis and was being taken to Miami Valley Hospital. Following the accident he was taken into another car, but died before reaching the hospital.

GRAND JURY BEGINS PROBE OF VELMA WEST HAMMER SLAYING

PAINEVILLE, O., Jan. 9.—Fifteen men and women composing the Lake County Grand Jury were to convene here today to consider a charge of first degree murder against twenty-one year old Velma West, in connection with the hammer slaying of her husband, Edward West, 26, at Perry, O., near here, December 8.

Prosecuting Attorney Seth Paulin has indicated that he will attempt to obtain a first degree murder indictment against the youthful widow.

A confession of the accused woman, said by Sheriff Edward Rasmussen to have been obtained the day following the murder, will be presented to the grand jury, according to Paulin.

Common Pleas Judge Arlington G. Reynolds will instruct the grand jury this morning, after which a foreman will be selected.

Owing to its importance the West case will be the first of a number considered by the grand jury, it was said. A score or more of witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before the body, and taking of testimony will require two days or longer, Prosecutor Paulin predicted.

DIRECTORS OF H. AND A. NAMED

All former directors of the Hoover and Allison Co., were re-elected for the coming year at the annual meeting of stockholders at the main offices of the company, Steele Bldg., here Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The directors are: J. D. Steele, George Little, Mrs. A. G. H. Baker, and W. Crawford Craig, all of Xenia; George E. Hudson, Dayton, C. C. Chase, Cincinnati and J. F. Orr, of Kansas City, Mo.

The stockholders heard the annual report but transacted no other business of a public nature. Directors will hold their annual organization meeting later, it was announced.

JARDINE WILL KEEP HANDS-OFF POLICY ABOUT FARM RELIEF

Administration Will Not Fight McNary-Haugen Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine has notified farm relief leaders in congress that he will adopt a "hands off" policy in the impending struggle over the McNary-Haugen bill.

This news was received by farm relief backers as evidence that the administration will rest its case solely on the principles laid down by President Coolidge in his McNary-Haugen veto message of last year and his message to the present congress.

Although there have been persistent reports that Jardine would make an active fight for his own farm aid program, Rep. Haugen, (R) of Iowa, chairman of the house agriculture committee, said today that Jardine had declined an invitation to appear before the committee.

Admitting that he had discussed compromise suggestions in a conference with Jardine, Rep. Haugen said that the insistence of farm bodies on the equalization fee prevents the possibility of an agreement with the administration.

"If we would strike out the equalization fee, we wouldn't have any trouble getting together with Secretary Jardine," said Haugen.

"Our talk was entirely friendly," said Haugen. "I told him the committee is always glad to hear from him, but he said he did not expect to come before us."

ENDOW SCHOOL FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—An endowment of one million dollars has been settled on the University of Chicago for medical research work in the realm of diseases that attack men and women in middle life.

The donors are Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Lasker. Mr. Lasker is former chairman of the American Shipping Board.

The purpose of the endowment, as pointed out by Max Mason, president of the university, is to wage a concerted fight against the degenerative diseases that attack people of 50 or more, "when their intelligence is at the highest and their value to the community is the greatest."

The newly endowed institution will be known as the Lasker foundation for medical research.

FOUR INJURED

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Four persons, all of Cincinnati, were injured when an interurban car hit their automobile at a crossing here today. Heavy fog was responsible for the crash. Those hurt are: Robert Johnson, 28, driver of the machine, his wife, Jean, 25; Millard Edwards, 35; and his wife, Freda, 32. All are expected to recover.

BEER WOULD REVIVE AGRICULTURE SAYS EX-DRY EXECUTIVE

Offers Legalization As Solution Of Farm Problem

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Beer with a kick was proposed today as one solution of the perplexing farm problem by Col. James C. Waddell, former supervisor of alcohol and brewery control in the prohibition bureau.

"Everybody wants to discover a panacea for the revival of agriculture," Waddell said.

"One way of getting it, although it may not be all that agriculture needs, is the restoration of the market for barley and hops."

These crops were worth over $300,000,000 per year before prohibition. If they were returned they probably would be worth $500,000,000 now.

"Legislation of 23 per cent beer—regarded as non-intoxicating and therefore no violation of the eighteenth amendment—would restore the barley and hops markets."

"Such action would not be academic farm relief. It would be practical, definite and immediate—the building up of a real money crop."

Waddell estimated that it would require 15,000,000 acres to raise the barley alone. In addition to finding a well-paying and prosperous market for this land, he said, the vast acreage would decrease now devoted to other grains and thus solve part of the overproduction problem.

The farmer had no brief against mild beer when he became one of the stuncheon supporters of the 18th amendment, but was simply determined to get rid of whiskey and the village saloon, elements undermining the efficiency of his hands, Waddell asserted.

"Many people seem to have gotten lost in the maze of the Volstead act," he continued "but the farmer is the one who has had to pay the celebration was 'on him.' It didn't leave him the price of breakfast the next day. He is still struggling to meet the bill."

Waddell insisted that reports from the Middle West indicate that the farmer is beginning to realize this.

THEATER OWNERS TO FACE BLUE LAW TEST

DOVER, O., Jan. 9.—The climax of the "motion picture" blue law fight is expected to be reached here today when the managers of three theaters appear in Mayor F. J. Groble court this afternoon to answer charges of operating their shows on Sunday, and violating the "blue law" that is in effect here.

Warrants were served on the motion picture operators, Roscoe Eppidell, George Crest, and Edward T. Allman, after they had opened their shows here yesterday, the fifth consecutive Sunday that the pictures were shown.

Meanwhile Eppidell and Crest are free under bond. They are to appear in court tomorrow afternoon to answer charges of being habitual violators of the blue laws.

ACCUSED YOUTH IS DEAD FROM BURNS

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 9.—The Tuscarawas County grand jury which convenes here today will consider one less case than is listed on their docket, due to the death of Kenneth L. Ayers, 23, who was to appear before the grand jury to answer manslaughter charges growing out of an automobile accident near here last December 3, in which G. F. Born, 84, a Civil War veteran of Urichsville was killed.

Ayers died in the hospital here yesterday morning from severe burns sustained in a fire which last Thursday partially destroyed Edward, 35; and his wife, Freda, 32. All are expected to recover.

OUT OF DANGER

MRS. ALFRED SMITH

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the governor of New York, is believed to be out of danger, following her successful though hurried operation for acute appendicitis in St. Vincent's Hospital.

TWO PRISONERS ARE KILLED, MARSHAL INJURED AT LONDON

Police Car Struck By Train—Blame Third Prisoner

LONDON, O., Jan. 9.—Two men were dead and a third was seriously injured today as the result of a crossing crash here yesterday when the town's police automobile, occupied by Marshal Sherman Beathard and three prisoners, collided with a Pennsylvania passenger train.

The dead are Earl O'Brien, 55, and William G. Baker, 32, both of London. Marshal Beathard suffered lacerations of the scalp and badly crushed arms. He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus where he was reported in a serious condition today, though he is expected to recover.

William Feeley, of London, another prisoner, is alleged to have hit the marshal over the head as the automobile was approaching the crossing, causing him to lose control.

The three men had been arrested in a house in London, on a complaint by neighbors that they were drinking. Marshal Beathard was enroute to the City Jail with the three when the accident happened.

One witness said that when the car was a short distance from the crossing it seemed to gather speed and swerve, as though the driver had lost control, and struck the front part of the locomotive. Marshal Beathard says one of the men hit him over the head and police say manslaughter charges will be filed against Feeley.

LINER FLOATED

TOKIO, Jan. 9.—The American liner President Monroe, which went aground in the Suo Sea near Moji, was refloated today and is proceeding to Shanghai. She was damaged. The liner, which sailed from New York on Nov. 24, on a world cruise, was bound from Kobe, Japan, to Shanghai when she went ashore. None of the passengers was injured.

BOTH WOMEN TAKE POISON WHEN MAN REFUSES TO MAKE CHOICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—One of the usual triangles had an unusual climax today which sent two women—a wife and "the other woman"—to the hospital suffering from self administered poison.

They swallowed poison tablets at a dramatic meeting at which Charles S. Mansfield, a policeman, refused to choose between them. Both women may die.

According to the police, Mrs. Mansfield has been separated from her husband since September. Sunday afternoon she went to his apartment and there confronted her husband and Miss Louise Edman. She demanded that he choose between them. Mansfield, police say, refused, whereupon his wife swallowed poison tablets and fled to the bathroom where she locked the door. Miss Edman became hysterical and also swallowed some of the tablets from the bottle on the table.

"NEAR DISASTERS" HELP CUTTER DEFENSE

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD, BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 9.—At least three vessels had narrow escapes from naval submarines "suddenly emerging" off Provincetown Harbor.

Evidence to this effect is available for the defense of Lieut. Commander John S. "Handsome Jack" Baylis, commander of the coast guard cutter Paulding which collided with the submarine S-4 and rammed the submersible to the bottom with her crew of forty men. Lieut. Commander Baylis will take the witness stand today as defendant before the naval court of inquiry investigating the S-4 disaster.

HOUSE AUTHORIZES CIVILIAN INQUIRY OF SUBMARINE TOLL

Democrats Think Civilian Inquiry Would Clear Navy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A senatorial investigation of the S-4 submarine disaster, which took a toll of forty lives, appeared probable today despite the action of the house in authorizing creation of a special civilian commission to conduct such an inquiry.

The administration's request for an inquiry by acknowledged civilian experts appeared doomed to defeat in the senate because of a prevailing belief among Democrats and Insurgents that it would lead to a "whitewash" of the navy. Leaders of the Democratic-Insurgent coalition planned to amend the house resolution to provide for a separate congressional inquiry into the S-4 disaster while allowing a civilian commission to investigate new safety devices for submarines.

The coalition relied upon the precedent created when the senate investigated the naval oil leases to support the contention for a separate inquiry into the submarine disaster. Democratic leaders argued that if President Harding had been allowed to name a civilian commission to investigate the Doheny and Sinclair leases, the oil lands might never have been recovered.

Administration leaders were opposed to a division of the inquiry. They maintained that the president would name such prominent civilians to the proposed commission that their findings would be accepted generally as free from bias or political influence.

MEXICAN BANDITS HOLDING AMERICAN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Lynman Fay Barber, mining engineer of Los Angeles, is being held captive for ransom somewhere in the mountainous regions southeast of Mexico City, by General Mendoza, bandit rebel chieftain, according to word reaching this city.

Twice have Mendoza's demands for ransom been met—once for $500, a second time for $2,500—and now he has sent an ultimatum demanding $10,000 more.

Federal troops have been pursuing Mendoza and his band, but the terrain is rough and dangerous, and every time Mendoza's spies have warned him of the approach of government troops he has retreated further into the fastnesses of a country with which he is familiar, taking his captive with him.

ROAD BUILDERS AT CLEVELAND MEET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.—Nearly 25,000 road builders from every part of the western hemisphere were arriving here today for the advanced information and advice on literally paving the way for civilization, from experts, at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the American Roadbuilders Association which opens this morning. The sessions and exhibitions which are said to be the largest of road machinery ever shown, will continue all week.

The total of road machinery on display at the public auditorium here is worth $3,000,000, officials stated.

NORTHERN OHIO IS STILL IN FOG GRIP

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Northern Ohio was still enveloped by a thick fog early today, which halted air mail service and disrupted traffic for the past thirty-six hours, local weather bureau officials reported today.

National Airport Co. officials asserted this morning that they did not know when air mail service, suspended late Saturday, would be resumed to New York and Chicago.

SIXTEEN MILLIONS GIVEN TO ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Alien property owners, chiefly Germans, received cash and property from the alien property custodian to the amount of $16,445,549.57 during the year 1927, according to figures just compiled by the custodian's office.

Of this amount $9,508,130.42 represented cash and property that had been held in trust since its seizure by this government during the World War. The other $6,937,419.15 represented earnings on seized properties paid to the owners under provision of the Winslow bill of 1923.

FORMER MRS. GOULD WEDS AGAIN

Mrs. Laura Marguerite Gould, divorced wife of George J. Gould, is now the bride of Roy Royston, English actor. Photo shows the couple after the ceremony at Chelsea register office, London, Eng.

FOUR MURDERS RECORDED IN PITTSBURGH OVER SUNDAY

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—A new record was written into the annals of Allegheny County today as four murders were recorded, all occurring in or near Pittsburgh over Sunday.

As Raymond Carbons, 31, trudged home with a banjo slung over his shoulder, someone sent a bullet through the back of his head, and then faced the mystical instrument carefully across his chest.

Two negro thugs attacked Frank Fisher, 51, and succeeded in battering in his skull. He died in a hospital.

PRISONERS CAUGHT BEFORE PEN GUARDS KNEW THEY ESCAPED

Darke and Montgomery County Convicts Taken By Police

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9.—Two convicts, who tunneled their way out of a cell, scaled a high wall with an improvised rope ladder, and escaped from Ohio penitentiary early today, were recaptured by police twenty minutes later, before penitentiary officials knew they were gone.

The convicts, Burton Carter, of Darke County, under sentence for robbery; and James Scott, of Montgomery County, sentenced for shooting with intent to kill; were held in solitary confinement.

Breaking through the floor of their cells late last night, they entered the basement, and from there the penitentiary grounds.

A bed mattress had been ripped apart and pieced together to form a rope ladder. This was thrown over the penitentiary wall as the last step to freedom.

A few minutes later, a taxi driver noticed the ladder, hanging over the wall, and reported to police headquarters. The alarm was spread and the two fugitives, conspicuous by reason of their convict uniforms, were discovered.

Scott surrendered immediately but Carter ran and a policeman fired at him four times with his pistol before he was captured. Warden Thomas is conducting an investigation.

DAYTON POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERY

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were attempting to determine whether Edward Biddle, 55, confectionery proprietor, whose body was found at the foot of a stairway this morning, was the victim of a murder or an accident.

Biddle's confectionery had been robbed and his body was discovered with the neck broken. Police believe he was either thrown from the top of the stairs or was awakened when the thieves entered and fell in descending. He lived above the confectionery.

AUTHORITIES FEAR WOMAN MAY TRY TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Uncover Smuggling Plot; Gray Prepares To Make Will

SING SING PRISON, OS-SINING, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Ruth Snyder was placed under double guard today for fear she would attempt to commit suicide in an effort to cheat the electric chair in which she is to die Thursday night.

Matrons assigned to watch Mrs. Snyder were cautioned to keep her under the closest surveillance, and another guard was stationed to see that the matrons do not relax their vigilance for a moment.

These precautions were taken after the authorities had uncovered a smuggling plot by means of which Mrs. Snyder was able to send communications to the outside world.

Henry Judd Gray, accomplice of Mrs. Snyder, has arranged to make his will this afternoon. He is fully resigned to his fate. Unlike Mrs. Snyder he has not the slightest hope that Governor Alfred E. Smith or any one else will intervene.

Gray, it is reported, will leave most of his property to his daughter, Jane. He will not entirely cut off his wife, Mrs. Isabel K. Gray, however, although she has visited him but once since he entered the death house.

Mrs. Snyder already has made her will. She left most of her belongings to her daughter, Lorraine. Warden Lewis J. Lawes said this morning that Mrs. Snyder is bearing up well under the strain of the approaching execution. Her appetite is normal, although at times she has been highly nervous.

Mrs. Snyder and Gray will not have to suffer the torture of seeing each other on the way to the execution chamber. Warden Lawes is determined upon that point. He is seeking a way to allow the woman to be the first to die, yet avoid their seeing each other.

The cell of Mrs. Snyder, in the women's section of "death row" is about 150 feet from the electric chair. It will take her about thirty or forty seconds to traverse this distance—through two passages and four doors. Passing through the third door, Mrs. Snyder will walk past the six last-minute cells where the men prisoners are taken just before they are electrocuted. In one of these cells will be Gray. This would be inevitable that the former lovers would have a last tragic glimpse of each other.

CHILD KILLER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

DEATH HOUSE, ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 9.—With a plea of innocence on his lips, Raymond Winter, 33, convicted of the slaying of two defenseless children paid in full his debt to society at dawn today.

The slayer of little Alex and Helen Sabo, a miner's children, whose lifeless bodies were recovered from a creek near Castle Shannon in May, 1925 went to his death in the electric chair at 7:02 a. m. and five minutes later was pronounced dead.

A few minutes later William W. ers, of Philadelphia, paid the extreme penalty for the murder of a Philadelphia policeman.

"BOB" FOLWELL IS DEAD IN HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Expressions of grief and surprise were heard in sport circles today over the sudden passing during the night of Robert C. Folwell, 43, one of the greatest football players ever to wear a University of Pennsylvania uniform and later a noted coach. "Farmer Bob" as Folwell was known to thousands of football followers and players whom he had tutored in the quarter of century of his coaching career succumbed in Jefferson Hospital following an operation on his hip.

Folwell's death follows closely on that of Alvin C. Kraenzlein, famous University of Pennsylvania and Olympic star, in the Wilkes-Barre Hospital last Friday.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

LLOYD GEORGE LANDS SAO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 9.—Former Premier David Lloyd George, of England, who is making a South American tour arrived here today from Rio Janeiro.

RUTH SNYDER UNDER DOUBLE GUARD

SENATE MAY PROBE DISASTER

CENTER SPOTLIGHT UPON M'ADOO WHEN SMITH DECLINES BID

Ex-Candidate Will Ad- dress Jackson Day Dinner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Gov. Al Smith's refusal to attend the Jackson Day "harmony" dinner here next Thursday night has had the rather curious effect of centering the spotlight upon his arch-opponent, William G. McAdoo.

Mr. McAdoo is not a candidate for the 1928 nomination. He has declared himself out of the picture. Yet he has accepted an invitation to be one of the principal speakers of the evening, and it is an obvious fact that the rank and file of Democrats are more interested in what Mr. McAdoo is going to say than in the speeches of the candidates themselves.

A good many Democratic leaders are somewhat uneasy over the prospects. They recognize that this dinner, which brings together more than a thousand party leaders from all sections of the country, and the attendant oratory, is fraught with considerable good or evil to the fortunes of the party. It will mark the first occasion since the disastrous 1924 route that there has been any serious effort among the leading Democrats of the country to come together and take stock of the party assets and liabilities. Every candidate for the 1928 nomination, save Smith, will be present, and most of them will speak. The Democratic governor of every state has been invited, and most of them will attend. Forty-eight state chairmen have been asked, as well as all the Democrats in congress, and dozens of distinguished ex-this and ex-that.

Mr. McAdoo presents to most of the leaders who are praying for party harmony the biggest question mark of the gathering. Whether he wishes it or not, and irrespective of his semi-retirement, he epitomizes the anti-Smith element of the party.

Should the former secretary of the treasury, in his speech, join with other leaders in a plea for Democratic harmony and for the mending of those terrible wounds of 1924, it will be accepted by most of his hearers that the nomination of Smith is inevitable. McAdoo is about the only anti-Smith rallying post that is left and if his speech is indicative of his willingness, however passive, to see his 1924 rival nominated it will be about all over but the shouting in the opinion of most Democratic observers here.

If, on the other hand, Mr. McAdoo should wave aloft an anti-Smith banner, and signify the intention of himself and his friends to block the nomination of the Tammany governor, if possible, then a good many uneasy party leaders believe "it will be 1924 all over again."

Most Democratic leaders concede that Mr. McAdoo has lost much of the following he had in 1924, but there is still enough of it left to make a mockery of party harmony if the extra-study head cares to do it.

In Jackson Day dinners of former years, it was always Wm. Jennings Bryan who presented the question mark among the speakers. This will be the first Jackson Day gathering of Democrats in a quarter-century at which Bryan has not been a central figure. His place in the spotlight has been taken, for this dinner at least, by the tall, angular son-in-law of the last Democratic president.

What the result will be remains to be seen. A lot of uneasy Democratic leaders in Washington would like to know.

GRAND JURY BEGINS PROBE OF VELMA WEST HAMMER SLAYING

PAINESVILLE, O., Jan. 9.—Fifteen men and women composing the Lake County Grand Jury were to convene here today to consider a charge of first degree murder against the two-year-old Velma West, in connection with the hammer slaying of her husband, Edward West, 26, at Perry, O., near here, December 6.

Prosecuting Attorney Seth Paulin has indicated that he will attempt to obtain a first degree murder indictment against the youthful widow.

A confession of the accused woman, said by Sheriff Edward Ras-

DIRECTORS OF H. AND A. NAMED

All former directors of the Hoover and Allison Co., were re-elected for the coming year at the annual meeting of stockholders at the main offices of the company, Steele Bldg., here Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The directors are: J. D. Steele, George Little, Mrs. A. G. H. Baker, and W. Crawford Craig, all of Xenia; George E. Hudson, Dayton; C. C. Chase, Cincinnati and J. F. Orr, of Kansas City, Mo.

The stockholders heard the annual report but transacted no business of a public nature. Directors will hold their annual organization meeting later, it was announced.

JARDINE WILL KEEP HANDS-OFF POLICY ABOUT FARM RELIEF

Administration Will Not Fight McNary-Haugen Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine has notified farm relief leaders today that he will adopt a "hands off" policy in the impending struggle over the McNary-Haugen bill.

This news was received by farm relief backers as evidence that the administration will rest its case solely on the principles laid down by President Coolidge in his McNary-Haugen veto message of last year and his message to the present congress.

Although there have been persistent reports that Jardine would make an active fight for his own farm aid program, Rep. Haugen, (R) of Iowa, chairman of the house agriculture committee, said today that Jardine had declined an invitation to appear before the committee.

Admitting that he had discussed compromise suggestions in a conference with Jardine, Rep. Haugen said that the insistence of farm bodies on the equalization fee prevented the possibility of an agreement with the administration.

"If we would strike out the equalization fee, we wouldn't have any trouble getting together with Secretary Jardine," said Haugen.

"Our talk was entirely friendly," said Haugen. "I told him the committee is always glad to hear from him, but he said he did not expect to come before us."

AUTO VICTIM DIES FOLLOWING CRASH

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 9.—The body of Mrs. Ruby Hanson, 25, of Detroit, who died in a hospital here last night, following an automobile accident, is to be taken to Marjette, her former home today.

The victim was in a car enroute to Detroit which crashed into the rear end of a trailer on another machine, five miles north of here. A two-year old child in her arms escaped injury. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harpley, of Detroit, who were also in the car were slightly hurt.

SICK MAN KILLED IN AMBULANCE CRASH

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—An investigation into the death of Robert J. Spraley, 25, who died last night after an ambulance, in which he was being taken to a hospital, crashed with three other cars at street crossing, was under way today. Spraley was suffering from tuberculosis and was being taken to Miami Valley Hospital. Following the accident he was taken into another car, but died before reaching the hospital.

FOUR INJURED

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Four persons, all of Cincinnati, were injured when an interurban car hit their automobile at a crossing here today. Heavy fog was responsible for the crash. Those hurt are: Robert Johnson, 28, driver of the machine, his wife, Jean, 25; Millard Edward, 35; and his wife, Freda, 32. All are expected to recover.

BEER WOULD REVIVE AGRICULTURE SAYS EX-DRY EXECUTIVE

Offers Legalization As Solution Of Farm
Problem

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Beer with a kick was proposed today as one solution of the perplexing farm problem by Col. James C. Waddell, former supervisor of alcohol and brewery control in the prohibition bureau.

"Everybody wants to discover a panacea for the revival of agriculture," Waddell said.

"One way of doing it, although it may not be all that agriculture needs, is the restoration of the market for barley and hops."

"These crops were worth over $300,000,000 per year before prohibition. If they were returned they probably would be worth $500,000,000 now."

"Legislation of 24 per cent beer—regarded as non-intoxicating and therefore no violation of the eighteenth amendment—would restore the barley and hops markets."

"Such action would not be academic farm relief. It would be practical, definite and immediate—the building up of a real money-crop."

Waddell estimated that it would require 15,000,000 acres to raise the barley alone. In addition to finding a well-paying and prosperous market for this land, he said, the vast acreage would decrease now devoted to other grains and thus solve part of the overproduction problem.

The farmer had no brief against mild beer when he became one of the staunchest supporters of the eighth amendment, but was simply determined to get rid of whiskey and the village saloon, elements undermining the efficiency of his hands, Waddell asserted.

"Many people seem to have gotten satisfaction from the Volstead act," he continued "but the farmer is the one who has had to pay the price of prohibition. It didn't leave him the price of breakfast the next day. He is still struggling to meet the bill."

Waddell insisted that reports from the Middle West indicate that the farmer is beginning to realize this.

THEATER OWNERS TO FACE BLUE LAW TEST

DOVER, O., Jan. 9.—The climax of the "motion picture" blue law fight is expected to be reached here today when the managers of three theaters appear in Mayor P. J. Groh's court this afternoon to answer charges of operating their shows on Sunday, and violating the "blue law" that is in effect here.

Warrants were served on the motion picture operators, Roscoe Fidler, George Crest, and Edward T. Allman, after they had opened their shows here yesterday, the fifth consecutive Sunday that the pictures were shown.

Meanwhile Fidler and Crest are free under bond. They are to appear in court tomorrow afternoon to answer charges of being habitual violators of the blue laws.

ACCUSED YOUTH IS DEAD FROM BURNS

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 9.—The Tuscarawas County grand jury which convenes here today will consider one less case than is listed on their docket, due to the death of Kenneth L. Ayers, 23, who was to appear before the grand jury to answer manslaughter charges growing out of an automobile accident near here last December 3, in which G. F. Born, 84, a Civil War veteran of Ulrichsville, was killed.

Ayers died in the hospital here yesterday morning from severe burns sustained in a fire which last Thursday partially destroyed the supply station of the White Lily Gas Company.

ENDOW SCHOOL FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—An endowment of one million dollars has been settled on the University of Chicago for medical research work in the realm of diseases that attack men and women in middle life.

The donors are Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Lasker. Mr. Lasker is former chairman of the American Shipping Board.

The purpose of the endowment, as pointed out by Max Mason, president of the university, is to wage a concerted fight against the degenerative diseases that attack people of 50 or more, "when their intelligence is at the highest and their value to the community is the greatest."

The newly endowed institution will be known as the Lasker foundation for medical research.

FOUR INJURED

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Four persons, all of Cincinnati, were injured when an interurban car hit their automobile at a crossing here today. Heavy fog was responsible for the crash. Those hurt are: Robert Johnson, 28, driver of the machine, his wife, Jean, 25; Millard Edward, 35; and his wife, Freda, 32. All are expected to recover.

OUT OF DANGER

MRS. ALFRED SMITH

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the governor of New York, is believed to be out of danger, following her successful though hurried operation for acute appendicitis in St. Vincent's Hospital.

TWO PRISONERS ARE KILLED, MARSHAL INJURED AT LONDON

Police Car Struck By Train—Blame Third Prisoner

LONDON, O., Jan. 9.—Two men were dead and a third was seriously injured today as the result of a crossing crash here yesterday when the town's police automobile, occupied by Marshal Sherman Beathard and three prisoners, collided with a Pennsylvania passenger train.

The dead are Earl O'Brien, 55, and William G. Baker, 32, both of London. Marshal Beathard suffered crushed arms and his back, but the train is not seriously damaged, according to reports received here today, though he is expected to recover.

William Feeley, of London, another prisoner, is alleged to have hit the marshal over the head as the automobile was approaching the crossing, causing him to lose control.

The three men had been arrested in a house in London, on a complaint by neighbors that they were drinking. Marshal Beathard was enroute to the City Jail with the three when the accident happened.

One witness said that when the car was a short distance from the crossing it seemed to gather speed and swerve, as though the driver had lost control, and struck the front of the locomotive. Marshal Beathard says one of the men hit him over the head and police say manslaughter charges will be filed against Feeley.

LINER FLOATED

TOKIO, Jan. 9.—The American liner President Monroe, which went aground in the Suo Sea near Moji, was refloated today and is proceeding to Shanghai. She was not damaged. The liner, which sailed from New York on Nov. 24, on a world cruise, was bound from Kobe, Japan, to Shanghai when she went ashore. None of the passengers was injured.

BOTH WOMEN TAKE POISON WHEN MAN REFUSES TO MAKE CHOICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—One of the usual triangles had an unusual climax today which sent two women—a wife and "the other woman"—to the hospital suffering from self-administered poison.

They swallowed poison tablets at a dramatic meeting at which Charles S. Mansfield, a policeman, refused to choose between them. Both women may die.

According to the police, Mrs. Mansfield has been separated from

"NEAR DISASTERS" HELP CUTTER DEFENSE

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD, BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 9.—At least three vessels had narrow escapes from naval submarines "suddenly emerging" off Provincetown Harbor.

Evidence to this effect is available for the defense of Lieut. Commander John S. "Handsome Jack" Baylis, commander of the coast guard cutter Paulding which collided with the submarine S-4 and rammed the submersible to the bottom with her crew of forty men.

Lieut. Commander Baylis will

HOUSE AUTHORIZES CIVILIAN INQUIRY OF SUBMARINE TOLL

Democrats Think Civilians Would Clear
Navy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A senatorial investigation of the S-4 submarine disaster, which took a toll of forty lives, appeared probable today despite the action of the house in authorizing creation of a special civilian commission to conduct such an inquiry.

The administration's request for an inquiry by acknowledged civilian experts appeared doomed to defeat in the senate because of a prevailing belief among Democrats and insurgents that it would lead to a "whitewash" of the navy. Leaders of the Democratic-insurgent coalition planned to amend the house resolution to provide for a separate congressional inquiry into the S-4 disaster while allowing a civilian commission to investigate new safety devices for submarines.

The coalition relied upon the precedent created when the senate investigated the naval oil leases to support the contention for a separate inquiry into the submarine disaster. Democratic leaders argued that if President Harding had been allowed to name a civilian commission to investigate the Doherty and Sinclair leases, the oil lands might never have been recovered.

Administration leaders were opposed to a division of the inquiry.

They maintained that the president would name such prominent civilians to the proposed commission that their findings would be accepted generally as free from bias or political influence.

MRS. ALFRED SMITH

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the governor of New York, is believed to be out of danger, following her successful though hurried operation for acute appendicitis in St. Vincent's Hospital.

ROAD BUILDERS AT CLEVELAND MEET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.—Nearly 25,000 road builders from every part of the western hemisphere were arriving here today for the advanced information and advice on literally paying the way for civilization, from experts, at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the American Roadbuilders Association which opens this morning. The sessions and exhibitions which are being held at the largest of road machinery ever shown, will continue all week.

The total of road machinery on display at the public auditorium here is worth $3,000,000, officials stated.

MEXICAN BANDITS HOLDING AMERICAN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Lyman Fay Barber, mining engineer of Los Angeles, is being held a captive for ransom somewhere in the mountainous regions southeast of Mexico City, by General Mendoza, bandit chief, according to word reaching this city.

Twice have Mendoza's demands for ransom been met—once for $500, a second time for $2,500—and now he has sent an ultimatum demanding $10,000 more.

Federal troops have been pursuing Mendoza and his band, but the terrain is rough and dangerous, and every time Mendoza's spies have warned him of the approach of government troops he has retreated further into the fastnesses of a country with which he is familiar, taking his captive with him.

ROAD BUILDERS AT CLEVELAND MEET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.—Nearly 25,000 road builders from every part of the western hemisphere were arriving here today for the advanced information and advice on literally paying the way for civilization, from experts, at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the American Roadbuilders Association which opens this morning. The sessions and exhibitions which are being held at the largest of road machinery ever shown, will continue all week.

The total of road machinery on display at the public auditorium here is worth $3,000,000, officials stated.

NORTHERN OHIO IS STILL IN FOG GRIP

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Northern Ohio was still enveloped by a thick fog early today, which halted air mail service and disrupted traffic for the past thirty-six hours, local weather bureau officials reported today.

National Airport Co. officials asserted this morning that they did not know when air mail service, suspended late Saturday, would be resumed to New York and Chicago.

FORMER MRS. GOULD WEDS AGAIN

Mrs. Laura Marguerite Gould, divorced wife of George J. Gould, is now the bride of Roy Royston, English actor. Photo shows the couple after the ceremony at Chelsea register office, London, Eng.

FOUR MURDERS RECORDED IN PITTSBURGH OVER SUNDAY

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—A new record was written into the annals of Allegheny County today as four murders were recorded, all occurring in or near Pittsburgh over Sunday.

Nick Anderson, 35, was shot and killed because he had been trying to lure her mother away, pretty 17-year-old Olga Pawliskak charged with the murder told county detectives.

Domenico Caputo, 30, alleged gangster, was shot to death as he sat in his car with a shotgun and revolver by his side, when occupants of another car slowly drove past him.

As Raymond Carbona, 31, trucked home with a banjo slung over his shoulder, someone sent a bullet through the back of his head, and then rared the musical instrument carefully across his chest.

Two negro thugs attacked Frank Fisher, 51, and succeeded in battering in his skull. He died in a hospital.

PRISONERS CAUGHT BEFORE PEN GUARDS KNEW THEY ESCAPED

Darke And Montgomery County Convicts Taken
By Police

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9.—Two convicts, who tunneled their way out of a cell, scaled a high wall with an improvised rope ladder, and escaped from Ohio penitentiary early today, were recaptured by police twenty minutes later, before penitentiary officials knew they were gone.

The convicts, Burton Carter, of Darke County, under sentence for robbery, and James Scott, of Montgomery County, sentenced for shooting with intent to kill; were held in solitary confinement.

Breaking through the floor of their cells late last night, they entered the basement, and from there the penitentiary grounds.

A bed mattress had been ripped apart and placed together to form a rope ladder. This was thrown over the penitentiary wall as the last step to freedom.

A few minutes later, a taxi driver noticed the ladder, hanging over the wall, and reported to police headquarters. The alarm was spread and the two fugitives, conspicuous by reason of their convict uniforms, were discovered.

Scott surrendered immediately but Carter ran and a policeman fired at him four times with his pistol before he was captured. Warden Thomas is conducting an investigation.

LINDBERGH LEAVES FOR PANAMA CITY

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 9.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off at 8:43 o'clock this morning for Panama.

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Jan. 9.—With Col. Charles A. Lindbergh expected early today at Pinapina Field, Panama City, the entire population of the Canal Zone was enthusiastically preparing to accord him a record-breaking welcome.

Army flyers from France Field, on the Atlantic side of the canal, will meet the flying visitor above Chame, a small town in the interior, and escort him to Pinapina Field.

SIXTEEN MILLIONS GIVEN TO ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Alien property owners, chiefly Germans, received cash and property from the alien property custodian to the amount of $16,445,549.57 during the year 1927, according to figures just compiled by the custodian's office.

Of this amount $9,508,130.42 represented cash and property that had been held in trust since its seizure by this government during the World War. The other $6,937,419.15 represented earnings on seized properties paid to the owners under provision of the Winslow bill of 1923.

DAYTON POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERY

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were attempting to determine whether Edward Biddle, 55, confectionery proprietor, whose body was found at the foot of a stairway this morning, was the victim of a murder or an accident.

Biddle's confectionery had been robbed and his body was discovered with the neck broken. Police believe he was either thrown from the top of the stairs or was awakened when the thieves entered and fell in descending. He lived above the confectionery.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

“BOB” FOLWELL IS DEAD IN HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Expressions of grief and surprise were heard in sport circles today over the sudden passing during the night of Robert C. Folwell, 43, one of the greatest football players in American history, and later a noted coach. "Farmer Bob" as Folwell was known to thousands of football followers and players whom he had tutored in the quarter of century of his coaching career succumbed in Jefferson Hospital following an operation on his hip.

Folwell's death follows closely on that of Alvin C. Kraenzlin, famous University of Pennsylvania and Olympic star, in the Wilkes-Barre Hospital last Friday.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

LLOYD GEORGE LANDS

SÃO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 9.—Former Premier David Lloyd George, of England, who is making a South American tour arrived here today from Rio Janeiro.

CHILD KILLER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

DEATH HOUSE, ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 9.—With a plea of innocence on his lips, Raymond Winter, 33, convicted of the slaying of two defenseless children paid in full his debt to society at dawn today.

The slayer of little Alvin and Helen, whose lifeless bodies were recovered from a creek near Castle Shannon in May, 1925 went to his death in the electric chair at 7:02 a. m. and five minutes later was pronounced dead.

A few minutes later William Myers, of Philadelphia, paid the extreme penalty for the murder of a Philadelphia policeman.

“BOB” FOLWELL IS DEAD IN HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Expressions of grief and surprise were heard in sport circles today over the sudden passing during the night of Robert C. Folwell, 43, one of the greatest football players in American history, and later a noted coach. "Farmer Bob" as Folwell was known to thousands of football followers and players whom he had tutored in the quarter of century of his coaching career succumbed in Jefferson Hospital following an operation on his hip.

Folwell's death follows closely on that of Alvin C. Kraenzlin, famous University of Pennsylvania and Olympic star, in the Wilkes-Barre Hospital last Friday.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

LLOYD GEORGE LANDS

SÃO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 9.—Former Premier David Lloyd George, of England, who is making a South American tour arrived here today from Rio Janeiro.

DAYTON POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERY

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were attempting to determine whether Edward Biddle, 55, confectionery proprietor, whose body was found at the foot of a stairway this morning, was the victim of a murder or an accident.

Biddle's confectionery had been robbed and his body was discovered with the neck broken. Police believe he was either thrown from the top of the stairs or was awakened when the thieves entered and fell in descending. He lived above the confectionery.

ROAD BUILDERS AT CLEVELAND MEET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.—Nearly 25,000 road builders from every part of the western hemisphere were arriving here today for the advanced information and advice on literally paying the way for civilization, from experts, at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the American Roadbuilders Association which opens this morning. The sessions and exhibitions which are being held at the largest of road machinery ever shown, will continue all week.

The total of road machinery on display at the public auditorium here is worth $3,000,000, officials stated.

NORTHERN OHIO IS STILL IN FOG GRIP

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Northern Ohio was still enveloped by a thick fog early today, which halted air mail service and disrupted traffic for the past thirty-six hours, local weather bureau officials reported today.

National Airport Co. officials asserted this morning that they did not know when air mail service, suspended late Saturday, would be resumed to New York and Chicago.

SIXTEEN MILLIONS GIVEN TO ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Alien property owners, chiefly Germans, received cash and property from the alien property custodian to the amount of $16,445,549.57 during the year 1927, according to figures just compiled by the custodian's office.

Of this amount $9,508,130.42 represented cash and property that had been held in trust since its seizure by this government during the World War. The other $6,937,419.15 represented earnings on seized properties paid to the owners under provision of the Winslow bill of 1923.

DAYTON POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERY

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were attempting to determine whether Edward Biddle, 55, confectionery proprietor, whose body was found at the foot of a stairway this morning, was the victim of a murder or an accident.

Biddle's confectionery had been robbed and his body was discovered with the neck broken. Police believe he was either thrown from the top of the stairs or was awakened when the thieves entered and fell in descending. He lived above the confectionery.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

LLOYD GEORGE LANDS

SÃO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 9.—Former Premier David Lloyd George, of England, who is making a South American tour arrived here today from Rio Janeiro.

CHILD KILLER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

DEATH HOUSE, ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 9.—With a plea of innocence on his lips, Raymond Winter, 33, convicted of the slaying of two defenseless children paid in full his debt to society at dawn today.

The slayer of little Alvin and Helen, whose lifeless bodies were recovered from a creek near Castle Shannon in May, 1925 went to his death in the electric chair at 7:02 a. m. and five minutes later was pronounced dead.

A few minutes later William Myers, of Philadelphia, paid the extreme penalty for the murder of a Philadelphia policeman.

“BOB” FOLWELL IS DEAD IN HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Expressions of grief and surprise were heard in sport circles today over the sudden passing during the night of Robert C. Folwell, 43, one of the greatest football players in American history, and later a noted coach. "Farmer Bob" as Folwell was known to thousands of football followers and players whom he had tutored in the quarter of century of his coaching career succumbed in Jefferson Hospital following an operation on his hip.

Folwell's death follows closely on that of Alvin C. Kraenzlin, famous University of Pennsylvania and Olympic star, in the Wilkes-Barre Hospital last Friday.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

LLOYD GEORGE LANDS

SÃO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 9.—Former Premier David Lloyd George, of England, who is making a South American tour arrived here today from Rio Janeiro.

DAYTON POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERY

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were attempting to determine whether Edward Biddle, 55, confectionery proprietor, whose body was found at the foot of a stairway this morning, was the victim of a murder or an accident.

Biddle's confectionery had been robbed and his body was discovered with the neck broken. Police believe he was either thrown from the top of the stairs or was awakened when the thieves entered and fell in descending. He lived above the confectionery.

ROAD BUILDERS AT CLEVELAND MEET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.—Nearly 25,000 road builders from every part of the western hemisphere were arriving here today for the advanced information and advice on literally paying the way for civilization, from experts, at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the American Roadbuilders Association which opens this morning. The sessions and exhibitions which are being held at the largest of road machinery ever shown, will continue all week.

The total of road machinery on display at the public auditorium here is worth $3,000,000, officials stated.

NORTHERN OHIO IS STILL IN FOG GRIP

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Northern Ohio was still enveloped by a thick fog early today, which halted air mail service and disrupted traffic for the past thirty-six hours, local weather bureau officials reported today.

National Airport Co. officials asserted this morning that they did not know when air mail service, suspended late Saturday, would be resumed to New York and Chicago.

SIXTEEN MILLIONS GIVEN TO ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Alien property owners, chiefly Germans, received cash and property from the alien property custodian to the amount of $16,445,549.57 during the year 1927, according to figures just compiled by the custodian's office.

Of this amount $9,508,130.42 represented cash and property that had been held in trust since its seizure by this government during the World War. The other $6,937,419.15 represented earnings on seized properties paid to the owners under provision of the Winslow bill of 1923.

DAYTON POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERY

DAYTON, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were attempting to determine whether Edward Biddle, 55, confectionery proprietor, whose body was found at the foot of a stairway this morning, was the victim of a murder or an accident.

Biddle's confectionery had been robbed and his body was discovered with the neck broken. Police believe he was either thrown from the top of the stairs or was awakened when the thieves entered and fell in descending. He lived above the confectionery.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

An automobile driven by John Stevens, this city, was damaged when a Lebanon bus crashed into the side of the machine on W. Main St., between Detroit and King Sts., at 9 a. m. Monday.

Stevens was turning the car around in the middle of the street when the bus smashed into the side. Nobody was injured and the bus was only slightly damaged, according to reports made to the auto club.

LLOYD GEORGE LANDS

SÃO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 9.—Former Premier David Lloyd George, of England, who is making a South American tour arrived here today from Rio Janeiro.

CHILD KILLER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

DEATH HOUSE, ROCKVIEW

Song Of The Sidewalks

THE sidewalks of Xenia echo with the story of Xenia---
OUR home town, a story of family life and community activities which runs now light-hearted and gay, now full of pathos, as it recounts the tale of a city through measured spans of life.

It is a story full of romance, mightily involved with the business of living, and the business of happiness, and the business of business itself, and it has run parallel to the progress and development of a nation until now it unravels its story of life through this startling age of quickened heartbeats and amazing achievements.

THE Xenia of yesterday was a pleasant community, rich in the traditions of a rare pioneer history, languid in the realization of a measure of success that had come to it because these pioneers had laid their foundations well and built with a shrewd eye to the future.

It was a city then, as now, of homes and churches, but it was a city of unpaved and muddy streets, of sleepy industry and sleepy commerce, a city clinging to the ideals and traditions of a past generation, a city not yet awakened to the progress that was going on around it.

Xenia now is a city of quickened pulse, of paved streets, efficient administration and wide-awake services and utilities. But its progress is better painted in the progress and development that has come to identify Xenia's business, for upon business is the foundation of Xenia laid and out of business must come its hope for the future.

THUS the story of business in Xenia has come to be the story of Xenia itself. From a trading center, established as a convenience for its founders, Xenia's merchants have contrived to bring forth a busy mart, catering to the needs and luxuries of a growing public.

This achievement is all the more remarkable because it has been accomplished on a foundation of business integrity demanded by the fact that the merchant must deal constantly with the same people. No great population expansion has given the Xenia merchants the latitude permitted big city merchants to deal with transient trade. Rather they have had to guide their ship of business so conscientiously that the shoals of false methods and dishonest practice could not endanger their hope of future success.

An interesting story might be written of the trade relations between the Xenia merchant and his customer, which have come to take on the nature of a business advisor and his client. Such a story may some day be written. But perhaps it will add nothing to the story that has been written in the minds and on the hearts of these people who have so patriotically placed their confidence in Xenia merchants that they have been able to advance the progress of OUR home town to the heights of service that are now maintained.

For as these merchants have builded, so has OUR home town advanced in the development of urban civilization. That these merchants may be honored and to the greater glory of Xenia, OUR home town, is this editorial dedicated.

"PUT YOUR HEART IN XENIA"

Song Of The Sidewalks

THE sidewalks of Xenia echo with the story of Xenia---
OUR home town, a story of family life and community activities which runs now light-hearted and gay, now full of pathos, as it recounts the tale of a city through measured spans of life.

It is a story full of romance, mightily involved with the business of living, and the business of happiness, and the business of business itself, and it has run parallel to the progress and development of a nation until now it unravels its story of life through this startling age of quickened heartbeats and amazing achievements.

THE Xenia of yesterday was a pleasant community, rich in the traditions of a rare pioneer history, languid in the realization of a measure of success that had come to it because these pioneers had laid their foundations well and built with a shrewd eye to the future.

It was a city then, as now, of homes and churches, but it was a city of unpaved and muddy streets, of sleepy industry and sleepy commerce, a city clinging to the ideals and traditions of a past generation, a city not yet awakened to the progress that was going on around it.

Xenia now is a city of quickened pulse, of paved streets, efficient administration and wide-awake services and utilities. But its progress is better painted in the progress and development that has come to identify Xenia's business, for upon business is the foundation of Xenia laid and out of business must come its hope for the future.

THUS the story of business in Xenia has come to be the story of Xenia itself. From a trading center, established as a convenience for its founders, Xenia's merchants have contrived to bring forth a busy mart, catering to the needs and luxuries of a growing public.

This achievement is all the more remarkable because it has been accomplished on a foundation of business integrity demanded by the fact that the merchant must deal constantly with the same people. No great population expansion has given the Xenia merchants the latitude permitted big city merchants to deal with transient trade. Rather they have had to guide their ship of business so conscientiously that the shoals of false methods and dishonest practice could not endanger their hope of future success.

An interesting story might be written of the trade relations between the Xenia merchant and his customer, which have come to take on the nature of a business advisor and his client. Such a story may some day be written. But perhaps it will add nothing to the story that has been written in the minds and on the hearts of these people who have so patriotically placed their confidence in Xenia merchants that they have been able to advance the progress of OUR home town to the heights of service that are now maintained.

For as these merchants have builded, so has OUR home town advanced in the development of urban civilization. That these merchants may be honored and to the greater glory of Xenia, OUR home town, is this editorial dedicated.

"PUT YOUR HEART IN XENIA"

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page wherever you go away. The Gazette considers it a favor whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70.

XENIA CHAPTER TO BE REPRESENTED AT MEET.

Miss Louise Baldwin, business delegate and Miss Louise Negus, social delegates, will represent Alpha Theta Chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority at the annual convention of Ohio Alpha Province at Springfield, Saturday and Sunday, January 14 and 15.

Delta Theta Tau Sorority was founded in 1903 at Muncie, Ind., by five girls, former members of an organization known as the Tyrolean Club. The group was made officially national at the convention in 1914 and since that time many chapters have been added, now numbering sixty-seven and 1500 girls enrolled through Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Kentucky, West Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Washington.

District or province meetings were inaugurated in 1922 in Xenia and since that time each of the three provinces holds annual conventions. The primary purpose and objective of this organization is to inspire each other to true womanhood and promote common welfare, members state. At present, the national sorority is sponsoring and supporting Coe Creek Community School at Betty's Troublesome, in the Kentucky mountains.

KESTERS ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER SUNDAY

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Kester entertained with a dinner party at their home on N. King St., Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Prentiss, Bexley, who were married in September. Mrs. Prentiss was before marriage Miss Mary Belle Humphrey, of New York City.

Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey, Miss Vera Halliday, Mr. Robert Hayes, all of Columbus, Miss Leigh Stillman, Mr. Karl T. Finn, Cincinnati.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conger, 32 Stetson Road, Sunday morning. The baby has been named Marion Leon.

Cincinnati Division, Women's Aid, Pennsylvania Railroad, will hold its fourth annual meeting next Thursday, January 12, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. R. C. Barnard, 361 Annwood Place, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati. All women of railroaders' families are invited. Xenia women will leave on the 8:15 a. m. train.

Regular meeting of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, O. E. S., will be held at the Masonic Temple Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. Initiation will be held.

Good Samaritan Class, Friends Sunday School, will meet at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Herbert Davis, Tuesday evening, January 10 and a covered dish supper will be served.

Members of A. C. Turrell are reminded of an all-day institute will be held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Marshall, Friday, January 13. The program will be announced later.

Mrs. Fannie K. Pattison, N. Galloway St., had as her week-end guests, her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. D. Winfrey and her niece, Mrs. Georgia Carpenter, Evanston, Ind.

Mr. D. W. Cherry, of the Galloway and Cherry Furniture Store, is in Chicago this week, attending the furniture market.

Mr. Charles Adair, of the Adair Furniture Store, is in Chicago, attending the furniture market. He will be gone all week.

A chicken supper will be served at Trinity M. E. Church, Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock. The public is urged to attend.

Mr. George Oldham, Dods Apartments, left Saturday, accompanied by his cousin, Mr. Oldham, from Pendleton, Ind., for Indianapolis, Ind., from which point they left for Florida, by motor. They will spend the remainder of the season in the south.

"How We Can Know God" will be the theme of a short series of Bible studies to be held in the home of Mrs. John Hubbard, 65 Walnut St., under auspices of the Berean Bible Class, First Reformed Church. The first meeting will be Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to which the Bereans extend an invitation to the women of the community.

Mr. Otto Hornick, auditor of Xenia Aerie, No. 1689, Fraternal Order of Eagles, represented the local Aerie at a meeting and banquet of district auditors of the order from all parts of Ohio at the Aerie home on N. High St. in Columbus Sunday evening.

Mr. Burgess Cumrine, south of Xenia, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis, at the McClellan Hospital, Sunday morning. He rallied and is recovering favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hardy, 13 Stetson Road, are the parents of a son, Henry Edward Hardy, born Monday morning.

The Ladies' Aid Society, Lutheran Church, will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Davis, Jr. W. Main St., Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. L. Johnson is entertaining her bridge club at her home on N. Galloway St., Tuesday. Three tables will be in play.

Mrs. C. E. Arbogast entertained the Current Events Club at her home on N. King St., Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer left Monday morning by motor for Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lupton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitmer, Chicago, will accompany them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ackley are announcing the birth of a daughter, Sunday night.

CHRIS'S COMMAND TO SPREAD GOSPEL SUBJECT OF PASTOR

Closing service of the Week of Prayer under auspices of the Xenia Ministerial Association was held Sunday evening at the First Methodist Church, Dr. W. N. Shank of the First M. E. Church preaching from the theme "Go-Tell."

He took his theme from the incident in the life of Jesus when he healed the man in Gadar, possessed with a legion of devils. The people asked Christ to return from the country. As He and His disciples were leaving, the man who had been healed asked for the privilege of accompanying Jesus on His journey. Christ refused and said unto him (Mark 5:19) "Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee."

Following the theme as only one wrapped up in the message could follow it, Dr. Shank enthused the audience that packed the church with his reiteration of the words "Go-Tell." After a few introductory remarks, he outlined the course of his thinking—a great commission, a great message, and an important messenger.

Christ commissioned the healed man to tell what had been done for him among his own people and kindred. The same commission is to the Christian today to tell simply what great things the Lord hath done for him, said the minister.

The great message is the common message of salvation, which to be understood must be lived, and in living must be told. Not to the far reaching peoples in need in America, only, but that each individual should seek to tell in a personal way to his relatives, in his own home, in his own community, in his own city. The work in the far away places, and places of great darkness is needed, but the individual work for the individual is needed, he said.

The important messenger, who the individual who had been healed—a representative of the King of Kings. "It is not the great preacher but the earnest individuals. It is not the great natural resources of America which have become wonderful for sightseeing, it is the distribution over thousands of farms throughout the land. It is not the mighty rushing Niagara, but the thousands of tiny rivulets which entwined themselves around the growing grain, and the trees to bear fruit. It is not the eloquence in many pulpits, but the thousands of folks who hold up the hands of the ministers, and in their simple way tell what the Lord hath done for them," he said.

The speaker embellished his talk with many illustrations and held a sway over his audience long past the usual time, and made a closing appeal for every one to "Go-Tell" what great things the Lord hath done for them.

A double quartet rendered two numbers and Miss Williams was at the organ. The Rev. J. R. Lunsford led the responsive reading, the Rev. L. A. Washburn led in prayer, the Rev. S. R. Burkett pronounced the benediction, and the Rev. D. A. Sellers, pastor of the church, presided.

The week of prayer closed with a high level of inspiration according to those present. The inclement weather prevented a large attendance during the first part of the week, but with warmer weather the closing meetings were well attended, with a capacity audience Sunday night. The churches will now open their plans for the Easter Ingathering with union services during the later spring and summer months.

What's Your Opinion? Well, I think that's a legitimate and important question. Remember this was a frank and somewhat old-fashioned woman. She was to please her husband and to hold his love and she's succeeding in doing it. Of course she doesn't do it merely by the way she dresses her hair, but that's important too.

There are husbands and husbands. And some middle-aged women look beautiful and dignified when they retain some of the fashion of thirty years ago. But it is my own opinion that the woman who can be old-fashioned and attractive at the same time is a very exceptional woman. The average woman will be more attractive and more successful if she follows the modes. Becoming, of course, but that can always be managed. Most men would rather have their wives look stylish than have them try to retain the style of the days of courtship, after those days are long past.

William M. Hardman, R. R. No. 2, Yellow Springs, has been appointed a trustee of the Greene County District Library Association for a five-year term by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy.

He succeeds the Rev. H. B. Williams, Osborn, whose one-year term expired December 31. The Rev. Mr. Williams declined to serve another term.

Hardman's appointment became effective January 1.

WOMAN DIES WHILE VISITING HER SON

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, 78, Rigley, Ky., passed away Friday at the home of her son, John C. Lewis, Osborn, whom she was visiting. She came to the village only a short time ago and was taken ill soon after her arrival.

Surviving besides her son John, are two other sons, William, Osborn, and George H. Morgan, Co., Ky., and one daughter, Clacey Ann Wilson, Ford, Ky.

The body was placed in charge of D. E. Coy, funeral director, who shipped the remains to Rigley, Ky., for funeral services and burial.

PROFESSOR IS ILL

Professor George F. David, head of the economics department, Wilberforce University, underwent an appendix operation at Miami Valley Hospital, Monday morning.

SHORT TALKS BY MOTHERS

A Wisconsin Mother says: "I find mothers very well informed on the subject of 'dope' in medicine. Few mothers now-a-days would buy a preparation that contained opiates or chloroform. A glance at the packaging before buying tells us this. With Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, the name tells a true story. It is quickly effective for coughs, colds, croup and throat irritations. Pure as it is sure, and worth many times its price." Sold Everywhere.

Coughs, Bronchial and Chest Affections Quickly Relieved By Brazilian Balm At Your Drugstore Inexpensive

Wins "Met" Debut

Tennesseans plan to take a special train to the Metropolitan debut of Miss Grace Moore early in 1928. Miss Moore, the daughter of Col. and Mrs. R. L. Moore, of Jellico, Tenn., was singing in light opera when she attracted the attention of M. Gatti-Casazza, manager of the Metropolitan.

Governor and Mrs. Henry Harton and his entire staff will attend her debut.

FLAMING YOUTH NOT SO VERY HOT PAUL WHITEMAN STATES

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—"America's flaming youth," avers Paul Whiteman, "is not nearly as hot as it looks."

Whiteman, the round bandsman who rode to fame on the post-war wave of jazz, has been watching his band with one eye and the younger generation with the other these several seasons past. In ball rooms, night clubs and other spots where youth is popularly supposed to be found at its wildest, he concludes in an article written for the February issue of Smart Set magazine, most of the current furor is a result of the older generations taking the younger generation too seriously. Youth wants to appear much wilder than it really wishes or dares to be, he points out, and the automobile, jazz and other accessories of the Speed Age give it the opportunity.

"Young people always did want to show off," opines Mr. Whiteman. "They want speed; that's natural enough. But at the same time they want the world to see it. If they drink, they want someone to know it."

"The youngsters want extremes in dress. They would like to have you think they are just a little daring and a little shocking. They want a cut-out on the car, but they also want brakes. There really isn't much that our flaming youth is doing that they couldn't have learned from any past generation. Our fathers and mothers, grandfathers and grandmas would have done the same things in their day with the same opportunities."

BANDITS ESCAPE

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were searching for three auto bandits who early Sunday forced Frank Reilly, 104 W. Third Ave., Mansfield, into their auto and robbed him of $85 and property valued at $54, according to a police report.

Gargle Aspirin for Tonsillitis or Sore Throat

A harmless and effective gargle is to dissolve two "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in four tablepoons of water, and gargle throat thoroughly. Repeat in two hours if necessary.

Be sure you use only the genuine Bayer Aspirin, marked with the Bayer Cross, which can be had in tin boxes of twelve tablets for few cents.

NOTICE

This is to notify the citizens of Xenia that the only authorized Hoover Sweeper service man for this city is Mr. Fay Funderburg. If your Hoover needs service call him at his home or at Galloway and Cherry's.

Signed Galloway & Cherry

TUESDAY

I Chien Menu Shredded Chicken on Biscuits Creamed Potatoes Mashed Potatoes Bread and Butter Tea, Milk or all the Coffee You Wish 35c The Gallaher Drug Co 33 E. Main St.

WINS "MET" DEBUT

CHRIS'S COMMAND TO SPREAD GOSPEL SUBJECT OF PASTOR

RECORD NUMBER OF DEFENDANTS IN ACTION TO SETTLE ESTATE

Creating what is believed to be a record, a suit is on file in Common Pleas Court in which 225 persons are named defendants.

The defendants, living in almost every state in the country, including twenty-three different counties in Ohio, exclusive of one each in South America and Canada, are all heirs of the estate of John W. Rose, farmer, late of near Jamestown.

J. H. Sanders, as administrator of the estate, is plaintiff in the action.

RECORD NUMBER OF DEFENDANTS IN ACTION TO SETTLE ESTATE

It is set forth that debts due from the decedent total $322; that the cost of administration is $500 and that the value of the personal property and effects of the deceased amounts to only $187.50, wholly inadequate to pay the debts and cost of administration.

Decedent owned real estate having an appraised value of $6,370, according to the administrator, who seeks authority from the court to sell property to pay debts.

Attorneys L. T. and J. C. Marshall who filed the suit, spent about two months in locating the numerous relatives and have obtained permission from the court to give published notice of the filing of the suit.

REPORT 100 MINERS ENTOMBED BY ILLINOIS MINE EXPLOSION

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Jan. 9.—Working frantically to save more than 100 miners entombed in the Industrial Coal Co. mine No. 18 here from "black damp" poisonous gases, volunteer rescue crews headed by the Benton, Ill., mine rescue team bent every effort to reach the men caught 500 feet below the surface and almost a mile from the mine shaft by an explosion shortly after the day shift of the men went to work this morning.

There were 136 men believed to have been in the section of the mine where the last occurred, and several of these are known to have escaped and returned to their homes.

George Watkins, who escaped, said he saw at least ten bodies of men dead or unconscious lying in the mine passageways as he groped his way from the dreared gas area.

Watkins said he escaped the effects of the gas by tearing off his flannel shirt, and wrapping it around his head to keep from inhaling the poison fumes.

Who's Who and Timely Views

GERMAN LOANS DECLARED SAFE

By W. AVERELL HARRIMAN New York Financier

(William Averell Harriman was born in 1891, and was graduated from Yale University in 1913. He is chairman of the board of the W. A. Harriman & Co., Inc., and chairman of the American Ship and Commerce Corporation. He also is a director of the U. P. R. R., I. C. R. R., Wells Fargo Co., American Express and National Surety Co. His home is in New York.)

In Germany I found bankers and business men in sympathy with S. Parker Gilbert in his demand for the economy and control of governmental expenditures, national, state and particularly municipal.

As a practical matter, reparations transfers cannot interfere with the transfer of the service of American loans.

The theory on which the Dawes plan is drawn is the maintenance of Germany's currency on a gold basis. If Germany is to remain on a gold basis it will follow that the borrower can always buy dollars with his marks. Rationing or allocation of exchange and a gold basis of currency are incompatible.

The statements that reparations payments are a first lien against German property is true, but only in so far as the prescribed mark payments are concerned. The duty of transferring these marks into other exchange is not, under the Dawes plan, the obligation of the German government, but is left to the discretion of the transfer committee of the reparations commission.

The function of, and the reason for the transfer committee, is to facilitate the transfer from German marks into the currency of the receiving nations of as large an amount of the reparations as is possible without injury to Germany's credit and currency.

It is inconceivable, therefore, as a practical matter, that the transfer committee will do anything to destroy Germany's credit, because doing so would defeat its main purpose.

COUPE IS STOLEN

Theft of a Chevrolet coupe belonging to Levi Darnier, Yellow Springs, from its parking place in front of the Reformed Church in Xenia, while the owner was attending church services between 7:30 and 9 p. m., Sunday, was reported to the Greene County Auto Club.

The car was a 1927 model and bore license number 162,046.

Without These You Can't Live!

If you take from your food entirely, Calcium, Phosphorus, Iron, Magnesium you wither and die.

Reduce the amount your body and brain should have and you soon become afflicted with nerve-trouble, gland-trouble, anemia, weakness, digestive disorders, infected teeth, headache, lowered vitality, fatigue, a tendency to have colds frequently and a general debilitated state of the system. Your system is "unbalanced"! Modern methods of preparing food has robbed you of certain necessary elements, and all you may need to do is—Get back your "balance".

It is absolutely essential to supply the needed elements if you wish to enjoy the best of health. For fifteen years, physicians have prescribed the elements contained in Cadomene Tablets. The ingredients are printed on the label. Using Cadomene, the improvement is prompt. Within a week, appetite, digestion, sounder sleep, calmer nerves, increased strength, all assure the user that needed elements of health are daily being supplied to the system.

A few weeks' use of Cadomene Tablets is time enough to produce a delightful buoyancy and reserve strength.

Cadomene is not a cheap "catch penny tonic"—but an efficient enricher of the blood and a potent strength-inducing agent.

Druggists everywhere sell Cadomene on a guarantee of delightful satisfaction or money back.

Optical Department Tiffany Jewelry Store S. Detroit Below Second St.

SUNDAY EVENING CLUB IN MEETING

After an interval of two weeks because of the Christmas holidays, the Xenia Sunday Evening Club held its weekly meeting at Christ Episcopal Church Parish House Sunday night.

There was no regular speaker, members confining themselves to an informal debate on various subjects, including a discussion of "Our Changing Morals," and a philosopher's solution of the present problem of marriage.

The meeting was preceded by the serving of light refreshments. It is expected that a speaker will be obtained for the session next Sunday night.

NEW BASKETBALL JERSEYS HAVE BEEN ORDERED FOR THE GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM.

The per cent of attendance for the different schools of the township for the month of December is as follows—Paintersville, 99.7; Eleazar, 96.1; Mt. Tabor, 96.1; Needmore, 96; Newhope, 94.8; Babbtown, 92.8; High School, 92; Maple Corner, 90.5.

CEIL GARDINHOIS, 40, Yellow Springs St., Springfield, O., arrested by police in that city and returned to Xenia Monday by Peter Shagin, motorcycle policeman, is expected to be arraigned before Mayor John W. Prugh on a charge of reckless driving, in connection with a recent automobile accident in this city.

WILL PROBE FLOOD

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Thames River flood, which has cost more than twenty lives, probably will be investigated by parliament after that body convenes later this month. Notice has been given already that a request will be made in the house of commons for an investigation to fix responsibility for the breaking of the dikes.

CAESARCREEK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The following high school pupils were placed upon the honor roll due to their work done for the month of December:

Seniors—Lucille Faulkner, Zora Jones, Rowena McKay, Hazel Thomas.

Juniors—Thelma Carle, Mary Leaming, Irene Peterson, Velma Smith, Lucille Stroup.

Sophomores—Howard Bales, Helen Carle, Helen Conklin, Guy Gravit.

Freshmen—None.

The O. S. and S. O. Home basketball teams (boys and girls) will come to Caesarcreek for two games of basketball Friday night, January 13. The first game will be called at eight o'clock.

The grade and high school pupils of the township will take their examinations Thursday and Friday, January 12 and 13.

Twenty-two students of the high school met in the office January 5 and organized a science club. It was named the Pascal Science Club. Edgar Gravitt was elected president and his younger brother, Guy, was elected secretary. Elmer Colvin, was elected vice-president. The first regular meeting will be held January 25. The club will meet at least once a month. New members will be admitted to the club after their application has been approved by the charter members. Names of charter members: Edgar Gravitt, Duane Hatfield, Elmer Colvin, Donald DeVoe, Georgia Wolary, Mary Cospey, Jane Mussetter, Margaret Pickering, Elizabeth DeVoe, Frances Lundy, Glen Jones, Elizabeth Leaming, Mildred Cospey, Wilbur Thomas, Herbert McKay, Howard Haines, Howard Bales, Vernon Shambaugh, Paul Bone, Paul Middleton, Glen Baynard, Irvin Swindler.

Called by Death

Ephraim Garrison, 74, died at his home in the Pansy vicinity, near Wilmington, Friday morning. He leaves his widow, eight sons, Walter and Frank, of Cincinnati; Arthur, of Columbus; Brice and Henry, of Pansy, and Leroy and Chester, at home and four daughters, Mrs. J. Gordon, Xenia; Mrs. Fred Gilbert, Cincinnati; Mrs. Hartland Sparks, Dayton; and Mrs. James Copeland, Wilmington.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Pansy Church.

Nip Head Colds in the Bud

Don't suffer from headaches, nasal and throat congestion, abnormal fatigue—all warning signs of approaching danger. Musterole Laxative Cold Tablets nip head colds in the bud, relieve congestion, drive out infection.

They are a safe, prompt remedy for colds. Musterole Cold Tablets are laxative, and usually stop bad colds, quickly. Prepared by makers of famous Musterole used everywhere for relieving muscular pains and chest colds. All Druggists, 35c.

The Musterole Company, Cleveland, O.

MUSTEROLE LAXATIVE COLD TABLETS Chocolate coated—easy to take

A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION—J.C. PENNEY CO.

"where savings are greatest"

37—39 EAST MAIN ST. XENIA, OHIO

An Oxford Tie

Stylish and Comfortable, Thru the New Built-In Flex Shank Arch Support

The flexible shank bends and gives with every step, but does not break down.

In soft, pliable kid of selected quality, with patent leather apron, like cut; military heel with rubber tap. Very moderately priced at—

Bends With Each Step $4.98 Our New Built-In Feature

Flex Shank Arch Support Gives Foot and Leg Ease

Being flexible the shank bends with every step—does not break down. For added foot and ankle ease. In patent with new cut-out design; military heels with rubber taps—

$4.98

Our Built-In Arch Support Three-Button Pumps for Women

With our built-in Combination Arch Support, for real foot, ankle and arch ease and comfort—plenty of style, too. In patent. Moderately priced at—

$4.98

Old Hickory Smoke Salt and Old Hickory Smoke Liquid The kind you have always used.

Magazines All The Popular Ones Liberty, Colliers Sat. Evening Post, True Story, McCall's, Etc.

Cigarettes Old Gold Johnny Walker Camel Chesterfields Omar and all the best sellers in carton or single package.

27 years of Personal Service At Detroit and Second Sts. Get It At DONGES

Where Dependable Drug Store Needs Are Sold

Old Hickory Smoke Salt and Old Hickory Smoke Liquid The kind you have always used.

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page whenever you go away. The Gazette considers it a favor whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70.

XENIA CHAPTER TO BE REPRESENTED AT MEET.

Miss Louise Baldwin, business delegate and Miss Louise Negus, social delegates, will represent Alpha Theta Chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority at the annual convention of Ohio Alpha Province at Springfield, Saturday and Sunday, January 14 and 15.

Delta Theta Tau Sorority was founded in 1903 at Muncie, Ind., by five girls, former members of an organization known as the Tyrolean Club. The group was made officially national at the convention in 1914 and since that time many chapters have been added, now numbering sixty-seven and 1500 girls enrolled through Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Kentucky, West Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Washington.

District or province meetings were inaugurated in 1922 in Xenia and since that time each of the three provinces holds annual conventions. The primary purpose and objective of this organization is to inspire each other to true womanhood and promote common welfare, members state. At present, the national sorority is sponsoring and supporting Creek Community School at Betty's Troublesome, in the Kentucky mountains.

KESTERS ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER SUNDAY

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Kester entertained with a dinner party at their home on N. King St., Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hentrich, Hentrich, who were married in September. Mrs. Hentrich was before marriage Miss Mary Belle Humphrey, of New York City.

Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey, Miss Vera Halliday, Mr. Robert Hayes, all of Columbus, Miss Leigh Stillman and Mr. Karl T. Finn, Cincinnati.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conger, 32 Stetson Road, Sunday morning. The baby has been named Marion Leon.

Cincinnati Division, Women's Aid, Pennsylvania Railroad, will hold its fourth annual meeting Thursday, January 12, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. R. C. Barnard, 361 Annwood Place, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati. All women of railroaders' families are invited. Xenia women will leave on the 8:15 a. m. train.

Regular meeting of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, O. E. S., will be held at the Masonic Temple Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. Initiation will be held.

Good Samaritan Class, Friends Sunday School, will meet at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Herbert Davis, Tuesday evening, January 10 and a covered dish supper will be served.

Members of A. C. Turrell are reminded that an all-day institute will be held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Marshall, Friday, January 13. The program will be announced later.

Mrs. Fannie K. Pattison, N. Galloway St., had as her week-end guests, her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. D. Winfrey and her niece, Mrs. George Carpenter, Evanston, Ind.

Mr. D. W. Cherry, of the Galloway and Cherry Furniture Store, is in Chicago this week, attending the furniture market.

Mr. Charles Adair, of the Adair Furniture Store, is in Chicago, attending the furniture market. He will be gone all week.

A chicken supper will be served at Trinity M. E. Church, Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock. The public is urged to attend.

Mr. George Oldham, Dodds Apartments, left Saturday, accompanied by his cousin, Mr. Oldham, from Pendleton, Ind., for Indianapolis, Ind., from which point they left for Florida, by motor. They will spend the remainder of the season in the south.

"How We Can Know God" will be the theme of a short series of Bible studies to be held in the home of Mrs. John Hubbard, 65 Walnut St., under auspices of the Berean Bible Class, First Reformed Church. The first meeting will be Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to which the Bereans extend an invitation to the women of the community.

Mr. Otto Hornick, auditor of Xenia Aerie, No. 1680, International Order of Eagles, represented the local Aerie at a meeting and banquet of district auditors of the order from all parts of Ohio at the Aerie home on N. High St. in Columbus Sunday evening.

Mr. Burgess Cumrine, south of Xenia, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis, at the McCallan Hospital, Sunday morning. He rallied and is recovering favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hardy, 13 Stetson Road, are the parents of a son, Henry Edward Hardy, born Monday morning.

The Ladies' Aid Society, Lutheran Church, will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Davis, Jr., W. Main St., Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. L. Johnson is entertaining her bridge club at her home on N. Galloway St., Tuesday. Three tables will be in play.

Mrs. C. E. Arbogust entertained the Current Events Club at her home on N. King St., Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer left Monday morning by motor for Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lupton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitmer, Chicago, will accompany them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ackley are announcing the birth of a daughter, Sunday night.

Miss Lucy Stout entertained nine girls of Central High School at dinner at her home on Hill St., Friday evening, preceding the Xenia-Greenville basketball game. Covers were laid for the Misses Betty Kingsbury, Frances Marshall, Margaret Neeld, Marjorie Hook, Doris McCormick, Dora Hayward, Evelyn Patterson, Marguerite Zeiner, Helen Currie and Lucy Stout.

Raymond Junior, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spahr, New Jasper, broke both bones in his right arm when he fell from a wagon, Saturday. Dr. William Ungard attended the injury.

Mr. Acolph Moser was removed to his home on W. Second St. from Eskey Hospital, Sunday, and is recovering nicely from a slight fracture of the skull, received when he fell while ice skating last week. He will be confined indoors for another week.

Miss Maud Miller resumed her work at the Hutchison and Gibney Store, Monday, after being confined to her home on S. Galloway St., several weeks by illness.

Mr. T. Victory Kolb spent the week end with relatives in Columbus.

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

OLD FASHIONS AND NEW NOTIONS

To Please A Husband
"I wear my hair this way because it pleases my husband," said a very charming woman to me recently. She was a woman near middle life, well-to-do, well-informed as to fashions and modes, and well-dressed in a modest version of the up-to-the-minute clothes. Altogether an attractive person. Let me add that the mutual devotion of the husband and wife in this case is unmistakable.

The mode of hairdressing the woman referred to would be called "nearly" out-of-date by almost any fashionable woman. It was a modified pompadour.

"You see," she said, "I wore my hair this way when my husband and I first fell in love. He loves me this way still, and prefers to see me as nearly like I was then as possible."

A Problem For Wives
And then this thoughtful woman raised a question that I have thought about a good deal since. "I wonder whether a woman ought to try to look as she did when she first caught her husband's attention and thus continue to please him. Or whether it would be better to admit to ourselves that we can't continue to stay young, but follow the extreme mode of the moment in dress and coiffure."

"I wonder which policy, in the long run, will please the husbands most?"

What's Your Opinion?
Well, I think that's a legitimate and important question. Remember this was a frank and somewhat old-fashioned woman. She wants to please her husband and to hold his love and she's succeeding in doing it. Of course she doesn't do it merely by the way she dresses her hair, but that's important too.

There are husbands and husbands. And some middle-aged women look beautiful and dignified when they retain some of the fashion of thirty years ago. But it is my own opinion that the woman who can be old-fashioned and attractive at the same time is a very exceptional woman. The average woman will be more attractive and more successful if she follows the modes. Becomingly, of course, but that can always be managed. Most men would rather have their wives look stylish than have them try to retain the style of the days of courtship, after those days are long past.

In Seat Fight
Mr. Otto Hornick, auditor of Xenia Aerie, No. 1680, International Order of Eagles, represented the local Aerie at a meeting and banquet of district auditors of the order from all parts of Ohio at the Aerie home on N. High St. in Columbus Sunday evening.

Mr. Burgess Cumrine, south of Xenia, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis, at the McCallan Hospital, Sunday morning. He rallied and is recovering favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hardy, 13 Stetson Road, are the parents of a son, Henry Edward Hardy, born Monday morning.

The Ladies' Aid Society, Lutheran Church, will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Davis, Jr., W. Main St., Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. L. Johnson is entertaining her bridge club at her home on N. Galloway St., Tuesday. Three tables will be in play.

Mrs. C. E. Arbogust entertained the Current Events Club at her home on N. King St., Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer left Monday morning by motor for Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lupton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitmer, Chicago, will accompany them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ackley are announcing the birth of a daughter, Sunday night.

Miss Lucy Stout entertained nine girls of Central High School at dinner at her home on Hill St., Friday evening, preceding the Xenia-Greenville basketball game. Covers were laid for the Misses Betty Kingsbury, Frances Marshall, Margaret Neeld, Marjorie Hook, Doris McCormick, Dora Hayward, Evelyn Patterson, Marguerite Zeiner, Helen Currie and Lucy Stout.

Raymond Junior, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spahr, New Jasper, broke both bones in his right arm when he fell from a wagon, Saturday. Dr. William Ungard attended the injury.

Mr. Acolph Moser was removed to his home on W. Second St. from Eskey Hospital, Sunday, and is recovering nicely from a slight fracture of the skull, received when he fell while ice skating last week. He will be confined indoors for another week.

Miss Maud Miller resumed her work at the Hutchison and Gibney Store, Monday, after being confined to her home on S. Galloway St., several weeks by illness.

Mr. T. Victory Kolb spent the week end with relatives in Columbus.

Senators-elect Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, and William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, the storm centers of a bitter fight to keep them from being seated in the seventieth congress.

Senators-elect Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, and William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, the storm centers of a bitter fight to keep them from being seated in the seventieth congress.

CHRIST'S COMMAND TO SPREAD GOSPEL SUBJECT OF PASTOR

Closing service of the Week of Prayer under auspices of the Xenia Ministerial Association was held Sunday evening at the First M. E. Church, Dr. W. N. Shank of the First M. E. Church, preaching from the theme "Go-Tell."

He took his theme from the incident in the life of Jesus when He healed the man in Gadarra, possessed with a legion of devils. The people asked Christ to retire from the country. As He and His disciples were leaving, the man who had been healed asked for the privilege of accompanying Jesus on His journey. Christ refused and said unto him (Mark 5:19) "Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee."

Following the theme as only one wrapped up in the message, Dr. Shank enthused the audience that packed the church with his reiteration of the words "Go-Tell." After a few introductory remarks, he outlined the course of his thinking—a great commission, a great message, and an important messenger.

Christ commissioned the healed man to tell what had been done for him among his own people and kindred. The same commission is to the Christian today to tell simply what great things the Lord hath done for him, said the minister.

The great message is the common message of salvation, which to be understood must be lived, and for reaching peoples in need in America, only, but that each individual should seek to tell in a personal way to his relatives, in his own home, in his own community, in his own city.

The speaker embellished his talk with many illustrations and held a sway over his audience long past the usual time, and made a closing appeal for every one to "Go-Tell" what great things the Lord hath done for them.

A double quartet rendered two numbers and Miss Williams was at the organ. The Rev. J. R. Lunsford led the responsive reading, the Rev. J. P. Lytle read the scripture, the Rev. L. A. Washburn led in prayer, the Rev. S. R. Burkett pronounced benediction, and the Rev. D. A. Sellers, pastor of the church, presided.

The week of prayer closed with a high level of inspiration according to those present. The inclement weather prevented a large attendance during the first part of the week, but with warmer weather the closing meetings were well attended, with a capacity audience Sunday night. The churches will now open their plans for the Easter ingathering with union services during the later spring and summer months.

WILLIAM HARDMAN ON LIBRARY BOARD
William M. Hardman, R. R. No. 2, Yellow Springs, has been appointed a trustee of the Greene County District Library Association for a five-year term by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy.

He succeeds the Rev. H. B. Williams, Osborn, whose one-year term expired December 31. The Rev. Mr. Williams declined to serve another term.

Hardman's appointment became effective January 1.

Professor George F. David, head of the economics department, Wilberforce University, underwent an appendix operation at Miami Valley Hospital, Monday morning.

SHORT TALKS BY MOTHERS
A Wisconsin Mother says: "I find mothers very well informed on the subject of 'dope' in medicine. Few mothers now-a-days would pray a preparation that contained opiates or chloroform. A glance at the package before buying tells her this. With Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, the name tells a true story. It is quickly effective for coughs, colds, croup and throat irritations. Pure as it is sure, and worth many times its price." Sold Everywhere.

COLDS
Coughs, Bronchial and Chest Affections Quickly Relieved By Brazilian Balm
At Your Druggist. Inexpensive

Wins "Met" Debut

Tennesseans plan to take a special train to the Metropolitan debut of Miss Grace Moore early in 1928. Miss Moore, the daughter of Col. and Mrs. R. L. Moore, of Jellico, Tenn., was singing in light opera when she attracted the attention of M. Gatti-Casazza, manager of the Metropolitan. Governor and Mrs. Henry Horton and his entire staff will attend her debut.

FLAMING YOUTH NOT SO VERY HOT PAUL WHITEMAN STATES

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—"America's flaming youth," avers Paul Whiteman, "is not nearly as hot as it looks."

Whiteman, the rotund bandleader who rode to fame on the post-war wave of jazz, has been watching his band with one eye and the younger generation with the other these several seasons past, in ball rooms, night clubs and other spots where youth is popularly supposed to be found at its wildest. He concludes in an article written for the February issue of Smart Set magazine, most of the current furor is a result of the older generations taking the younger generation too seriously. Youth wants to appear much wilder than it really wishes or dares to be, he points out, and the automobile, jazz and other accessories of the Speed Age give it the opportunity.

"Young people always did want to show off," opines Mr. Whiteman. "They want speed; that's a natural enough. But at the same time they want the world to see it. If they drink, they want someone to know it."

"The youngsters want extremes in dress. They would like to have you think they are just a little daring and a little shocking. They want a cut-out on the car, but they also want brakes. There really isn't much that our flaming youth is doing that they couldn't have learned from any past generation. Our fathers and mothers, grandpas and grandmas would have done the same things in their day with the same opportunities."

BANDITS ESCAPE
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9.—Police today were searching for three auto bandits who early Sunday forced Frank Reilly, 104 W. Third Ave., Mansfield, into their auto and robbed him of $85 and property valued at $54, according to a police report.

Gargle Aspirin for Tonsilitis or Sore Throat
A harmless and effective gargle is to dissolve two "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in four tablespoons of water, and gargle throat thoroughly. Repeat in two hours if necessary.

Be sure you use only the genuine Bayer Aspirin, marked with the Bayer Cross, which can be had in tin boxes of twelve tablets for few cents. —Adv.

NOTICE
This is to notify the citizens of Xenia that the only authorized Hoover Sweeper service man for this city is Mr. Fay Funderburg. If your Hoover needs service call him at his home or at Galloway and Cherry's. Signed
Galloway & Cherry

TUESDAY
Lunch Menu
Shredded Chicken on Biscuits
Creamed Asparagus
Mashed Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Tea, Milk or all the Coffee You Wish 35c
The Gallaher Drug Co
33 E. Main St.

RECORD NUMBER OF DEFENDANTS IN ACTION TO SETTLE ESTATE

Creating what is believed to be a record, a suit is on file in Common Pleas Court in which 225 persons are named defendants.

The defendants, living in almost every state in the country, including twenty-three different counties in Ohio, exclusive of one each in South America and Canada, are all heirs of the estate of John V. Rose, farmer, late of near Jamestown.

J. H. Sanders, as administrator of the estate, is plaintiff in the action. Attorneys L. T. and J. C. Marshall, who filed the suit, spent about two months in locating the numerous relatives and have obtained permission from the court to give published notice of the filing of the suit.

It is set forth that debts due from the decedent total $322; that the cost of administration is $500 and that the value of the personal property and effects of the decedent amounts to only $187.50, wholly inadequate to pay the debts and cost of administration.

Decedent owned real estate having an appraised value of $6,370, according to the administrator, who seeks authority from the court to sell property to pay debts.

REPORT 100 MINERS ENTOMBED BY ILLINOIS MINE EXPLOSION

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Jan. 9.—Working frantically to save more than 100 miners entombed in the Industrial Coal Co., mine No. 18 here from "black damp" poisonous gases, volunteer rescue crews headed by the Benton, Ill., mine rescue team bent every effort to reach the men caught 500 feet below the surface and almost a mile from the mine shaft by an explosion shortly after the day shift of 500 men went to work this morning.

There were 136 men believed to have been in the section of the mine where the last occurred, but several of these are known to have escaped and returned to their homes.

George Watkins, who escaped, said he saw at least ten bodies of men dead or unconscious lying in the mine passageways as he groped his way from the dreaded gas area.

Watkins said he escaped the effects of the gas by tearing off his flannel shirt and wrapping it around his head to keep from inhaling the poison fumes.

Who's Who and Timely Views
GERMAN LOANS DECLARED SAFE
By W. AVERELL HARRIMAN
New York Financier
(William Averell Harriman was born in 1891, and was graduated from Yale University in 1913. He is chairman of the board of the W. A. Harriman & Co., Inc., and chairman of the American Ship and Commerce Corporation. He also is a director of the U. P. R. R., I. C. R. R., Wells Fargo Co., American Express and National Surety Co. His home is in New York.)

In Germany I found bankers and business men in sympathy with S. Parker Gilbert in his demand for the economy and control of governmental expenditures, national, state and particularly municipal.

As a practical matter, reparations transfers cannot interfere with the transfer of the service of American loans.

The theory on which the Dawes plan is drawn is the maintenance of Germany's currency on a gold basis. If Germany is to remain on a gold basis it will follow that the reparations can always be paid in dollars with its marks. Rationing and a gold basis of currency are incompatible.

The statements that reparations payments are a first lien against German property is true, but only in so far as the prescribed mark payments are concerned. The duty of transferring these marks into other exchange is not, under the Dawes plan, the obligation of the German government, but is left to the discretion of the transfer committee of the reparations commission.

The function of, and the reason for the transfer committee, is to facilitate the transfer from German marks into the currency of the receiving nations of as large an amount of the reparations as is possible without injury to Germany's credit and currency.

It is inconceivable, therefore, as a practical matter, that the transfer committee will do anything to destroy Germany's credit, because doing so would defeat its main purpose.

COUPE IS STOLEN
Theft of a Chevrolet coupe belonging to Levi Darnier, Yellow Springs, from its parking place in front of the Reformed Church in Xenia while the owner was attending church services between 7:30 and 9 p. m., Sunday, was reported to the Greene County Auto Club.

The car was a 1927 model and bore license number 162,046.

Without These You Can't Live!
If you take from your food entirely, Calcium, Phosphorus, Iron, Magnesium—you wither and die.

Reduce the amount your body and brain should have and you soon become afflicted with nerve-trouble, gland-trouble, anemia, weakness, digestive disorders, infected teeth, headache, lowered vitality, fatigue, a tendency to have colds frequently and a general debilitated state of the system. Your system is "unbalanced"! Modern methods of preparing food has robbed you of certain necessary elements, and all you may need to do is—Get back your "balance".

It is absolutely essential to supply the needed elements if you wish to enjoy the best of health. For fifteen years, physicians have prescribed the elements contained in Cadomene Tablets. The ingredients are printed on the label. Using Cadomene, the improvement is prompt. Within a week, appetite, digestion, sounder sleep, calmer nerves, increased strength, all assure the user that needed elements of health are daily being supplied to the system.

A few weeks' use of Cadomene Tablets is time enough to produce a delightful buoyancy and reserve strength.

Cadomene is not a cheap "catch penny tonic"—but an efficient enricher of the blood and a potent strength-inducing agent.

Drugs are everywhere but Cadomene on a guarantee of delightful satisfaction or money back.

A Serious Mistake
Often people say to us, "When I was young I had such excellent eyesight."

A mistake in the care of the eyes has been made at some time.

Don't make that mistake NOW. If your eyes are giving you trouble come in and get our advice. It will pay you.

Optical Department
Tiffany Jewelry Store
S. Detroit Below Second St.

27 years of Personal Service At Detroit and Second Sts. Get It At

DONGES
Old Hickory
Smoke Salt and
Old Hickory
Smoke Liquid
The kind you have always used.

Where Dependable Drug Store Needs Are Sold

Cigarettes
Old Gold
Johnny Walker
Camel
Chesterfields
Omar
and all the best sellers in carton or single package.

Post, True Story, McCall's, Etc.

SUNDAY EVENING CLUB IN MEETING

After an interval of two weeks because of the Christmas holidays, the Xenia Sunday Evening Club held its weekly meeting at Christ Episcopal Church Parish House Sunday night.

There was no regular speaker, members confining themselves to an informal debate on various subjects, including a discussion of "Our Changing Morals," and a philosopher's solution of the present problem of marriage.

The meeting was preceded by the serving of light refreshments. It is expected that a speaker will be obtained for the session next Sunday night.

NEW BASKETBALL JERSEYS have been ordered for the girls' basketball team.

The per cent of attendance for the different schools of the township for the month of December is as follows—Paintersville, 99.7; Elaezer, 96.1; Mt. Tabor, 96.1; Needmore, 96; Newhope, 94.8; Babtown, 92.8; High School, 92; Maple Corner, 90.5.

CECIL GARDINHO, 40, Yellow Springs St., Springfield, O., arrested by police in that city and returned to Xenia Monday by Peter Shagin, motorcycle policeman, is expected to be arraigned before Mayor John W. Prugh on a charge of reckless driving, in connection with a recent automobile accident in this city.

WILL PROBE FLOOD
LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Thames River flood, which has cost more than twenty lives, probably will be investigated by parliament after that body convenes later this month. Notice has been given already that a request will be made in the house of commons for an investigation to fix responsibility for the breaking of the dikes.

CAESARCREEK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
The following high school pupils were placed upon the honor roll due to their work done for the month of December:

Seniors—Lucille Faulkner, Zora Jones, Rowena McKay, Hazel Thomas.

Juniors—Thelma Carle, Mary Leaming, Irene Peterson, Velma Smith, Lucille Stroup.

Sophomores—Howard Bales, Helen Carle, Helen Conklin, Guy Gravit.

Freshmen—None.

The O. S. and S. O. Home basketball teams (boys and girls) will come to Caesar Creek for two games of basketball Friday night, January 13. The first game will be called at eight o'clock.

The grade and high school pupils of the township will take their examinations Thursday and Friday, January 12 and 13.

Twenty-two students of the high school met in the office January 5 and organized a science club. It was named the Pascal Science Club. Edgar Gravit was elected president and his younger brother, Guy, was elected secretary. Elmer Colvin was elected vice-president. The first regular meeting will be held January 25. The club will meet at least once a month. New members will be admitted to the club after their application has been approved by the charter members. Names of charter members: Edgar Gravit, Duane Hatfield, Elmer Colvin, Donald Devoe, Georgia Wolary, Mary Copsey, Jane Musseret, Margaret Pickering, Elizabeth DeVoe, Frances Lundy, Glen Jones, Elizabeth Leaming, Mildred Copsey, Wilbur Thomas, Herbert McKay, Howard Haines, Howard Bales, Vernon Shambaugh, Paul Bone, Paul Middleton, Glen Baynard, Irvin Swindler.

Called By Death
Epriam Garrison, 74, died at his home in the Pansy vicinity, near Wilmington, Friday morning. He leaves his widow, eight sons, Walter and Frank, of Cincinnati; Arthur, of Columbus; Brice and Henry, of Pansy, and Leroy and Chester, at home and four daughters, Mrs. J. Gordon, Xenia; Mrs. Fred Gilbert, Cincinnati; Mrs. Hartland Spinks, Dayton, and Mrs. James Copeland, Wilmington.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Pansy Church.

Nip Head Colds in the Bud
Don't suffer from headaches, nasal and throat congestion, abnormal fatigue—all warning signs of approaching danger. Musterole Laxative Cold Tablets nip head colds in the bud, relieve congestion, drive out infection.

They are a safe, prompt remedy for colds. Musterole Cold Tablets are laxative, and usually stop bad colds, quickly. Prepared by makers of famous Musterole Laxative for relieving muscular pains and chest colds. All Druggists, 35c.

The Musterole Company, Cleveland, O.

MUSTEROLE LAXATIVE COLD TABLETS
Chocolate coated—easy to take

A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION—
J.C. PENNEY Co.
"where savings are greatest"

37-39 EAST MAIN ST. XENIA, OHIO

An Oxford Tie
Stylish and Comfortable, Thru the New Built-In Flex Shank Arch Support

The flexible shank bends and gives with every step, but does not break down.

In soft, pliable kid of selected quality, with patent leather apron, like cut; military heel with rubber tap. Very moderately priced at—

Bends With Each Step. $4.98 Our New Built-In Feature

Flex Shank Arch Support Gives Foot and Leg Ease

Being flexible the shank bends with every step—does not break down. For added foot and ankle ease. In patent with new cut-out design; military heels with rubber taps—

$4.98

Our New Built-In Feature

EDITORIAL

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Ohio Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative; Chicago Office, No. 5 South Wabash Avenue. New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
In Greene County	$.40	$ 1.00	$ 1.90	$ 3.50
Zones 1 and 2	.45	1.15	2.15	4.00
Zones 3, 4 and 5	.50	1.30	2.40	4.50
Zones 6 and 7	.55	1.45	2.65	5.00
Zone 8	.60	1.50	2.90	5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents Per Week. Single Copy, Three Cents.

Advertising and Business Office 111
Circulation Department 800
Editorial Department 70

IDEALS—DEFINED AT LAST

Ideals — which everybody talks about and nobody sets down in black and white—are defined at last in the Forum magazine. The definitions are the prize-winners for the definition of some term in frequent modern use.

Here are a few of the prize-winning definitions:

The things we resolved with the Sunday sermon: dissolved with the Monday morning mail.

Convictions which become doubts when realized.

Illusions of perfection waiting to be converted into working truths.

Air castles built of selected fragments and of discontinuous ecstasies of real life—stunt flights of the imagination over the Atlantic of reality.

Sometimes directing brain beacons, but often merely mental mirages.

NO DEAD LINE ON INTELLECT

Osler was all wrong when he suggested that efficiency ended at sixty, according to Dr. Henry Dwight Chapin. To prove his point Dr. Chapin names a few of the old men who are of primary importance in the modern world—Hindenburg, eighty; Clemenceau, eighty-six; Earl Balfour, eighty-nine; Elihu Root, eighty-two; Justice Holmes, eighty-six; Chauncey M. Depew, ninety-three; George F. Baker, eighty-seven; August Hecksher, past seventy; Dr. W. W. Keen, approaching ninety; Thomas A. Edison, eighty.

It is therefore untrue, concludes Dr. Chapin, that there is a dead line at fifty, sixty, seventy, or even eighty as far as intellectual possibilities and usefulness are concerned, since this is entirely an individual matter.

MAKING HISTORY FASCINATING

History always has been a fascinating study, but until recently few people knew about it. Histories used to be written in such ponderous style that only the most persistent students ever plowed through them and learned the interesting story of the human race and its growth upon the earth.

There were charming histories of countries, of course.

But for ages students needed a history of the human race that would co-ordinate and unify the stories of action and advancement in diverse parts of the planet. Then H. G. Wells wrote his "Outline of History."

Wells is not a profound historian. He does not give much time to research or verification. And he fills his pages with his personal viewpoint and his nationalistic and socialistic prejudices. But his book is a great book, nevertheless. For he has written a book that is a connected story of the activities of the human race. He is a great story-teller, and his story-telling talent has made a greater history for the mass of mankind than the history-telling talent of the great historians ever made.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon writes histories that are not even as scholarly as those of Wells. If such a thing were possible, Van Loon is less of a historian than Wells. But Van Loon writes his histories in the vernacular of his audience, and his "America" is a book that will be read with profit by thousands who never could find time and energy to plow through a real history, written by a historian.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

A GOOD CITIZEN

Much talk these days about the job of being a good citizen—and the indifference of most of us. These words of the late Theodore Roosevelt ought to be pasted in the hat of every man of voting age: "The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his weight, that he shall not be a mere passenger, but shall do his share in the work that each generation of us finds ready to hand; and, furthermore, that in doing his work he shall show, not only the capacity for sturdy self-help, but also self-respecting regard for the rights of others."

POWER OF ACTION

An immense jumbled mass of knowledge has been gathered together during the last few years. In the middle of the last century the world hardly dreamed of finding out so many things. The great problem now is to sift and classify this knowledge, to co-ordinate it, to get it into the brains and hands of the people. Our problem now is to find a practical way of giving the world the benefit of knowledge.

LACK OF TRUST

While we are talking about the spread of knowledge we ought to shed tears over our short-sightedness and general inability to pick the right men for office in city, state, and national government. As a people we have been fortunate in getting many good men into positions of importance in the national government. Now and then we have an able state governor or a man or two of ability in state office. Infrequently do we have capable men at the head of affairs in city government—except in some of those cities which are turning to the city manager form. When a really able man does run for office we don't like the way his hair is parted and vote for somebody else. There seems to be in most of us a tendency to distrust those who know more than we do.

It has been said before that a democracy is a good form of government only when it breeds leadership and then breeds the good sense to trust that leadership.

YOU ARE SOMEBODY

Never think of yourself as unimportant. You have a unique personality. There is not and never will be anybody quite like you. You can do certain things in a certain way and nobody else can do exactly the same. All people who live to the age of reason and judgment carry a real responsibility—the responsibility for a unique performance.

"I have done," said Roosevelt, "the things that I could do." Few can say that.

The Daybook

OF A

New Yorker

—By—
BURTON RASCOE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Another after Christmas story that wasn't in the papers, was to my mind, the best story of them all. A number of organizations give Christmas dinner annually to down-and-outers, either charging them a small sum or else giving it gratis.

This year, the Bowery Mission spread itself. The bum on entering was directed to a table by a fussy head waiter, dressed in evening clothes. The tables were decked in linen, as never before and with real silverware. The waiters were garbed in the latest fashion (for waiters); braided jackets and trousers in the Spanish style. Seven courses were served—separately and with proper dignity. In the corner of the dining room was a three-piece string orchestra. And I overlooked mentioning that each of the small tables held a delicate rose-shaded lamp.

Verily, the bums went forth, were charged nothing, and were treated for once like humans. About 400 of them were fed; which made quite a dent upon the Mission's slender fund, since each dinner actually cost about $1.35. Unofficially, the guests let it be known that the Mission would be the favored inn next Christmas.

Mr. Zero also threw his annual party at "The Tub," his regular hang-out at Astor place. Otherwise Urban Ledoux, "Zero" charges a nickel for all of his feasts, giving as his reason that he will not insult unfortunate men by giving them charity. He asserts that the five-cent charge is sufficient to buy the regular stew, coffee and bread because he buys all his food from wholesalers in job lots. This Christmas the nickel also entitled the customer to admission into one of a number of halls Zero had rented. Here small luxuries, such as tobacco, candy and fruit were given out, having been donated by numberless citizens.

Myself, I think Zero is unreasonably idealistic about the men he aids. Three times last week I was stopped by shabby gents and offered a pack of cigarettes for a quarter. Obviously, these came originally from some charity and, without a doubt, the money got from the sale would be promptly invested in terrible lootch. That in itself is fair enough. A bum will tell you that where a cup of coffee would keep him warm for a few minutes, ten cents worth of waterfront pig juice will burn him up for a few hours. But Mr. Zero will not admit that his friends will stoop to such means to get liquor. It must take that amount of beautiful naïveté to work year in and out for those amiable gent, who though admittedly ambitious for work, are physiologically unsuited to that pastime. The spirit is willing. . .

It's a dull New York, just now, and I imagine a dull and drab America. New Year celebration headaches and attacks of dyspepsia are yet vigorous. Children are back in school, mourning the return to labor and gloomily contemplating the months before next Christmas. Adults are likewise back to the daily toil, uncomfortable by the fact the Aunt Minnie's present can't be exchanged; that the awe-inspiring crimp in the bank account will not be helped by the new income tax and that the case of Scotch, purchased at holiday prices must have detoured quite a way since it came "off the boat."

Just for something to do Mrs. Ruth Snyder, in her cell at Sing Sing, is reviewing books and her column is published in the Evening World as "A Minute or Two With Books," signed by her. It is announced that she will try to comment on all books submitted—except serials.

The ham actor had just met a brother Thespian.

"Didn't your wife die a few months ago?" said the B. T.

"My wife," he indeed passed away," he was told.

"I thought I saw you at the funeral parlor," the friend continued.

"And I certainly sympathized with you. I guess it hit you pretty hard, eh, old man? You carried on something terrible—cried and sobbed. And then I remember you fainted."

"Oh, were you there?" the betrayed one exclaimed. "That was nothing. You should have caught me at the cemetery!"

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

FRENCH AND ENGLISH

One of the silliest fallacies that one keeps hearing on both sides of the Atlantic, even from people who ought to know better, is that there is no longer any great need of a knowledge of the French language in France, because of the widespread use of English.

True, you can obtain food, shelter, and even clothing in Paris without using any tongue except English. But you're only a little better off than if you were deaf and dumb in the United States. Half the fun of being in any place is the chance to talk freely with the natives. If your conversation is confined to asking for ordinary creature comforts, you're on a level with the lower animals. Man's whole thinking processes depend on the ability to exchange ideas. Stay long enough in a place where you can't talk freely with your fellow men and you'll go to seed.

Disgusted with myself for not being fluent in at least one modern language, I can't help looking back on the year I wasted in the

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

The Fashionable Kind of Beauty

As I told you in my first talk this week, there are five principle kinds of beauty—form and symmetry, gracefulness, wild or luxurious beauty, prettiness, and fashion. I have shown you that they cannot be isolated, but must be considered in their relationship to each other in the perfect ensemble of beauty, which includes something of each.

Today I am going to talk about the fashionable kind of beauty. It is by no means the least important, and is a kind which every woman must include if her ensemble effect of beauty is to be complete.

Fashion depends upon timeliness. To take advantage of it, you must have the ability to change your point of view and to find a way to adapt the best in the styles to your individual beauty. Never follow fashions blindly, never be a slave to fashion, but make it a slave to your beauty.

People's whole ideal of beauty changes as the styles change. For instance, white powder used to be fashionable, and there was nothing more admired than a pink and white, doll-like face. Now practically no well-groomed woman uses dead white, or even pink powder unless she is the very rare type whom it suits. To be in vogue you must be a distinct individuality, with all of your clothes and your make-up chosen to accentuate that individuality. You will pick the shade of powder, rouge, lipstick and eye shadow that fit into the picture. And you will be much more likely to take a dark powder than a light one, for the penumbras have swung so far the other way that many of the smartest women, especially along the southern coast of France, and at the exclusive winter resorts in America, are using a powder, and even a powder foundation, decidedly dark in tone. Some of them achieve an almost bronze effect. They have influenced the style everywhere, and all chic French women are using powder in the darker shades for every occasion, and American women are following in their footsteps.

The pallid faces, contrasted with bright scarlet lips, are slowly fading out of the vogue, in favor of a warmer, harder kind of beauty with a healthy glow in one's cheeks.

The style of sleekness and extreme artificiality reached its zenith a few months ago. Hair plastered flat against your head, plucked eyebrows, sleek, snaky gowns, or all giving way to a softness and femininity. The perfect grooming still remains an ideal, but it must be achieved with a more natural effect. Hair should have a soft wave, only the excess or stray eyebrows should be plucked, and your gown will have a little fullness where it is flattering

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet For Children"

Answers to Correspondents

Honey in Diabetes?
G. says that she reads somewhere that diabetics could eat honey and not experience the bad results that follow the use of sugar. Is this true?

I can't imagine where you read that. G. None of the authorities on diabetes that I know of makes such a statement. Wilder, in fact, says in his paragraph on sweetening agents, that the use of honey and glycerine is not recommended. He states that saccharine is permissible, if used in moderation. (Saccharine is a coal tar product, and is 300 to 500 times sweeter than sugar, and some diabetic specialists allow up to two grains study of Latin, all for no possible same purpose that would not have been equally well served by acquiring a living tongue.

At this point somebody is almost sure to bring up the old bromide about the wisdom of studying Latin in school because many English words are derived from Latin. Yet most of these derivatives come to us not directly from Latin, but by way of French, and of the words that we have lifted straightway from Latin, a high percentage are so pompous that they are better let alone.

Most Americans in Paris, if my observation serve me right, try to live in a hotel as nearly as possible like an American hotel, and put in their spare time hunting up other Americans. When they eat in other words, they strive to miss the big adventure of doing things in a new way.

I have met a number of my fellow countrymen here who actually seem to feel that the French language as spoken by a Frenchman is an affliction.

The Ice Sickle

to your figure.

You must recognize, however, that the modernistic is still in vogue in every line of art, although many people think there is an undercurrent back to the natural. Art creates the ideal of the beautiful woman. It recognizes and normalizes a certain type, then women follow it because they copy what they see. And the present tendency toward naturalness, combined with perfect grooming and striking effects, is probably following the same trend as that in art.

Fashion, then, is one of the five principles that you must consider if you wish to achieve the Newer Beauty, the perfect ensemble in every detail. Combine it with beauty of form, gracefulness, a touch of the wild and luxurious, a certain degree of prettiness, and you will have a perfection that defies competition.

BIBLICAL BACKING

"What's the price of this coat?" asked the lady customer of the proprietor of a clothing store.

"That one is fifty dollars," was the reply.

"Too cheap," sighed the lady. "I want a coat of quality."

The clothier shuffled up the coats and produced the same coat. He offered it for a hundred dollars this time, and the lady bought it.

After she had gone, a minister who had been standing nearby came over and said, "Can you account for the right of that in the Scriptures?"

"Certainly," replied the clothier, and he referred to that part which says, "She was a stranger, and I took her in."

mately on ounce, which measures but one tablespoon (it is heavy). And believe me, every calorie of it can be converted into fat if it happens to make your caloric intake more than you need. However, there is no reason why you should not take some honey while reducing, if you like it; simply count it in your allowance of foods.

While we are on honey, I might as well review it a little more. Honey consists of a mixture of the nectars gathered from flowers by the bees, changed somewhat by the honey bee, and evaporated by the sun. The difference in flavors depends upon the types of flowers visited.

Since the pure food laws have been passed, there is much less alteration of honey than formerly. Many think that because honey granulates, it has been adulterated, but that is not true; in fact, the fact that honey will granulate on standing for any length of time, is one of the signs that it is pure honey, so the honeyman says.

Before the use of sugar became so prevalent, honey used to be the chief sweetening agent. It would be a good idea if we went back to honey more for our sweetening and used less sugar, for honey does contain some of the necessary mineral elements and vitamins which sugar does not. (Its iron content is one-third that of raisins).

Because honey is a natural sweet, it is better for the children (also adults) than candy. Someone has computed that it takes 3,700,000 visits of bees to clover blossoms to produce one pound of this delicious sweet. So the busy-as-a-bee saying is not without foundation.

Your question on Honey, G., reminds me of a statement I read myself in one of the New York papers, in an article on reducing. The statement was to the effect that honey could be used freely by those reducing, for it was not fattening. Not fattening! My word, it is nothing else but. Honey registers 100 calories to approxi-

NOTE:—Please send ten cents in COIN and fully self-addressed stamped envelope, with orders for tablets on reducing and gaining.

FEATURES

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Serge Ughet, as a diplomat, represents in the United States a figment of the state department's imagination.

He represents the Kerensky government of Russia.

We all know—including the state department, which isn't a bit fooled by its own imagination, but insists on exercising it, by main strength and awkwardness—that there's no such thing as a Kerensky government, that it blew up ten years ago, not long after the czar's government did, and that the Russians have been living under the soviet government ever since.

However, it suits the state department to make believe it never heard of the soviet folks, that the Kerensky crowd are still running things, and that Serge continues to represent 'em here, as maybe he really'd be doing, if they'd lived.

The peculiar feature of Serge's position is that, whereas there are lots of jobs which look big but don't amount to much, his job looks like a darned little less than nothing, but he scoops in money by the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Serge came here originally as financial man for Boris Bakneteff, Kerensky ambassador in Washington.

When Lenin upset Kerensky, over in Russia, Bakneteff and the rest of the fallen regime's ambassadorial aggregation in this country beat it in various directions, with the exception of Serge, who was left here—or in New York, to be exact—holding the sack, so to speak.

If Washington had recognized the Leninites, Serge speedily would have been invested with the order of the boot, from Moscow, undoubtedly.

Instead of that, strange to say,

what did Secretary of State Hughes do?—and Secretary Kellogg has done after him—but stand pat for the Kerensytes, refusing, even unto this day, to talk official turkey with any other Russian than Serge Ughet, the last man designated by Ambassador Bannetteff to act for him.

It so happens, too, that a lot of unfinished business was left on Serge's hands to transact for the old embassy—business involving more assets to collect than there were liabilities to be liquidated, by many millions.

And Serge has been attending to it.

Only the other day a $984,104 check was handed to him—payable to his personal order, mind you—in satisfaction of a Kerensky governmental claim against the Lehigh Valley railroad.

To be sure, it remains for Serge to render an account to the Kerensky government. But there is no Kerensky government. There hasn't been one for a decade and the chances are a million to one that there never will be another one.

That's just one item.

Serge is custodian of the Russian embassy building in Washington, among other properties—a swell place on Sixteenth street, just as Ambassador Bakneteff left it.

"He's in the position," as it was explained to me the other day by Chief Robert F. Kelley of the state department division of eastern European affairs, "of the trustee of some dead man's estate, to which no heirs have yet been able to establish satisfactory title. Ultimately we shall recognize some Russian government, which he'll have to turn it over to."

In the meantime—poor Serge! It must be terrible to be an exile.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

MOTHERS AND FRIENDS

Mothers want happiness for their children. There is no doubt of that. But mothers are only human, and sometimes they achieve the opposite of happiness in their well meant efforts. Sometimes I am convinced that, after they have reached a certain age, the less we try to guide our children the better. That a broadminded, tolerant friendship is the best attitude we can take toward them.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have been going with a fellow whom I love very much. I cannot love another fellow as I love him. But my mother broke us apart. We talk to each other when we meet, but he doesn't dare to come near me. I don't think I ought to go with him on the sly or do anything like that. Now some old bachelor is crazy about me, but he is kind of a fast fellow and I am rather afraid of him. He pets too much. "Broken Hearted."

Of course your mother may see things in the first boy that make her feel he will not make you happy, Broken Hearted. Does she approve of this other one? I certainly would not submit to his "petting," dear, and would see as little of him as possible. I have been wondering whether you could get your mother to tell you just what, in her estimation, is the matter with the first one, and if it is nothing serious, tell her how much you like him and ask her if she will try to forget her prejudices and let him come to the house.

Tell her you would be courteous to any friend of hers whom you dislike, and beg her to give your friend a chance.

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Philadelphia Relish

(Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe.)

One pint cabbage, two mild green or red peppers, one teaspoon celery seed, one-fourth teaspoon mustard seed, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup brown sugar, one-half cup vinegar. Chop peppers and cabbage very fine. Mix other ingredients and stand one-half hour. When ready to serve combine the two. This is an easily made relish to serve with meat.

Potato Tea Cakes—One cup cold rice potato, four cups flour, one-half cup shortening, one teaspoon salt, one cup milk. Mix potato, flour and salt. Rub in the shortening. Add milk. Put on floured board and roll to one-half inch in thickness. Cut in small rounds. Bake in hot oven. Place the cakes on a floured but not greased baking sheet. This should be served hot.

Peter's Adventure

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE HIDDEN EYE

"How provoking birds and insects are!" grumbled Peter. "They only half tell you a thing and then leave you to find out the rest as best you can. To be sure, when I find out a fact for myself or see a thing with my own eyes, I remember it better, but I don't always know how to go about it. Here I am, at the hemlock tree. Now, where can Screech Owl's roost be? I don't see a sign of it anywhere, and it seems to me that if his nest was on the branches, I would discover it! That young Blue Jay could have given me more information if he'd wanted to!"

Then Peter heard again the same queer, sneezy sob that had sent the shivers up and down his spine a whole before. This time, however, it was much fainter and somehow it had an amused note.

"Tcher-r-whie! Tcher-r-whie!" The sound seemed to come from the farther side of the three and Peter walked around and peered carefully about. Not a thing did he see that looked a bit like a nest, but high up in the trunk the boy noticed a round opening. As he stared at it he imagined he saw a huge eye blinking down at him. He couldn't be sure, though, for in a second it had disappeared and the hole was as black and as empty as before.

"That's funny!" said the boy. "Now you see an eye, and now you don't! Upon my word, I believe old Screech Owl is playing a trick on me. At any rate, it can do no harm to climb up and see if there is really anything in that hole. Even if Screech Owl wanted to, he'd need a lot of sleep to start any trouble, and perhaps if I am polite to him he'll be willing to tell me what I want to know. Anyhow, I am going to take a chance and find out what will happen."

When Peter once made up his mind to do a thing he generally carried it out. Suiting his actions to his words, he began to scale the tree, and he didn't find it a bit hard—there were lots of little footholds, which he found good.

It was no time at all before Peter had reached a branch that jutted out from the hole that he had set out to explore. He had learned one lesson from his insect friends, and that was to "look before you leap," as they would have expressed it. And he did not plunge into the hollow, as he once might have done. Instead, he rapped with his knuckles upon the trunk at the side of the hole.

Top! Tap! Tap! At first there was no response to his knocking, but Peter was not going to give up as easily as that. "I am perfectly sure that somebody lives here," said he, under his breath, "and that he is at home, and if I am not very much mistaken it is Screech Owl himself. I am going to find out, if it takes me all day!" And he kept right on tapping.

Then, at last, Peter was rewarded for his efforts. A sleepy voice spoke from within the tree.

"Who is there?" it asked, grumpily. "These are not my hours for receiving calls, you know. Do stop that horrid knocking and go away and let me sleep!"

Instead he rapped with his knuckles on the trunk. And he did not plunge into the hollow, as he once might have done. Instead, he rapped with his knuckles upon the trunk at the side of the hole.

EDITORIAL

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Ohio Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative; Chicago Office, No. 5 South Wabash Avenue. New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
In Greene County	$.40	$1.00	$1.90	$3.50
Zones 1 and 2	.45	1.15	2.15	4.00
Zones 3, 4 and 5	.50	1.20	2.40	4.50
Zones 6 and 7	.55	1.45	2.65	5.00
Zone 8	.60	1.50	2.90	5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents Per Week. Single Copy, Three Cents.

Advertising and Business Office	111
Circulation Department	800
Editorial Department	70

IDEALS—DEFINED AT LAST

Ideals — which everybody talks about and nobody sets down in black and white—are defined at last in the Forum magazine. The definitions are the prize-winners for the definition of some term in frequent modern use.

Here are a few of the prize-winning definitions:
The things we resolved with the Sunday sermon: dissolved with the Monday morning mail.

Convictions which become doubts when realized.
Illusions of perfection waiting to be converted into work-truths.

Air castles built of selected fragments and of discontinuous ecstasies of real life—stunt flights of the imagination over the Atlantic of reality.

Sometimes directing brain beacons, but often merely mental mirages.

NO DEAD LINE ON INTELLECT

Osler was all wrong when he suggested that efficiency ended at sixty, according to Dr. Henry Dwight Chapin. To prove his point Dr. Chapin names a few of the old men who are of primary importance in the modern world—Hindenburg, eighty; Clemenceau, eighty-six; Earl Balfour, eighty-nine; Elihu Root, eighty-two; Justice Holmes, eighty-six; Chauncey M. Depew, ninety-three; George F. Baker, eighty-seven; August Hecksher, past seventy; Dr. W. W. Keen, approaching ninety; Thomas A. Edison, eighty.

It is therefore untrue, concludes Dr. Chapin, that there is a dead line at fifty, sixty, seventy, or even eighty as far as intellectual possibilities and usefulness are concerned, since this is entirely an individual matter.

MAKING HISTORY FASCINATING

History always has been a fascinating study, but until recently few people knew about it. Histories used to be written in such ponderous style that only the most persistent students ever ploughed through them and learned the interesting story of the human race and its growth upon the earth.

There were charming histories of countries, of course. But for ages students needed a history of the human race that would co-ordinate and unify the stories of action and advancement in diverse parts of the planet. Then H. G. Wells wrote his "Outline of History."

Wells is not a profound historian. He does not give much time to research or verification. And he fills his pages with his personal viewpoint and his nationalistic and socialistic prejudices. But his book is a great book, nevertheless. For he has written a book that is a connected story of the activities of the human race. He is a great story-teller, and his story-telling talent has made a greater history for the mass of mankind than the history-telling talent of the great historians ever made.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon writes histories that are not even as scholarly as those of Wells. If such a thing were possible, Van Loon is less of a historian than Wells. But Van Loon writes his histories in the vernacular of his audience, and his "America" is a book that will be read with profit by thousands who never could find time and energy to plough through a real history, written by a historian.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

A GOOD CITIZEN

Much talk these days about the job of being a good citizen—and the indifference of most of us. These words of the late Theodore Roosevelt ought to be pasted in the hat of every man of voting age: "The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his weight, that he shall not be a mere passenger, but shall do his share in the work that each generation of us finds ready to hand; and, furthermore, that in doing his work he shall show, not only the capacity for sturdy self-help, but also self-respecting regard for the rights of others."

POWER OF ACTION

An immense jumbled mass of knowledge has been gathered together during the last few years. In the middle of the last century the world hardly dreamed of finding out so many things. The great problem now is to sift and classify this knowledge, to co-ordinate it, to get it into the brains and hands of the people. Our problem now is to find a practical way of giving the world the benefit of knowledge.

LACK OF TRUST

While we are talking about the spread of knowledge we ought to shed tears over our short-sightedness and general inability to pick the right men for office in city, state, and national government. As a people we have been fortunate in getting many good men into positions of importance in the national government. Now and then we have an able state governor or a man or two of ability in state office. Infrequently do we have capable men at the head of affairs in city government—except in some of those cities which are turning to the city manager form. When a really able man does run for office we don't like the way his hair is parted and vote for somebody else. There seems to be in most of us a tendency to distrust those who know more than we do.

It has been said before that a democracy is a good form of government only when it breeds leadership and then breeds the good sense to trust that leadership.

YOU ARE SOMEbody

Never think of yourself as unimportant. You have a unique personality. There is not and never will be anybody quite like you. You can do certain things in a certain way and nobody else can do exactly the same. All people who live to the age of reason and judgment carry a real responsibility—the responsibility for a unique performance.

"I have done" said Roosevelt, "the things that I could do." Few can say that.

The Daybook

OF A

New Yorker

—By—
BURTON RASCOE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Another after Christmas story that wasn't in the papers, was to my mind, the best story of them all. A number of organizations give Christmas dinner annually to down-and-outers, either charging them a small sum or else giving it gratis.

This year, the Bowery Mission spread itself. The bum on entering was directed to a table by a flossy head waiter, dressed in evening clothes. The tables were decked in linen, as never before and with real silverware. The waiters were garbed in the latest fashion (for waiters), braided jackets and trousers in the Spanish style. Seven courses were served—separately and with proper dignity. In the corner of the dining room was a three-piece string orchestra. And I overlooked mentioning that each of the small tables held a delicate rose-shaded lamp.

Verily, the bums went forth, were charged nothing, and were treated for once like humans. About 400 of them were fed; which made quite a dent upon the Mission's slender fund, since each dinner actually cost about $1.35. Unofficially, the guests let it be known that the Mission was the favored inn next Christmas.

Mr. Zero also threw his annual party at "The Tub," his regular hang-out at Astor place. Otherwise Urban Ludoux, "Zero" charges a nickel for all of his feasts, giving as his reason that he will not insult unfortunate men by giving them charity. He asserts that the five-cent charge is sufficient to buy the regular stew, coffee and bread because he buys all his food from wholesalers in job lots. This Christmas the nickel also entitled the customer to admission into one of a number of halls Zero had rented. Here small luxuries, such as tobacco, candy and fruit were given out, having been donated by numberless citizens.

Myself, I think Zero is unreasonably idealistic about the men he aids. Three times last week I was stopped by shabby gents and offered a pack of cigarettes for a quarter. Obviously, these came originally from some charity and without a doubt, the money got from the sale would be promptly invested in terrible hootch. That in itself is fair enough. A bum will tell you that where a cup of coffee would keep him warm for a few minutes, one cigar and one of waterfront bug juice will burn him up for a few hours. But Mr. Zero will not admit that his friends will stoop to such means to get liquor. It must take that amount of beautiful naïveté to work year in and out for those amiable gentry, who though admittedly ambitious for work, are physiologically unsuited to that pastime. The spirit is willing. . .

It's a dull New York, just now, and I imagine a dull and drab America. New Year's celebration, headaches and attacks of dyspepsia are yet vigorous. Children are back in school, mourning the return to labor and gloomily contemplating the months before next Christmas. Adults are likewise back to the daily toil, unfortified by the fact the Aunt Minnie's present can't be exchanged; that the awe-inspiring crimp in the bank account will not be helped by the new income tax and that the taste of Scotch, purchased at holiday prices must have deteriorated quite a way since it came "off the boat."

Just for something to do Mrs. Ruth Snyder, in her cell at Sing Sing, is reviewing books and her column is published in the Evening World as "A Minute or Two With Books," signed by her. It is announced that she will try to comment on all books submitted—except serials.

The ham actor had just met a brother Thespian.

"Didn't your wife die a few months ago?" said the B. T.
"My wife has indeed passed away," he was told.

"I thought I saw you at the funeral parlor," the friend continued.

"And I certainly sympathized with you. I guess it hit you pretty hard, eh, old man?" You carried on something terrible—cried and cried. And then I remember you fainted."

"Oh, were you there?" the bereaved one exclaimed. "That was nothing. You should have caught me at the cemetery."

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

FRENCH AND ENGLISH

One of the silliest fallacies that one keeps hearing on both sides of the Atlantic, even from people who ought to know better, is that there is no longer any great need of a knowledge of the French language in France, because of the widespread use of English.

True, you can obtain food, shelter, and even clothing in Paris without using any tongue except English. But you're only a little better off than if you were deaf and dumb in the United States.

Half the fun of being in any place is the chance to talk freely with the natives. If your conversation is confined to asking for ordinary creature comforts, you're on a level with the lower animals. Man's whole thinking processes depend on the ability to exchange ideas. Stay long enough in a place where you can't visit and talk freely with your fellow men and you'll go to seed.

Disgusted with myself for not being fluent in at least one modern language, I can't help looking back on the year I wasted in the

NEWS COMMENT AND VIEWS

The Ice Sickle

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

The Fashionable Kind of Beauty

As I told you in my first talk this week, there are five principle kinds of beauty—form and symmetry, gracefulness, wild or luxurious beauty, prettiness, and fashion. I have shown you that they cannot be isolated, but must be considered in their relationship to each other in the perfect ensemble of beauty, which includes something of each.

Today I am going to talk about the fashionable kind of beauty. It is by no means the least important, and is a kind which every woman must include if her ensemble effect of beauty is to be complete.

Fashion depends upon timeliness. To take advantage of it, you must have the ability to change your point of view and to find a way to adapt the best in the styles to your individual beauty. Never follow fads blindly, never be a slave to your beauty.

People's whole ideal of beauty changes as the styles change. For instance, white powder used to be fashionable, and there was nothing more admired than a pink and white, doll-like face. Now practically no well-groomed woman uses dead white, or even pink powder unless she is the very rare type whom it suits. To be in vogue you must be a distinct individuality, with all of your clothes and your make-up chosen to accentuate that individuality. You will pick the shade of powder, rouge, lipstick and eye shadow that fit into the picture. And you will be much more likely to take a dark powder than a light one, for the penumbral has swung so far the other way that most of the smartest women, especially along the southern coast of France, and at the exclusive winter resorts in America, are using a powder, and even a powder foundation, decidedly dark in tone. Some of them achieve an almost bronze effect. They have influenced the style everywhere, and all chic French women are using powder in the darker shades for every occasion, and American women are following in their footsteps.

The pallid faces, contrasted with bright scarlet lips, are slowly fading out of the vogue, in favor of a warmer, harder kind of beauty with a healthy glow in one's cheeks.

The style of sleekness and extreme artificiality reached its zenith a few months ago. Hair plastered flat against your head, plucked eyebrows, sleek, snaky growns, all giving way to a softness and femininity. The perfect grooming still remains an ideal, but it must be achieved with a more natural effect. Hair should have a soft wave, only the excess or stray eyebrows should be plucked, and your gown will have a little fullness where it is flattering to your figure. You must recognize, however, that the modernistic is still in vogue in every line of art, although many people think there is an undercurrent back to the natural. Art creates the ideal of the beautiful woman. It recognizes and popularizes a certain type, then women follow it because they copy what they see. And the present tendency toward naturalness, combined with perfect grooming and striking effects, is probably following the same trend as that in art.

Fashion, then, is one of the five principles that you must consider if you wish to achieve the Newer Beauty, the perfect ensemble in every detail. Combine it with beauty of form, gracefulness, a touch of the wild and luxurious, a certain degree of prettiness, and you will have a perfection that defies competition.

BIBLICAL BACKING

"What's the price of this coat?" asked the lady customer of the proprietor of a clothing store.

"That one is fifty dollars," was the reply.

"Too cheap," sighed the lady. "I want a coat of quality."

The clothier shuffled up the coats and produced the same coat. He offered it for a hundred dollars this time, and the lady bought it.

After she had gone, a minister who had been standing nearby came over and said, "Can you account for the right of that in the Scriptures?"

"Certainly," replied the clothier, and he referred to that part which says, "She was a stranger, and I took her in."

mately on ounce, which measures but one tablespoon (it is heavy). And believe me, every calorie of it can be converted into fat if it happens to make your caloric intake more than you need. However, there is no reason why you should not take some honey while reducing, if you like it; simply count it in your allowance of foods.

While we are on honey, I might as well review it a little more. Honey consists of a mixture of the nectars gathered from flowers by the bees, changed somewhat by the honey bee, and evaporated to the honey consistency. The difference in flavors depends upon the types of flowers visited.

Since the pure food laws have been passed, there is much less adulteration of honey than formerly. Many think that because honey granulates, it has been adulterated, but that is not true; in fact, the fact that honey will granulate on standing for any length of time, is one of the signs that it is pure honey, so the honey men say.

Before the use of sugar became so prevalent, honey used to be the chief sweetening agent. It would be a good idea if we went back to honey more for our sweetening and used less sugar, for honey does contain some of the necessary mineral elements and vitamins which sugar does not. (Its iron content is one-third that of raisins.)

Because honey is a natural sweet, it is better for the children (also adults) than candy. Someone has computed that it takes 3,700,000 visits of bees to clover blossoms to produce one pound of this delicious sweet. So the busy-as-a-bee saying is not without foundation.

Your question on Honey, G., reminds me of a statement I read myself in one of the New York papers in an article on reducing. The statement was to the effect that honey could be used freely by those reducing, for it was not fattening. Not fattening! My word, it is nothing else but. Honey registers 100 calories to approxi-

FEATURES

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Serge Ughet, as a diplomat, represents in the United States a figment of the state department's imagination.

He represents the Kerenky government of Russia.

We all know—including the state department, which isn't a bit fooled by its own imagination, but insists on exercising it, by main strength and awkwardness—that there's no such thing as a Kerenky government, that it blew up ten years ago, not long after the czar's government did, and that the Russians have been living under the soviet government ever since.

However, it suits the state department to make believe it never heard of the soviet folks, that the Kerenky crowd are still running things, and that Serge Ughet, to represent 'em here, as maybe he really is doing, if they'd last-ed.

The peculiar feature of Serge's position is that, whereas there are lots of jobs which look big but don't amount to much, his job looks like a darned sight less than nothing, but he scoops in money by the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Serge came here originally as financial man for Boris Bakmeteff, Kerenky ambassador in Washington.

When Lenin upset Kerenky's over in Russia, Bakmeteff and the rest of the fallen regime's ambassadorial aggregation in this country beat it in various directions, with the exception of Serge, who was left here—or in New York, to be exact—holding the sack, so to speak.

If Washington had recognized the Leninites, Serge speedily would have been invested with the order of the boot, from Moscow, undoubtedly.

Instead of that, strange to say,

what did Secretary of State Hughes do?—and Secretary Kellogg has done after him—but stand pat for the Kerenysites, refusing, even unto this day, to talk official turkey with any other Russian than Serge Ughet, the last man designated by Ambassador Banmeteff to act for him.

It so happens, too, that a lot of unfinished business was left on Serge's hands to transact for the old embassy—business involving more assets to collect than there were liabilities to be liquidated, by many millions.

And Serge has been attending to it.

Only the other day a $984,104 check was handed to him—payable to his personal order, mind you—in satisfaction of a Kerenky governmental claim against the Lehigh Valley railroad.

To be sure, it remains for Serge to render an account to the Kerenky government. But there is no Kerenky government. There hasn't been one for a decade and the chances are a million to one that there never will be another one.

That's just one item. Serge is custodian of the Russian embassy building in Washington, among other properties—a swell place on Sixteenth street, just as Ambassador Bakmeteff left it.

"He's in the position," as it was explained to me the other day by Chief Robert F. Kelley of the state department division of eastern European affairs, "of the trustee of some dead man's estate, to which no heirs have yet been able to establish satisfactory title. Ultimately we shall recognize some Russian government, which he'll have to turn it over to."

In the meantime—poor Serge! It must be terrible to be an exile.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

MOTHERS AND FRIENDS

Motherhood brings happiness for their children. But mothers are not only human, and sometimes they achieve the opposite of happiness in their well meant efforts. Sometimes I am convinced that, after they have reached a certain age, the less they try to guide our children the better. That a broadminded, tolerant friendship is the best attitude we can take toward them.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have been going with a fellow whom I love very much. I love him, will not make you happy. But my mother broke us apart. We talk to each other when we meet, but he doesn't dare to come near the house. Do you think I ought to drop him?"

I find out to tell you just of him, but he is kind of a fast fellow and I am rather afraid of him. He pets too much.

"Broken Hearted."

Of course your mother may see things in the first boy that make her feel that way. But if she approves of this other one? I certainly would not submit to his "petting," dear, and would see as little of him as possible. I have been wondering whether you could get your mother to tell you just what, in her estimation, is the matter with the first one, and if it is nothing serious, tell her how much you like him and ask her if she will try to forget her prejudices and let him come to the house.

Philadelpia Relish

(Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe.)

One pint cabbage, two mild green or red peppers, one teaspoon celery seed, one-fourth teaspoon mustard seed, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup brown sugar, one-half cup vinegar. Chop peppers and cabbage very fine. Mix other ingredients and let stand one-half hour. When ready to serve combine the two. This is an easily made relish to serve with meat.

Potato Tea Cakes—One cup cold rice, four cups flour, one-half cup shortening, one teaspoon salt, one cup milk. Mix potato, flour and salt. Add milk. Put on floured board and roll to one-half inch in thickness. Cut in small rounds. Bake in hot oven. Place the cakes on a floured but not greased baking sheet. This should be served hot.

Peter's Adventure

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE HIDDEN EYE

"How provoking birds and insects are!" grumbled Peter. "They only half tell you a thing and then leave you to find out the rest as best you can."

It was a fact for myself or see a thing with my own eyes, I remember it better, but I don't always know how to go about it. Here I am, at the henlock tree. Now, where can Screech Owl's roost be? I don't see a sign of it anywhere, and it seems to me that if his nest was on the branches, I would discover it! That young Blue Jay could have given me more information if he'd wanted to!"

Then Peter heard again the same purr, sneaky sound that had sent the shivers up and down his spine a whole before. This time, however, it was much fainter and somehow it had an amused note.

"T'cher-r-wheem! T'cher-r-wheem!" The sound seemed to come from the farther side of the tree, and Peter walked around and peered carefully about. Not a thing did he see that looked a bit like a nest, but high up in the trunk the boy noticed a round opening. As he stared at it he imagined he saw a huge eye blinking down at him. He couldn't be sure, though, for in a second it had disappeared and the hole was as black and as empty as before.

"That's funny!" said the boy. "Now you see an eye, and now you don't! Upon my word, I do believe old Screech Owl is playing a trick on me. At any rate, it can do no harm to climb up and see if there is really anything in that hole. Even if Screech Owl wanted to, he would be too sleepy to start any trouble, and perhaps if I am polite to him he will be willing to tell me what I want to know. Anyhow, I am going to take a chance and find out what will happen."

When Peter once made up his mind to do a thing he generally

carried it out. Suiting his actions to his words, he began to scale the tree, and he didn't find it a bit hard—there were lots of little rough places, which he found good footholds.

It was no time at all before Peter had reached a branch that jutted out from the hole that he had set out to explore. He had learned one lesson from his insect friends, and that was to "look before you leap," as they would have said.

Then, at last, Peter was rewarded for his efforts. A sleepy voice spoke from within the tree. "Who is there?" it asked, grumpily. "These are not my hours for receiving calls, you know. Do stop that horrid knocking and go away and let me sleep!"

Top! Tap! Tap! At first there was no response to his knocking, but Peter was not going to give up as easily as that. "I am perfectly sure that somebody lives here," said he, under his breath. "And that he is at home, and if I am not very much mistaken it is Screech Owl himself. I am going to find out, if it takes me all day." And he kept right on rapping.

Then, at last, Peter was rewarded for his efforts. A sleepy voice spoke from within the tree. "Who is there?" it asked, grumpily. "These are not my hours for receiving calls, you know. Do stop that horrid knocking and go away and let me sleep!"

Top! Tap! Tap! At first there was no response to his knocking, but Peter was not going to give up as easily as that. "I am perfectly sure that somebody lives here," said he, under his breath. "And that he is at home, and if I am not very much mistaken it is Screech Owl himself. I am going to find out, if it takes me all day." And he kept right on rapping.

Then, at last, Peter was rewarded for his efforts. A sleepy voice spoke from within the tree. "Who is there?" it asked, grumpily. "These are not my hours for receiving calls, you know. Do stop that horrid knocking and go away and let me sleep!"

NOTE:—Please send ten cents in COIN and fully self-addressed stamped envelope, with orders for sheets on reducing and gaining.

URBANA TAKES NOSE DIVE BEFORE CRACK CEDARVILLE TEAM

With its second team playing all but ten minutes of the contest, Cedarville College registered its third straight triumph of the week by downing Urbana Junior College 32 to 16 on the Urbana floor Saturday night.

The "Yellow-Jackets" had the score doubled on Urbana at the half, 24 to 12 and maintained the same ratio throughout the contest. Cedarville will play a return game with Defiance College at Defiance next Saturday night. An effort is being made to schedule a contest with Bluffton College at Bluffton for the preceding Friday evening, in order that two road games may be played on the week-end trip.

Coach Borst's team will open its three-game series with Wilberforce University at Wilberforce January 30.

Lineups and summary: Cedarville (32) Urbana (16)
Morton l. f. Butcher
Allen r. f. Blair
Smith c. Coleman
E. Jacobs l. g. Rich
Turner r. g. Chriskaep
Field goals—R. G. 5; Coleman 1, Allen 3, Smith 3, Nagler 3, Gordon 2, Fisher 1. Foul goals—Coleman 3, Blair 1, Turner 1, E. Jacobs 1, Little 1.

Substitutions: Cedarville—Nagley for Allen; Adair for Morton; R. Jacobs for Smith; Gordon for Turner; Little for E. Jacobs; E. Jacobs for Little; Fisher for E. Jacobs. Urbana—Ryan for Coleman; Tafel for Rich; Romacca for Tafel. Referee—Hall, Wittenberg College.

FOUR TEAMS REMAIN UNDEFEATED AMONG GRADE LOOP FIVES

Spring Hill fourth and sixth grade teams and McKinley 5A and 5B, remain among the ranks of undefeated teams in the Intra-City Grade School Basketball League as the result of play in the second round Saturday.

Spring Hill sixth grade furnished a mild surprise by trouncing McKinley 6B, city grade schools champions, and loom as the strongest contender for titular honors in the league this year.

Schedule for the third round next Saturday morning brings together McKinley 4A and 4B teams at 8 o'clock; McKinley 5A and 5B quintets at 9 o'clock; and McKinley 6A and 6B teams at 10 o'clock. Spring Hill teams will not participate in this round.

League standing follows:
Team Won. Lost. Pct.
Spring Hill 6 2 0 1.000
Spring Hill 4 2 0 1.000
McKinley 5A 1 0 1.000
McKinley 5B 1 0 1.000
McKinley 6B 0 1 .000
McKinley 6A 0 1 .000
McKinley 4A 0 1 .000
McKinley 4B 0 1 .000
Spring Hill 5 0 2 .000

BOWLING

After the lull of the holidays, play was resumed last week in the Recreation and City Bowling Leagues, the Greene County Lumber Co., extending its lead over the Fords in the senior circuit to two full games, while the Downtown Country Club stretched its advantage over the Brown Furniture Co. to three full games in the junior league.

The resumption of the Recreation League schedule witnessed the breaking of the league record for high three-game team total on two straight nights. The Fords first bettered the mark of the lumber firm by eleven pins and then watched the latter team set a new mark thirteen pins higher the following night.

Schedule this week follows: Monday—Fords vs. Greene County Lumber Co. at 6:30; Bulcks vs. Studebaker Commanders at 8:30. Tuesday—Los Ramos Cigars vs. Lang Transfers. Thursday—Downtown Country Club vs. Chrysler Motors. Friday—Browns vs. Red Wing Co.

The standing in the Recreation League follows:
Team W. L. Pct.
Gr. Co. L. Co. 30 15 .666
Fords 28 17 .622
Lang Transfers 24 21 .533
Studebakers 20 25 .444
Bulcks 18 27 .400
Los Ramos 15 30 .333

The standing in the City League follows:
Team W. L. Pct.
D. T. C. Club 26 7 .786
Brown 23 12 .656
Red Wings 15 21 .416
Chryslers 8 28 .222

MAYOR'S COURT

PAIR FINED
Charged with disorderly conduct, Samuel Larry and Carrie Allen, both colored, this city, were each fined $5 and costs by Mayor John W. Prugh Monday morning. They pleaded guilty.

Police learned that Larry had been "keeping company" with Carrie off and on for the last year and that trouble arose between the pair Sunday when Larry told her she was about to be "jilted" for another woman.

She struck him and a relative notified police. Larry was unhurt and was arrested by Patrolman Fred Jones. The woman escaped but voluntarily appeared at Police Headquarters Monday.

TO PLAY KELLYS

Wilberforce University will open its basketball season with a game against the Kelly Kubs of Dayton, Monday night at Beacon gymnasium, Wilberforce. It is announced by Coach Graves.

HE'S "THE FATHER OF BASKETBALL"

James Naismith of Lawrence, Kansas, is credited with being the originator of the popular indoor game, and his wife, shown with him, is the first woman basketball player. Naismith invented the game in 1891 while a college student at Springfield, Mass. Peach baskets were used instead of nets, and the teams had as many as 50 players to a side.

Sports Done Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN
It has just been revealed that 1,300,000 persons saw the Yankees perform at the Yankee Stadium last summer.

This number was divided as follows:

Those who predicted in 1921 that Miller Huggins would prove a bloomer as a pilot—103,000.

Those who then expected Babe Ruth or Roger Peckinpaugh would succeed him—25,000.

Those who called Ruth a lucky stiff when he hit 59 home runs in 1921 and chortled when he slipped on the primrose path a couple of years later—152,860.

Those who decided three years ago that Ruth was the boss of the team—146,777.

Those who predicted that the

CEDARVILLE TEAMS BEAT CAESARCREEK IN DOUBLE HEADER

Cedarville High School boys' and girls' basketball teams each won their games with Caesarcreek Twp. High representatives Saturday night at Alford gymnasium, Cedarville College.

Cedarville boys turned back the visitors 27 to 12 while the girls registered their win in unmistakable fashion, 24 to 9.

Individual shooting of Bone, Caesarcreek player, who scored all of his team's points, featured the boys' contest. "Tiny" Baker, diminutive Cedarville star, tallied eleven markers. Peters and Willis played fine defensive games for the winners.

In the girls' contest, Black was the scoring star with thirteen points to her credit. Cedarville girls had things easy and every member of the squad was given an opportunity to play.

LEESBURG FORCED OVERTIME TO BEAT BELLBROOK OUTFIT

Bellbrook High School's crack basketball brigade carried the strong Leesburg High five into an overtime period before submitting to its first defeat of the season by a count of 34 to 26 Saturday night on the Bellbrook floor.

Bellbrook kept pace with the visitors throughout the contest largely through the shooting of four of Captain George Barnett, star forward, who registered twenty points.

The score at the end of the regulation playing period was tied at 26 to 26. In the extra session, Leesburg injected new talent into the contest and three field goals were rung up while Bellbrook was being held scoreless.

It was a furiously-fought game all the way and one of the most exciting ever seen on the Bellbrook floor.

EAST HIGH DEFEATS SPRINGFIELD TEAM

East High School's basketball quintet turned back the Springfield High "Y" team 24 to 22 in a hard-fought game Friday night before a large crowd at the East gym.

East took a lead at the offset and maintained a small advantage throughout the game except on one occasion when the visitors managed to tie the score. The entire East squad displayed improved form.

Fred Baker, former East High star, scored six baskets and one foul for thirteen points, hitting the basket with great regularity in the closing moments of the contest.

TRAFFIC IMPEDED BY SUNDAY'S FOG

Traffic over Greene County roads was seriously impeded and numerous minor automobile accidents were reported as a result of the dense fog which lay thickly over highways Sunday evening.

Their vision of the road ahead limited to less than fifty feet, drivers, of necessity, proceeded at a minimum rate of speed to avoid collisions.

Numerous cases were reported of motorists being ditched along the Dayton and Springfield pikes. One car overturned in a ditch on Jacoby's hill on the Springfield Pike.

COLDS
of head or chest are more easily treated externally with—
VICKS
VAPORUB
Over 21 million jars used yearly

ELIMINATION PLAN WAS TUNNEY'S IDEA CHAMPION CLAIMS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination tournament is a grand idea, only it isn't Rickard's and never was. It merely is his tournament; also his money, after the saps are tapped on the medulla oblongata for what they have, if enough.

The above, in effect, was Gene Tunney's statement to the writer today after he had masticated Rickard's charge that the champion was guilty by ingratitude in attempting to void the contract signed by the pair for heavyweight business this summer. Rickard's story was that he had fought and bled—the suckers, perchance—for Tunney, got him his title chance, gave him over a million dollars and altogether made him what he is. In other words, he desired to infer that Tunney was greatly in his debt.

Tunney sees it otherwise. He thinks the matter of debt is an absolute stand-off and cites the heavy weight tourney as proof of his contention. It made Rickard the better part of a million dollars last year and, according to Tunney, if never would have been thought of if it hadn't been for one man's rare presence of mind, as it were. Who was that man? Don't be so young.

"It was I who suggested to Rickard that elimination tests be held," the champion declared with a modest blush. "What heavyweight champion save you know who didn't hand pick his opponents? There is only one and his name is Gene Tunney. I insist that Rickard produce the best man available as my opponent last year and I told him the only way this could be done was to hold a tourney with all the leading contenders entered."

"I pointed out to him the monetary value of the project, both in itself and in its effects upon the actual championship fight. He finally saw my point of view and I don't think he has regretted doing so. He talks of making me a million, too, and what is more, is continuing to make money by following my plan again this season."

Privately, Tunney had some other remarks to air on the subject of Rickard, but they were not exactly the kind one saves for the drawing room, the inference from this being that, if Tunney and Rickard are putting on an act, the champion is a consummate muck.

He registered disdain in several shades of facial gymnastics.

He, however, declined to comment on the current report that the other promoter with whom he plans to sign for a summer bout is Mr. James Mullen of the Chicago Mullen. Nor would Tunney admit that his opponent already had been determined by the alleged signing by Mullen of Jack Delaney to a contract. The only hook-up of ideas in this connection is that Delaney is understood to have pulled out of Rickard's tournament and the further fact that he fought Berlenbach for Mullen last month.

As for Tunney's proposed association with the Chicago man, that may be a long story or perhaps none at all.

JUDGE TURNS SANTA
WASHINGTON, Mich.—Several days ago a young man came to Washington penniless and in search of a job. When he failed to find employment he asked police to arrest him as a vagrant so that he might be sent to jail and out of the cold. They did but when the story was told to Judge Hitt, he instead of passing sentence passed his hat around the courtroom, collecting more than $10. Then Attorney Harry Whelan stepped forward and promised to take care of the youth and get him a job.

STOPS COUGHS QUICKLY
"I was bothered with a hard persistent cough, but I found other relieving as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound," says E. Boggers, Pomona, Calif. Coughs and throat irritations, hard bronchial coughs, lingering "flu" coughs, almost instantly stopped. It combines the curative influence of pure pine tar and the modifying demulcent action of fresh clear honey with other healing ingredients. A boon to those who suffer from troublesome night coughs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Sold Everywhere.—Adv.

Enrollment at Central Senior High School at the close of the first semester is placed at 362 students, six less than the enrollment at the opening of school in September, according to school officials.

A decrease of but six pupils during the first half of the school year is looked upon by school authorities as an unusually satisfactory record.

Enrollment in Central Junior High at the end of the semester remained at 217, the figure announced when school convened in September.

Out of a total enrollment of 579, there are about fifty more girls than boys, the number of girls exceeding the number of boys in every class from the seventh to the twelfth grade, the statistics reveal.

SUNSHINE RAISINS
A full pound wonderful seedless raisins.
At your grocer's.

It is easy to get rid of a Cold if you don't neglect it too long. Get a box of BROMO QUININE. 30c.

The box bears this signature E. W. Brown

Proven Merit since 1889

Quick!

Relief For Coughs and Colds Made Menthio-Laxene Famous

For the quick, sure relief of coughs and colds nothing compares with Menthio-Laxene. It goes right to the spot—and eases the throat, raises the phlegm, clears the head—and soon the most stubborn cough or cold is GONE! Try it!

Menthio-Laxene is pure, contains no opiates and is universally recommended for children. Sold by druggists everywhere.

"SICK-HEADACHES?"

Torturing, maddening! Most always trace them to lazy liver, constipation and a sour-sick stomach. Poison of fermented foods retained, instead of passing, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissues, it causes congestion and that acute, sickening pain.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Women, because of their sensitive organism are especially prone to periodical headaches, should not suffer if a drugstore is nearby. Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills have helped millions during the past 25 years. Non-secret formula, completely prompt and "Better Than Castor Oil." Two sizes 15c—50c.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

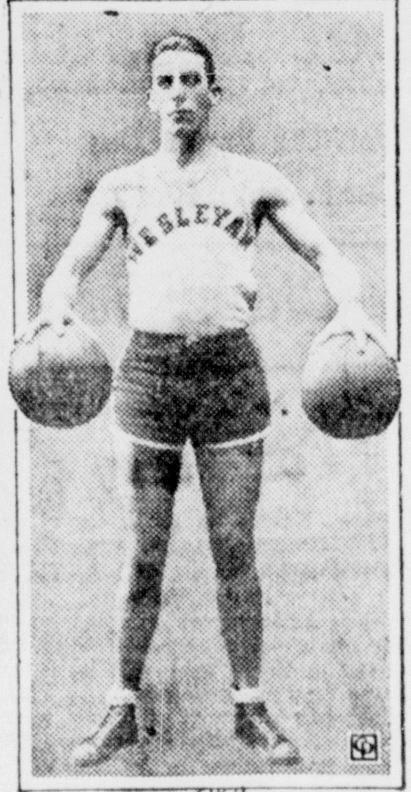

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

Blackburn's Casca-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, toning up the bowels, nerves, making the poison ferments move on and out, thus purifying the blood and curing the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

It's Easy for Him

Try this on your piano. It's easy for Floyd Siegenthaler, of Alliance, O., member of Ohio Wesleyan's basketball team. He has a reach of 11 inches and can cover an octave and a half (12 full notes) on the piano keyboard.

ANYWAY IT GOT BY
COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the eats I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the eats," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Was the muffler

URBANA TAKES NOSE DIVE BEFORE CRACK CEDARVILLE TEAM

With its second team playing all but ten minutes of the contest, Cedarville College registered its third straight triumph of the week by downing Urbana Junior College 32 to 16 on the Urbana floor Saturday night.

The "Yellow-Jackets" had the score doubled on Urbana at the half, 24 to 12 and maintained the same ratio throughout the contest. Cedarville will play a return game with Defiance College at Defiance next Saturday night. An effort is being made to schedule a contest with Bluffton College at Bluffton for the preceding Friday evening, in order that two road games may be played on the weekend trip.

Coach Borst's team will open its three-game series with Wilberforce University at Wilberforce January 30.

Lineups and summary: Cedarville (32) Urbana (16)
Morton L. f. Butler
Allen R. f. Blair
Smith C. c. Coleman
E. Jacobs I. g. Rich
Turner R. g. Chriskaep
Field goals—Blair 5, Coleman 1, Allen 3, Smith 3, Nagley 3, Adair 2, Gordon 2, Fisher 1, Poul goals—Coleman 3, Blair 1, Turner 1, E. Jacobs 1, Little 1.
Substitutions: Cedarville—Nagley for Allen; Adair for Morton; R. Jacobs for Smith; Gordon for Turner; Little for E. Jacobs; E. Jacobs for Little; Fisher for E. Jacobs; Urbana—Ryan for Coleman; Tafel for Rich; Romooca for Tafel; E. Jacobs—Hall, Wittenberg College.

FOUR TEAMS REMAIN UNDEFEATED AMONG GRADE LOOP FIVES

Spring Hill fourth and sixth grade teams and McKinley 5A and 5B quintets remain among the ranks of undefeated teams in the Intra-City Grade School Basketball League as the result of play in the second round Saturday.

Spring Hill sixth grade furnished a mild surprise by trouncing McKinley 6B, city grade schools champions, and loom as the strongest contender for titular honors in the league this year.

Schedule for the third round next Saturday morning brings together McKinley 4A and 4B teams at 8 o'clock; McKinley 5A and 5B quintets at 9 o'clock; and McKinley 6A and 6B teams at 10 o'clock. Spring Hill teams will not participate in this round.

League standing follows:
Team W. L. Pct.
Spring Hill 6 2 0 1.000
Spring Hill 4 2 0 1.000
McKinley 5A 1 0 1.000
McKinley 6B 1 0 1.000
McKinley 6A 0 1 .000
McKinley 4A 0 1 .000
McKinley 4B 0 1 .000
Spring Hill 5 0 2 .000

BOWLING

After the lull of the holidays, play was resumed last week in the Recreation and City Bowling Leagues, the Greene County Lumber Co., extending its lead over the Fords in the senior circuit to two full games, while the Downtown Country Club stretched its advantage over the Brown Furniture Co. to three full games in the junior league.

The resumption of the Recreation League schedule witnessed the breaking of the league record for high three-game team total on two straight nights. The Fords first bettered the mark of the lumber firm by eleven pins and then watched the latter team set a new mark thirteen pins higher the following night.

Schedule this week follows: Monday—Fords vs. Greene County Lumber Co. at 6:30; Buicks vs. Studebaker Commanders at 8:30; Tuesday—Los Ramos Cigars vs. Lang Transfers. Thursday—Downtown Country Club vs. Chrysler Motors. Friday—Browns vs. Red Wing Co.

The standing in the Recreation League follows:
Team W. L. Pct.
Gr. Co. L. Co. 30 15 .666
Fords 28 17 .622
Lang Transfers 24 21 .533
Studebakers 20 25 .444
Buicks 18 27 .400
Los Ramos 15 30 .333
The standing in the City League follows:
Team W. L. Pct.
D. T. C. Club 26 10 .711
Browns 23 13 .638
Red Wings 21 15 .583
Chryslers 8 28 .222

MAYOR'S COURT

Charged with disorderly conduct, Samuel Larry and Carrie Allen, both colored, this city, were each fined $5 and costs by Mayor John W. Prugh Monday morning. They pleaded guilty.

Police learned that Larry had been "keeping company" with Carrie off and on for the last year and that trouble arose between the pair Sunday when Larry told her she was about to be "jilted" for another woman.

She struck him and a relative notified police. Larry was unhurt and was arrested by Patrolman Fred Jones. The woman escaped but voluntarily appeared at Police Headquarters Monday.

TO PLAY KELLYS

Wilberforce University will open its basketball season with a game against the Kelly Cubs of Dayton, Monday night at Beacon gymnasium, Wilberforce. It is announced by Coach Graves.

The contest is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock.

HE'S "THE FATHER OF BASKETBALL"

James Naismith of Lawrence, Kansas, is credited with being the originator of the popular indoor game, and his wife, shown with him, is the first woman basketball player. Naismith invented the game in 1891 while a college student at Springfield, Mass. Peach baskets were used instead of nets, and the teams had as many as 50 players to a side.

Sports Done Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN

It has just been revealed that 1,300,000 persons saw the Yankees perform at the Yankee Stadium last summer.

This number was divided as follows:

Those who predicted in 1921 that Miller Huggins would prove a bloomer as a pilot—103,000.
Those who then expected Babe Ruth or Roger Peckinpaugh would succeed him—25,000.

Those who called Ruth a lucky stiff when he hit 59 home runs in 1921 and chortled when he slipped on the primrose path a couple of years later—152,860.

Those who decided three years ago that Ruth was the boss of the team—146,777.

Those who predicted that the

CEDARVILLE TEAMS BEAT CAESARCREEK IN DOUBLE HEADER

Cedarville High School boys' and girls' basketball teams each won their games with Caesarcreek Tuesday. High representatives Saturday night at Alford gymnasium, Cedarville College.

Cedarville boys turned back the visitors 27 to 12 while the girls registered their win in unmistakable fashion, 34 to 9.

Individual shooting of Bone, Caesarcreek player, who scored all of his team's points, featured the boys' contest. "Tinny" Baker, diminutive Cedarville star, tallied eleven markers. Peters and Willis played fine defensive games for the winners.

In the girls' contest, Black was the scoring star with thirteen points to her credit. Cedarville girls had things easy and every member of the squad was given an opportunity to play.

LEESBURG FORCED OVERTIME TO BEAT BELLBROOK OUTFIT

Bellbrook High School's crack basketball brigade carried the strong Leesburg High five into an overtime period before submitting to its first defeat of the season by a count of 34 to 26 Saturday night on the Bellbrook floor.

Bellbrook kept pace with the visitors throughout the contest largely through the shooting efforts of Captain George Barnett, star forward, who registered twenty points.

The score at the end of the regulation playing period was tied at 26 to 26. In the extra session, Leesburg injected new talent into the contest and three field goals were rung up while Bellbrook was being held scoreless.

It was a furiously-fought game all the way and one of the most exciting ever seen on the Bellbrook floor.

EAST HIGH DEFEATS SPRINGFIELD TEAM

East High School's basketball quintet turned back the Springfield Hi "Y" team 24 to 22 in a hard-fought game Friday night before a large crowd at the East gym.

East took a lead at the off-set and maintained a small advantage throughout the game except on one occasion when the visitors managed to tie the score. The entire East squad displayed improved form.

Fred Baker, former East High star, scored six baskets and one foul for thirteen points, hitting the basket with great regularity in the closing moments of the contest.

TRAFFIC IMPEDED BY SUNDAY'S FOG

Traffic over Greene County roads was seriously impeded and numerous minor automobile accidents were reported as a result of the dense fog which lay thickly over highways Sunday evening.

Their vision of the road ahead limited to less than fifty feet, drivers, of necessity, proceeded at a minimum rate of speed to avoid collisions.

Numerous cases were reported of motorists being ditched along the Dayton and Springfield pikes. One car overturned in a ditch on Jacob's hill on the Springfield Pike.

COLDS VICKS

of head or chest are more easily treated externally with—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 21 million jars used yearly.

ELIMINATION PLAN WAS TUNNEY'S IDEA CHAMPION CLAIMS

By DAVIS J. WALSH

I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination tournament is a grand idea, only it isn't Rickard's and never was. It merely is his tournament; also his money, after the saps are tapped on the medulla oblongata for what they have, if enough.

The above, in effect, was Gene Tunney's statement to the writer today after he had masticated Rickard's charge that the champion was guilty by ingratitude in attempting to void the contract signed by the pair for heavyweight business this summer. Rickard's story was that he had fought and bled—the knockers, perforce—for Tunney, got him his title chance, gave him over a million dollars and altogether made him what he is. In other words, he desired to infer that Tunney was greatly in his debt.

Tunney sees it otherwise. He thinks the matter of debt is an absolute stand-off and cites the heavy weight tourney as proof of his contention. It made Rickard the better part of a million dollars last year and, according to Tunney, it never would have been thought of if it hadn't been for one man's rare presence of mind, as it were. Who was that man? Don't be so young.

"It was I who suggested to Rickard that elimination tests be held," the champion declared with a modest blush. "What heavyweight champion save you know who didn't hand pick his opponents? There is only one and his name is Gene Tunney. I insisted that Rickard produce the man available as my opponent last year and I told him the only way this could be done was to hold a tourney with all the leading contenders entered."

"I pointed out to him the monetary value of the project, both in itself and in its effects upon the actual championship fight. He finally my point of view and I don't think he has regretted doing so. He talks of making me a million last year. Well, I made him one, too, and what is more, is continuing to make money by following my plan again this season."

Privately, Tunney has some other remarks to air on the subject of Rickard, but they were not extolled. He saved for the drawing room, the inference from this being that, if Tunney and Rickard are putting on an act, the champion is a consummate mummer. He registered disdain in several shades of facial gymnastics.

He, however, declined to comment on the current report that the other promoter with whom he plans to sign for a summer bout is Mr. James Mullen of the Chicago Mullen. Nor would Tunney admit that his opponent already had been determined by the alleged signing by Mullen of Jack Delaney to a contract. The only hook-up of ideas in this connection is that Delaney is understood to have pulled out of Rickard's tournament and the further fact that he fought Berlenbach for Mullen last month.

As for Tunney's proposed association with the Chicago man, that may be a long story or perhaps none at all.

JUDGE TURNS SANTA

WASHINGTON, Mich.—Several days ago a young man came to Washington penniless and in search of a job. When he failed to find employment he asked police to arrest him as a vagrant so that he might be sent to jail and out of the cold. They did but when the story was told to Judge Hitt, he instead of passing sentence passed his hat around the courtroom, collecting more than $10. Then Attorney Harry Whelan stepped forward and promised to take care of the youth and get him a job.

STOPS COUGHS QUICKLY

"I was bothered with a hard persistent cough, but found no other remedy so good and quick as relieving as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound," says E. Boggers, Pomona, Calif. Coughs and throat irritations, hard bronchial coughs, lingering "flu" coughs, almost instantaneous relief is obtained by the curative influence of pure pine tar and the mollifying demulcent action of fresh clear honey with other healing ingredients. A boon to those who suffer from troublesome night coughs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Quick!

Relief For Coughs and Colds Made Menthio-Laxene Famous

For the quick, sure relief of coughs and colds—nothing compares with Menthio-Laxene. It goes right to the spot—and eases the throat, raises the phlegm, clears the head and soothes the most stubborn cough or cold is GONE! Try it!

Menthio-Laxene is pure, contains no opiates and is universally recommended for children. Sold by druggists everywhere.

"SICK-HEADACHES?" Torturing, maddening! Most always trace to a lazy liver, constipation and a sourish stomach. Poison of fermented foods retained, instead of passing, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissues, it causes congestion and the acute, sickening pain.

Blackburn's Casa-Royal Pills quickly and surely remove the cause by stimulating the liver, turning up the bowel-nerves, making the poison-ferment and out, thus purifying the blood and ending the headaches. The effect is almost instantaneous.

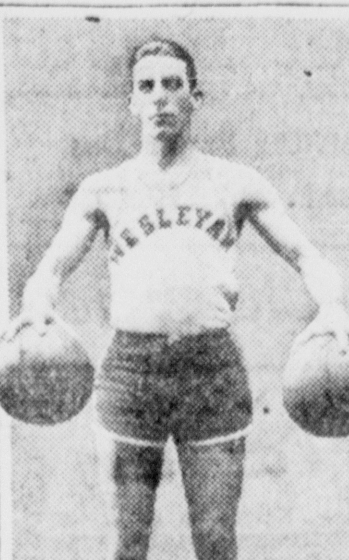

Women, because of their sensitive organism are especially prone to periodical headaches, should not suffer if a drugstore is nearby—for Blackburn's Casa-Royal Pills have helped millions during the past 25 years. Non-secret formula, small, sweet, prompt and "Better Than Castor Oil." Two sizes 15c—50c.

It is easy to get rid of a Cold if you don't neglect it too long. Get a box of BROMO QUININE. 30c.

The box bears this signature: C. W. Brown.

Proven Merit since 1889

It's Easy for Him

Try this on your piano. It's easy for Floyd Siegenthaler, of Alliance, O., member of Ohio Wesleyan's basketball team. He has a reach of 11 inches and can cover an octave and a half (12 full notes) on the piano keyboard.

ANYWAY IT GOT BY COATSVILLE, Pa.

"My friend was sick, he was hungry and he wanted some hot dog sandwiches, ice cream and pie, so I started to Coatsville to get him the cake," so declared a man arraigned in police court on a charge of driving an auto without a muffler on the exhaust, the machine creating a great noise. "Waa the muffler on the car when you started?" "Yes, sir, but I was in such a hurry to get the cake I didn't notice when I lost it." He was discharged.

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK

CINCINNATI LIVESTOCK
Hogs—receipts 45,000; holdover 684; market strong; bulk quotations: 250-300 lbs., $8.00; 200-250 lbs., $8.75; 150-200 lbs., $8.50; 100-150 lbs., $8.25; 75-100 lbs., $7.50; packing sows, $6.75; $7.25.

Cattle—receipts 1650; calves, 400; market uneven steady; veal steady; top, $15; bulk quotations: beef steers, $10 to $13.50; light yearling steers, $9 to $12; beef cows, $6 to $9; low cutter and cutter cows, $5 to $8; vealers, $11 to $15; heavy calves, $10 to $13; bulk stock and feeder steers, $9 to $10.

Sheep—receipts 275; market steady; quotations: top fat lambs, $14.25; bulk fat lambs, $11 to $14; bulk cut lambs, $7 to $9; bulk fat ewes, $4 to $6.

PITTSBURGH LIVESTOCK

Cattle—supply 700; market steady; choice $13.50 to $14.50; prime $13 to $13.50; good $12 to $13; 75; tidy butchers $11.50 to $12.50; fair $10.50 to $11.50; common $8.50 to $10; common to good fat bulls $8 to $10.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Hogs—receipts 45,000; market 10 to 15 cents higher; top $8.65; bulk $7.35 to $8.50; heavy weight $8.15 to $8.65; medium weight $8.25 to $8.65; light weight $8.00 to $8.60; light lights $7.50 to $8.50; packing sows $6.50 to $7.00; pigs $7.20 to $8.50; holdovers 1,000.

Cattle—receipts 22,000; market steady to 25 cents lower; calves: receipts 4,000; market 25 to 50 cents lower; beef steers: good and choice $16 to $18; common and medium $8.50 to $15; yearlings $8.50 to $18; butcher cattle: heifers $7 to $13; cows $7 to $11; bulls $7 to $10; calves $11.50 to $14.50; feeder steers $8.50 to $11.25; stocker steers $7.50 to $10.25; stocker cows and heifers $5 to $9.

Sheep—receipts 25,000; market 25 cents lower; medium and choice lambs $11.25 to $13.50; culled and common $10 to $11.50; yearlings $9 to $11; common and choice ewes $10 to $12; feeder lambs $11.50 to $13.

XENIA LIVESTOCK

Heavies—$7 to $7.75.
Lights—$7 to $7.50.
Mediums—$7 to $7.90.
Pigs—$7 to $7.25.
Roughs—$6 to $6.50.
Calves—$12.
Sheep—$4.
Lambs—$10.50 to $11.50.

DAYTON

Receipts, 3 cars; mkt., 15 to 25c higher.

Heavies—$8.50.

Mediums—$8.25.

Lights—$7.75.

Pigs—$6 to $7.

Stags—$4.50 to $5.50.

Sows—$6 to $7.

CATTLE

Receipts, light, mkt., steady.

Best fat steers $10.50 to $11.50.

Veal calves $10 to $11.

Medium Butcher Steers $8 to $9.

Best butcher heifers $8 to $9.

Best fat cows $8 to $9.

Bologna cows $3.50 to $4.50.

Medium cows $4 to $5.

Bulls $6 to $7.

SHEEP

Spring lambs $8 to $11.

Sheep $2 to $5.

GRAIN

DAYTON

Flour and Grain

(By the Durst Milling Co.)

(Prices being paid for grain at mill.)

Wheat, No. 1, new $1.34.

Rye, No. 2, $1.00.

Corn, $1.00 per 100 lbs.

Oats, per bu., 54c.

PRODUCE

CLEVELAND PRODUCE

BUTTER:

Extras, 52 1/2 to 55 1/2c.

Firsts, 50 1/2 to 56 1/2c.

Packing stock, 25 to 30c.

Eggs, extra, 40c.

Extra firsts, 43c.

Firsts, 41c.

LIVE POULTRY:

Heavy fowls, 28 to 29c.

@ $2.05; common to good fat cows $4.50 to $5; heifers $10 to $10.50; fresh cows and springers $8 to $12; veal calves $17.
Sheep and lamb—supply 2,500; market active; good $8.25; lambs $14.
Hogs—receipts 5,500; market active; prime heavy hogs $9 to $9.05; heavy mixed $9 to $9.05; mediums $9 to $9.05; heavy yorkers $8.90 to $9; light yorkers $8.25 to $8.50; pigs $7.50 to $8; roughs $7 to $7.50; stags $7 to $7.50.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Hogs—receipts 45,000; market 10 to 15 cents higher; top $8.65; bulk $7.35 to $8.50; heavy weight $8.15 to $8.65; medium weight $8.25 to $8.65; light weight $8.00 to $8.60; light lights $7.50 to $8.50; packing sows $6.50 to $7.00; pigs $7.20 to $8.50; holdovers 1,000.

Cattle—receipts 22,000; market steady to 25 cents lower; calves: receipts 4,000; market 25 to 50 cents lower; beef steers: good and choice $16 to $18; common and medium $8.50 to $15; yearlings $8.50 to $18; butcher cattle: heifers $7 to $13; cows $7 to $11; bulls $7 to $10; calves $11.50 to $14.50; feeder steers $8.50 to $11.25; stocker steers $7.50 to $10.25; stocker cows and heifers $5 to $9.

Sheep—receipts 25,000; market 25 cents lower; medium and choice lambs $11.25 to $13.50; culled and common $10 to $11.50; yearlings $9 to $11; common and choice ewes $10 to $12; feeder lambs $11.50 to $13.

XENIA LIVESTOCK

Heavies—$7 to $7.75.
Lights—$7 to $7.50.
Mediums—$7 to $7.90.
Pigs—$7 to $7.25.
Roughs—$6 to $6.50.
Calves—$12.
Sheep—$4.
Lambs—$10.50 to $11.50.

DAYTON

Receipts, 3 cars; mkt., 15 to 25c higher.

Heavies—$8.50.

Mediums—$8.25.

Lights—$7.75.

Pigs—$6 to $7.

Stags—$4.50 to $5.50.

Sows—$6 to $7.

CATTLE

Receipts, light, mkt., steady.

Best fat steers $10.50 to $11.50.

Veal calves $10 to $11.

Medium Butcher Steers $8 to $9.

Best butcher heifers $8 to $9.

Best fat cows $8 to $9.

Bologna cows $3.50 to $4.50.

Medium cows $4 to $5.

Bulls $6 to $7.

SHEEP

Spring lambs $8 to $11.

Sheep $2 to $5.

GRAIN

DAYTON

Flour and Grain

(By the Durst Milling Co.)

(Prices being paid for grain at mill.)

Wheat, No. 1, new $1.34.

Rye, No. 2, $1.00.

Corn, $1.00 per 100 lbs.

Oats, per bu., 54c.

PHONE
111
ASK FOR CLASSIFIED
AD TAKER

Gazette Want Ads Get Results

Want Ads Taken Until 9:30 A. M. For Publication the Same Day.
Gazette Classified Ads Are Read For Profit—Used For Results.

PHONE
111
ASK FOR CLASSIFIED
AD TAKER

Sell - Rent or Buy "The Gazette Classified Way"

Classified Advertising THE GAZETTE IS THE MEDIUM

through which the general public can always have its wants supplied.

THE GAZETTE will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement. Notice of errors, typographical or otherwise, must be given in time for correction before next insertion.

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification style and type. THE GAZETTE reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement.

Closing time for classified advertisements for publication the same day is 9:30 a. m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- 1 Death Notices.
- 2 Card of Thanks.
- 3 In Memoriam.
- 4 Funerals, Monuments.
- 5 Tax Service.
- 6 Notices, Meetings.
- 7 Personal.
- 8 Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

- 9 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering.
- 10 Dressmaking, Millinery.
- 11 Beauty Culture.
- 12 Professional Services.
- 13 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
- 14 Electricians, Wiring.
- 15 Building, Contracting.
- 16 Painting, Papering.
- 17 Repairing, Refinishing.
- 18 Commercial Hauling, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

- 19 Help Wanted—Male.
- 20 Help Wanted—Female.
- 21 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
- 22 Help Wanted—Agents—Salesmen.

SITUATIONS WANTED

- 23 Situations Wanted.
- 24 Help Wanted—Instruction.
- 25 Live Stock—POULTRY—PETS.
- 26 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
- 27 Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
- 28 Horses—Cattle—Hogs.

MISCELLANEOUS

- 29 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 30 Musical—Radio.
- 31 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 32 Musical Instruments—Radio.
- 33 Household Goods.
- 34 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
- 35 Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

- 36 Where To Eat.
- 37 Rooms—With Board.
- 38 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
- 39 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
- 40 Houses—Flats—Unfurnished.
- 41 Houses—Flats—Furnished.
- 42 Office and Desk Rooms.
- 43 Miscellaneous For Rent.
- 44 Wanted To Rent.

REAL ESTATE

- 45 Houses For Sale.
- 46 Lots For Sale.
- 47 Real Estate For Exchange.
- 48 Farms For Sale.
- 49 Business Opportunities.
- 50 Wanted Real Estate.

AUTOMOTIVE

- 51 Automobile Insurance.
- 52 Auto Laundries—Painting.
- 53 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
- 54 Parts—Service—Repairing.
- 55 Motorcycle—Bicycles.
- 56 Auto Agencies.
- 57 Used Cars For Sale.

PUBLIC SALES

- 58 Auctioneers.
- 59 Auction Sales.

2 Card of Thanks

MRS. JOHN SHIRK wishes to thank her friends for their help in the death of her husband, Mr. John Shirk.

WE WISH to thank our friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral offerings and their kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our beloved daughter and wife, Flora W. Rountree, also to Rev. Hutchinson and Mr. Johnson for the tender manner in which they conducted the services and funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward and family, David G. Rountree.

8 Lost and Found

LOST—Brown female pup, about 6 mo. old. Ans. to name, Tiny, 110 E. 3rd St.

12 Professional Services

ATTENTION FARMERS—20 per cent discount on plow work for limited time only. Hall's Blacksmith Shop, rear of Fetz's Grocery, Xenia, O.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS

IF YOU WANT TO BUY, RENT OR SELL, see us. HARNES AND BALES AGENCY, No. 17 Allen Bldg.

SLAGLE POSTER ADVERTISING

CO. 34 Home Ave. Phone 736-R.

13 Roofing, Plumbing

P.F.E.—Valves and fittings for all purposes. Booklet's line of plumbing and heating supplies are the best. The Booklet-King Co., 415 W. Main St.

18 Commercial Hauling

HAULING DAILY, Dayton to Xenia, Xenia to Wilmington, House to house delivery. Jesse E. Gilbert.

23 Situations Wanted

WANTED—Housework by week. Phone 4099-F-5.

27 Horses—Cattle—Hogs

ONE BIG type Poland-China male hog, Call J. A. Harner, Springfield Valley.

29 Miscellaneous For Sale

GAS RANGE and heater, $5.00. Also $10 rug, $3.00. Phone 1236-R or 27 Maple St.

A Few Cents DO Make a Difference

The few cents, in this instance, paying for your Gazette Classified Rental Ad!

Perhaps you desire to rent that vacant house, but have not reached the right tenant. There's a cheerful Classified Ad-Taker waiting for your call to Main 111 and desirable tenants waiting to read your message.

Everything in Rentals—read and use The Gazette Classified Ads regularly.

The Xenia Gazette

Main 111

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASY PAYMENTS

On any kind of security you have to offer—HOUSEHOLD GOODS, LIVE STOCK or AUTOMOBILES.

AMERICAN LOAN CO.
Steele Bldg. Terms 4 Mo. To 4 Yrs.

29 Miscellaneous For Sale

YOU NEED THEM NOW! Soot Destroyer, stove pipe supplies, furnace and flue brushes, iron and roof cement, patching plaster, Boiler "X" liquid for stopping leaks in heating plants. THE BOOKLET-KING CO., 415 W. Main St. Phone 360.

Used Delco Light Plant

Eichman Electric Shop

30 Musical—Radio

REAL BARGAIN
ONE CROSLLEY TRYODYNE—Cabinet large enough to put "B" batteries in. Complete with tubes, storage battery, "B" batteries and cone speaker—$40.00. M. L. Jenks, Gazette Office.

36 Rooms—Furnished

FURNITURE—And stoves, Mendenhall, N. King St. Phone 735.

38 Houses—Unfurnished

FOR RENT—A 7 room house corner Bellbrook Ave. and Charles St. Also 4 room house on Charles St. Reasonable rent, Engilman, 23 W. Main St.

DESIRABLE 4 room Apt. for rent.

Modern and heat furnished, Dadds Granite Co., 113 W. Main St.

FOR RENT—Four room modern apartment, upstairs, 415 W. Main St. Phone 360.

39 Houses—Furnished

FURNISHED APT., modern, newly papered and painted. Inquire at 230 W. Main St., Xenia Apts. Mrs. Hunt.

43 Houses For Sale

MONEY TO LOAN—ON FARMS, at five per cent interest. Write W. L. Clemans, Cedarville, Ohio.

47 Business Opportunities

MONEY TO LOAN—on farms at 5 per cent. Time up to 35 years See Tom Long, 9 W. Main St.

On The Air

From Cincinnati

WSAI:

7:00—Sinton Orchestra.
8:00—Program.
8:30—Time announcement.
8:31—A. and P. Gypsies, New York.

9:30—General Motors Family

Party, featuring Tito Ruffo, New York.
10:00—Ray Miller's Gibson orchestra.
11:00—Vincent Lopez, New York.

WLW:

7:00—Theirs' Orchestra.
7:30—Aviation chat.
7:40—Theirs' Orchestra.
8:00—Home Fires Program.
8:30—K. I. O. Minstrels.

9:15—Studio feature.

10:00—Weather announcement.
10:01—Theirs' Orchestra.
11:00—Henry Theirs' Orchestra.

WKRC:

6:00—Monte Vista Theater organ.
8:00—Fifth of "Flowers to the Living" program, dedicated to William Cooper Proctor.
10:00—The Captivators.

WFBE:

7:00—Police bulletins.
7:05—Musical program.

HEADS CAMPAIGN

Dean C. G. Shatzer, Wittenberg College, has been appointed general chairman of the district which includes Xenia, Springfield and vicinity for the campaign of the United Lutheran Church to raise a $4,000,000 endowment fund.

He was named at a meeting Sunday of representative pastors of Lutheran Churches of the Springfield district at the Springfield Y. M. C. A. building.

Farm Notes

CORN AND TANKAGE RATION IMPROVED

The Agriculture Experiment Station is constantly searching for better methods that will help improve feeding practices.

The old standard corn and tankage ration has been improved. Here is the new ration that will produce more pork at a lower cost per 100 pounds of feed:

By using fifty pounds of tankage, twenty-five pounds of linseed oil meal and twenty-five pounds of alfalfa meal as the supplement to corn, the rate of gain was increased from .8 pounds to 1.24 pounds a day over just corn and tankage. The cost of grain was fifty-seven cents per 100 pounds less.

We should not overlook the use of minerals, as they are a part of the ration. Add two pounds of the following mineral mixture to each 100 pounds of the supplement feed.

MINERAL MIXTURE

The following mineral mixture has consistently given the best results at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Parts by weights:
2 parts fine ground lime stone;
2 parts bone meal;
1 part salt.

FARM RECORDS

The keeping of simple farm records is the key to a better farm income.

The farmer who keeps a simple but complete record of his farm operation can easily stop the small leaks in his business, eliminate or correct the unprofitable practices and make better use of the profitable phases of his business.

A group of Franklin County farmers have consistently raised their average labor income each year from $887.00 for 1922 to $2,949.00 in 1926, which is a direct result of keeping farm records.

Are you interested in a larger labor income?

Labor income is the amount left the owner for his labor after all expenses are deducted, including taxes, insurance and interest on the investment.

Agent about keeping farm af

Ask your county agricultural agent about keeping farm accounts. It is simple, easy and requires but a few minutes each day.

A beginners school will be held at the farm bureau office January 18. Come in, get an account book and check up on your farm business for 1928.

EARLY ALMANACS TELL STORY OF XENIA BEFORE DAYS OF "STATIC"

Illustrated with quaint etchings, and containing the names of many well identified with the history of Xenia in the past generation, an Almanac, published by The Xenia Torchlight in 1880, is in the possession of Mrs. Charles S. Dean, Xenia, R. 2.

The Almanac was published at the Torchlight offices, 12 W. Main St., and the inside of the cover contains advertisements for J. S. McCampbell, dentist; W. A. Shappee, M. D., the Southern Ohio Mutual Relief Association and the Xenia Planing Mill, with Drees and Thornhill, builders and contractors.

On the following page, the drug and medicine stock of Dr. L. Smith was extolled, including glass shades and wax flower materials. East Lake, Queen Anne and Gothic styles in furniture were advertised by J. and M. Jeffreys. H. Barnes and Co., offered parlor work, as connected with the Jeffreys firm.

The Almanac is illustrated by Darley, Davis, Moran, L. W. Woodward and other celebrated artists of the time. "The Buckeye Force Pump" sold by John P. Martin, through central and southern Ohio, is illustrated combating a fire.

Smart Brothers, coal dealers, are among the advertisers. D. Q. Fox, dealer in groceries and Queensware, invites attention to his stock, and P. A. Day, 21 E. Main St., announced his millinery and fancy goods. Another hardware dealer of the time was James M. Cooper, 16 W. Main St., "headquarters for baby carriages," etc.

Henry Hicks and Son, announced their new room and stock at 44 E. Main St., with illustrations of the "latest" in footwear of that day. Shearer and Bootes, undertakers and embalmers, illustrated their ad, with the much-decorated hearse of that period.

Charles Orr and Co., proprietors of The Xenia Bookstore and Xenia Bindery, carried school supplies, wall paper, music and magazines. The Xenia agency of A. Soward, music dealer, advertised accordions, harps, strings and the best baker in the "known world" was the stove raised in the "ad" of Isaac S. Mowder, 3 S. Detroit St. A. R. Crandall carried a large stock of clothing, he advertised. Other advertisers were W. M. Gatch, photographer, "with Rocky Mountain views" and Frank Foglesong.

BUILDING AND LOAN NAMES DIRECTORS

City Manager S. O. Hale and H. L. Sayre, druggist, were re-elected directors of the People's Building and Savings Co. for terms of three years, at the annual stockholders' meeting for 1928 Saturday. Seven members compose the directorate.

The board of directors will hold its organization meeting Tuesday afternoon.

manufacturer of carriages and buggies.

Months of the year were illustrated with buxom women, girls and boys, with bowdler skirts and trousers, engaged in the sports of the various periods of the year, and scenes through the country completed the publication.

P. A. Wright, W. Third St., has in his possession a "Counting-house Almanac" published by the Torchlight, January 1, 1844. Part of the publication is given over to a poem, written by "a carrier boy" and the remainder includes the eclipses and the months of the year.

COMMERCIAL CLUB AT OSBORN ELECTS OFFICERS AT MEET

Officers of the Osborn Commercial Club, an organization with the aim of betterment of Osborn, were elected at the annual business meeting Friday night. Walter J. Morris was elected president; Paul D. Carlisle, vice-president; Walter M. Moore, secretary-treasurer; J. L. Yost, assistant secretary; and P. C. Massey, Earl Burrows, W. T. Naragon and J. A. Bishop, members of the board of control.

Mr. Moore delivered a short talk on "What Can a City Afford?" in which he discussed rates of taxes, which a city collects during a year in comparison with rates of gas, electricity, and other public utility products.

The opening of Osborn's new postoffice which will be held within the next ten days, was discussed. Postal receipts for Osborn for the last three years have increased fourfold.

The club has undertaken several community projects, including the planting of shrubbery and grass in several plots of land. Committees work on city and school problems and make reports at the regular club meetings.

JIMMY JAMS

WHAT'LL Y'GIMME FOR THIS DANDY PEN-KNIFE? IT'S JUST LIKE GRAY'S NEW AN' IF YOU DON'T OPEN IT NOBODY WILL KNOW THE BLADES IS BUSTED—!

PHRENE SHRIEKS CAUSE DASH

TRENTON, N. J.—Troopers of the Kingston barracks of the state police made a thrilling dash to Burkett's riding academy when a telephone operator notified them that the telephone in the academy had been knocked over and cries had been heard. The police listened in and they, too, heard screams. They rushed to the academy and found it locked, but broke the doors and found that the commotion was caused by a horse that had broken loose and in running about knocked over the phone and bumped into other horses, which screamed.

CAESARCREEK TWP., JUSTICE OF PEACE SUMMONED SUNDAY

William H. Carle, 74, who has served as Caesarcreek Twp., justice of the peace for the last eight years, died at his home on the Wilmington Pike near Middleton's Corner, eight miles from Xenia, at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Death was caused by heart trouble and a complication of diseases. He had been ailing for the last five weeks.

Mr. Carle was born in Adams County July 26, 1853, and had lived in Greene County for the last twenty-three years. He was a member of the K. of P. Lodge at Greenfield, O.

He was married to Eliza Jane Geller July 26, 1878. She survives with the following children: Mrs. William Ary, New Burlington; William O. Springfield, O.; Edward H. Wilmington, and Mrs. Minnie Mussetter and Alonzo Carle, both of near Xenia. One brother, A. J. Greenfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Nannie Geller and Mrs. Belle Jones both of Washington C. H. also survive.

One child died in infancy and another brother, Newton, J., passed away three weeks ago in Springfield.

Decedent was a member of the Eleazer Church from where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The "Cen Sen", high school annual, was the subject of an assembly in Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Friday afternoon.

The heads of the various departments of the annual were speakers and all described fully their part of the work. It was announced that the size of the book will depend entirely upon the number of advance subscriptions received. All students were urged to place their orders in the hands of the business manager as early as possible.

In connection with the "Cen Sen" the advisory council met Friday to discuss with Mr. Gray, of the Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, the possibility of obtaining funds for the annual by procuring subscriptions for magazines. The council took the suggestion under advisement.

The complete staff for the annual has not been chosen, but heads of the various departments have been selected as follows: Lois Street, editor-in-chief; H. E. Schmidt, assistant editor; Ginn McLean, business manager; William North, assistant business manager; Leighow Little, feature editor; Kenneth Priestoe, advertising manager; Gertrude Martin, art editor; and Betty Montague, circulation manager.

The literary and feature departments of the annual are under the supervision of W. C. Boyce. The art department is under the direction of Olive Allen.

East End News

MRS. JAMES HARRIS
Correspondent
TEL. 91-R

Mrs. James R. Pegg of Chicago, is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKnight and other relatives.

Mrs. Nettie Lee, E. Second St., is confined indoors with the grip. Mrs. Nancy Holten, E. Church St., is very ill at her home.

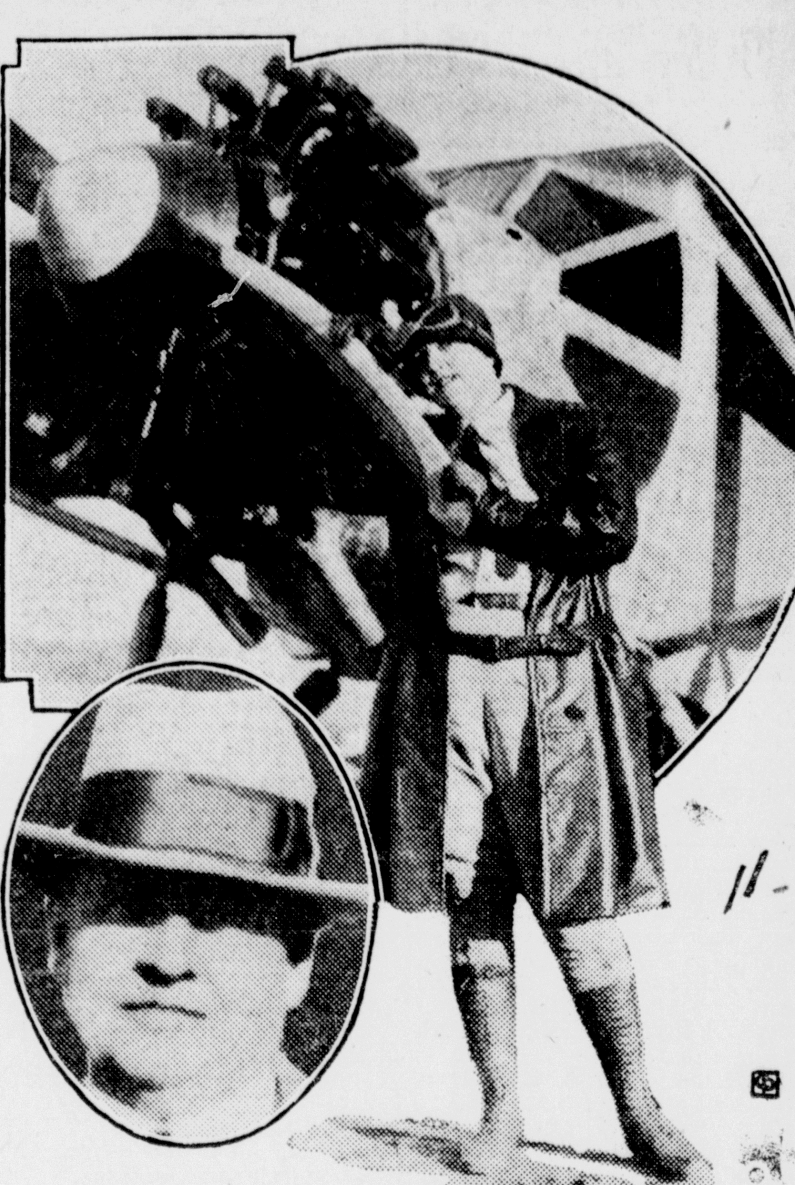

Mrs. Elizabeth Simms, E. Church St., who underwent a serious operation last week in the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, is somewhat improved.

Miss Mattie A. Thomas and her grandmother, Mrs. Joanna Payne, E. Main St., have returned from a very pleasant visit during the holidays with relatives in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Little Louise Dooley and brother Lowell, E. Market St., are each on this sick list.

Mr. Lawrence Raymond, E. Second St., left last Thursday for Louisville, Ky., to resume his studies at the Simmons University after spending the holiday vacation with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Raymond.

TRAINS FOR ATLANTIC ATTEMPT

Evelyn Rosencrantz and, inset, backer of the proposed flight, William E. Riker

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Gazette

HOLY CITY, Cal., Jan. 9.—From Holy City to the Eternal City in two jumps!

That, aviation fans, Evelyn Rosencrantz will attempt.

Now this aviatrix does not claim to be a finished flyer. In fact, she admits that she doesn't know the first rudiments of aerial navigation. Nor is she an expert pilot. But she will try to fly from California, to Washington, thence to Rome, Italy.

She ordered a monoplane specified to duplicate Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis.

Two Pilot Seats
The new monoplane will be christened, The Spirit of Holy City Love, and will be capable of carrying two pilot seats.

William E. Riker, who founded the Holy City, in the Santa Cruz mountains of California, furnished the money to buy the new Spirit, paying $15,000 for it.

Before the graceful monoplane is completed, on March 20, the aviatrix plans to engage in "intensive" training at San Diego in preparation for the hop.

Part of her training will be physical, for she hopes (she announces) to crack the world's sustained flight record. Her setting for this will be the entire United States, or at least that part of it she would traverse between California and Washington, D. C.

Remain Aloft Over Potomac
She would rise from Holy City, fly direct to the nation's capital, then remain aloft over the Potomac until more than fifty-two hours had passed, or whatever time the endurance record is then.

Who will be the "other man" in the plane? It is announced Mrs. Rosencrantz will fly alone. But airmen remark that the monoplane will have places for two persons.

The aviatrix admits thirty-seven years. She was born in London, England. She did her first flying under tutelage of D. W. Fraser, at San Francisco and later conducted a flying school there.

FIFTEEN CHILDREN ADMITTED TO HOME

Fifteen children were admitted to the O. S. and S. O. Home, by the board of trustees at the monthly meeting at the Home, Saturday.

Other business taken up by the board was only of a routine nature. Plans are going forward for the new hospital at the institution.

The consent of all members of the Volunteer Medical Staff is being obtained and after all have been interviewed the architect will begin his detail plan of the hospital.

Bids will be advertised in March. It is believed, and construction will begin about April 1.

KIND WOMAN TOO GENEROUS

KENOSHA, Wis.—A well-dressed woman entered a shoe store with a shabbily dressed newsboy shivering with the cold. The woman asked the clerk to fit the boy with a pair of shoes and throw away the torn tennis shoes that he wore. "I can't bear to see that boy suffer in the cold," she said. The shoes cost $4. The woman offered a check for $24.50 and received $20.50 in change. She gave the newsboy the 50 cents and left while store attendants marveled at the kindness of the woman. Next day the check came back marked "no such account."

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE CITIZEN'S NATIONAL BANK

at Xenia, in the State of Ohio, at the close of business, on December 31, 1927.

Charter No. 2575 Reserve District No. 4

Loans and discounts including rediscounts, acceptance of other banks, and foreign bills of exchange or drafts, sold with indorsement of this bank

Total loans and discounts owned

Overdrafts, unsecured circulation (U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation)

All other (United States Government securities (including premiums, if any))

Other bonds, stocks, real estate, furniture and fixtures, $2,000.00

Lawful reserve with Federal Reserve Bank, cash in vault and amount due from national banks

Amount due from State banks, bankers, and trust companies in the United States

Exchanges for clearing house

Miscellaneous cash items

Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer and due from U. S. Treasurer

Total

Capital stock paid in

Surplus fund

Undivided profits

Circulating notes outstanding

Certified checks outstanding

Individual deposits subject to check

Certificates of deposit due in less than 30 days (other than for money borrowed)

Deposits subject to Reserve

PHONE

111

ASK FOR CLASSIFIED
AD TAKER

Gazette Want Ads Get Results

Want Ads Taken Until 9:30 A. M. For Publication the Same Day.
Gazette Classified Ads Are Read For Profit—Used For Results.

PHONE

111

ASK FOR CLASSIFIED
AD TAKER

Sell - Rent or Buy "The Gazette Classified Way"

Classified Advertising

THE GAZETTE IS THE MEDIUM

through which the general public can always have its wants supplied.

THE GAZETTE will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement.

Notice of errors, typographical or otherwise, must be given in time for correction before next insertion.

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification style and type. THE GAZETTE reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement.

Closing time for classified advertisement for publication the same day is 9:30 a. m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- 1 Death Notices.
- 2 Card of Thanks.
- 3 In Memoriam.
- 4 Florida, Monuments.
- 5 Taxi Service.
- 6 Notices, Meetings.
- 7 Personal.
- 8 Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

- 9 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering.
- 10 Dressmaking, Millinery.
- 11 Beauty Culture.
- 12 Professional Services.
- 13 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
- 14 Electricians, Wiring.
- 15 Building, Contracting.
- 16 Painting, Papering.
- 17 Repainting, Refinishing.
- 18 Commercial Hauling, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

- 19 Help Wanted—Male.
- 20 Help Wanted—Female.
- 21 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
- 22 Help Wanted—Agents—Salesmen.
- 23 Situations Wanted.
- 24 Help Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

- 25 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
- 26 Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
- 27 Horses—Cattle—Hogs.

MISCELLANEOUS

- 28 Wanted To Buy.
- 29 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 30 Musical Instruments—Radio.
- 31 Household Goods.
- 32 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
- 33 Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

- 34 Where To Eat.
- 35 Rooms—With Board.
- 36 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
- 37 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
- 38 Houses—Flats—Unfurnished.
- 39 Houses—Flats—Furnished.
- 40 Office and Desk Rooms.
- 41 Miscellaneous For Rent.
- 42 Wanted To Rent.

REAL ESTATE

- 43 Houses For Sale.
- 44 Lots For Sale.
- 45 Real Estate For Exchange.
- 46 Farms For Sale.
- 47 Business Opportunities.
- 48 Wanted Real Estate.

AUTOMOTIVE

- 49 Automobile Insurance.
- 50 Auto Laundries—Painting.
- 51 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
- 52 Parts—Service—Repairing.
- 53 Motorcycle—Bicycles.
- 54 Auto Agencies.
- 55 Used Cars For Sale.
- 56 Auctioneers.
- 57 Auction Sales.

PUBLIC SALES

- 58 Auction Sales.

2 Card of Thanks

MRS. JOHN SHIRK wishes to thank her friends for their help in the death of her husband, Mr. John Shirk.

WE WISH to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our beloved daughter and wife, Flora W. Rountree. Also to Rev. Hutchinson and Mr. Johnson for the tender manner in which they conducted the services and funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward and family, David G. Rountree.

8 Lost and Found

LOST—Brown female pup, about 6 mo. old. Ans. to name, Tiny, 110 E. 3rd St.

12 Professional Services

ATTENTION FARMERS—20 per cent discount on plow work for limited time only. Hall's Blacksmith Shop, rear of Pet's Grocery, Xenia, O.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS

IF YOU WANT TO BUY, RENT OR SELL, see us. HARNES AND BUEG AGENCY, No. 17 Allen Bldg.

SLAGLE POSTER ADVERTISING

CO. 94 Howe Ave. Phone 786-R.

13 Roofing, Plumbing

FIRE—Valves and fittings for all purposes. Booklets line of plumbing and heating supplies are the best. The Booklet-King Co., 415 W. Main St.

18 Commercial Hauling

HAULING DAILY, Dayton to Xenia, Xenia to Wilmington, House to house delivery. Jesse E. Gilbert.

23 Situations Wanted

WANTED—Housework by week, Phone 4099-P-5.

27 Horses—Cattle—Hogs

ONE BIG type Poland-China male hog, Call J. A. Harner, Springfield Valley.

29 Miscellaneous For Sale

GAS RANGE and heater, $5.00. Also 8x10 rug, $3.00. Phone 1236-R or 27 Maple St.

FOR SALE—Farm sleds, either wood or steel shoes. Frank Weaver, Phone 4056-F-5.

A Few Cents DO Make a Difference

The few cents, in this instance, paying for your Gazette Classified Rental Ad!

Perhaps you desire to rent that vacant house, but have not reached the right tenant. There's a cheerful Classified Ad-Taker waiting for your call to Main 111 and desirable tenants waiting to read your message.

Everything in Rentals—read and use The Gazette Classified Ads regularly.

The Xenia Gazette

Main 111

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASY PAYMENTS

On any kind of security you have to offer—HOUSEHOLD GOODS, LIVE STOCK or AUTOMOBILES.

AMERICAN LOAN CO.

Steele Bldg. Terms 4 Mo. To 4 Yrs.

29 Miscellaneous For Sale

YOU NEED THEM NOW! Soot Destroyer, stove pipe supplies, furnace and flue brushes, iron and roof cement, patching plaster, Boiler "X" liquid for stopping leaks in heating plants, THE BOOKLET-KING CO., 415 W. Main St. Phone 260.

Used Delco Light Plant

Eichman Electric Shop

30 Musical—Radio

REAL BARGAIN! ONE CROSLLEY TYPEDRONE—Cabinet large enough to put "B" batteries in. Complete with tubes, storage battery, "B" batteries and cone speaker—$40.00. M. L. Jenks, Gazette Office.

36 Rooms—Furnished

FURNITURE—And stoves, Mendenhall, N. King St. Phone 725.

38 Houses—Unfurnished

FOR RENT—A 7 room house corner Bellbrook Ave. and Charles St. Also 4 room house on Charles St. Reasonable rent, Engelman, 23 W. Main St.

DESIRABLE 4 room Apt. for rent, Modern and heat furnished. Douds Granite Co., 113 W. Main St.

FOR RENT—Four room modern apartment, upstairs, 415 W. Main St. Phone 260.

39 Houses—Furnished

FURNISHED APT., modern, newly papered and painted. Inquire at 230 W. Main St., Xenia Apts. Mrs. Hunt.

43 Houses For Sale

MONEY TO LOAN—ON FARMS, at five per cent interest. Write W. L. Clemens, Cedarville, Ohio.

47 Business Opportunities

MONEY TO LOAN—on farms at 5 per cent. Time up to 35 years. See Tom Long, 9 W. Main St.

On The Air From Cincinnati

W.S.A.: 7:00—Sinton Orchestra.

8:00—Program.

8:30—Time announcement.

8:31—A. and P. Gypsies, New York.

9:30—General Motors Family Party, featuring Tito Ruffo, New York.

10:30—Ray Miller's Gibson orchestra.

11:00—Vincent Lopez, New York.

W.L.W.: 7:00—Theirs' Orchestra.

7:30—Aviation chat.

7:40—Theirs' Orchestra.

8:00—Home Fires Program.

8:30—K. I. O. Minstrels.

9:15—Studio feature.

10:00—Weather announcement.

10:01—Theirs' Orchestra.

11:00—Henry Theirs' Orchestra.

W.K.R.: 6:00—Monte Vista Theater organ.

8:00—Fifth of "Flowers to the Living" program, dedicated to William Cooper Proctor.

10:00—The Captivators.

W.F.B.: 7:00—Police bulletins.

7:05—Musical program.

HEADS CAMPAIGN

Dean C. G. Shatzer, Wittenberg College, has been appointed general chairman of the district which includes Xenia, Springfield and vicinity for the campaign of the United Lutheran Church to raise a $4,000,000 endowment fund.

He was named at a meeting Sunday of representative pastors of the Lutheran Churches of the Springfield district at the Springfield Y. M. A. building.

Farm Notes

CORN AND TANKAGE RATION IMPROVED

The Agricultural Experiment Station is constantly searching for better methods that will help improve feeding practices.

The old standard corn and tankage ration has been improved. Here is the new ration that will produce more pork at a lower cost per 100 pounds of feed:

By using fifty pounds of tankage, twenty-five pounds of linseed oil meal and twenty-five pounds of alfalfa meal as the supplement to corn, the rate of gain was increased from 8 pounds to 1.24 pounds a day over just corn and tankage. The cost of grain was fifty-seven cents per 100 pounds less.

We should not overlook the use of minerals, as they are a part of the ration. Add two pounds of the following mineral mixture to each 100 pounds of the supplement feed.

MINERAL MIXTURE

The following mineral mixture has consistently given the best results at the Ohio Experiment Station:

Parts by weights:
2 parts fine ground lime stone;
2 parts bone meal;
1 part salt.

FARM RECORDS

The keeping of simple farm records is the key to a better farm income.

The farmer who keeps a simple but complete record of his farm operation can easily stop the small leaks in his business, eliminate or correct the unprofitable practices and make better use of the profitable phases of his business.

A group of Franklin County farmers have consistently raised their average labor income each year from $85.00 for 1922 to $22,949.00 in 1925, which is a direct result of keeping farm records.

Are you interested in a larger labor income?

Labor income is the amount left the owner for his labor after all expenses are deducted, including taxes, insurance and interest on the investment.

Agent about keeping farm records.

Ask your county agricultural agent about keeping farm accounts.

It is simple, easy and requires but a few minutes each day.

A beginners school will be held at the farm bureau office January 18. Come in, get an account book and check up on your farm business for 1928.

EARLY ALMANACS TELL STORY OF XENIA BEFORE DAYS OF "STATIC"

Illustrated with quaint etchings, and containing the names of many well identified with the history of Xenia in the past generation, an Almanac, published by The Xenia Torchlight in 1880, is in the possession of Mrs. Charles S. Dean, Xenia, R. 2.

The Almanac was published at the Torchlight offices, 12 W. Main St., and the inside of the cover contains advertisements for J. S. McCampbell, dentist; W. A. Shappee, M. D., the Southern Ohio Mutual Relief Association and the Xenia Planning Mill, with Drees and Thornhill, builders and contractors.

On the following page, the drug and medicine stock of Dr. L. Smith was extolled, including glass shades and wax flower materials. East Lake, Queen Anne and Gothic styles in furniture were advertised by J. and M. Jeffreys. H. Barnes and Co. offered parlor furniture, and mattress repair work, as connected with the Jeffreys firm.

The Almanac is illustrated by Darley, Davis, Moran, H. W. Woodward and other celebrated artists of the time. "The Buckeye Force Pump" sold by John P. Martin, through central and southern Ohio, is illustrated combating a fire.

Smart Brothers, coal dealers, are among the advertisers. D. Q. Fox, dealer in groceries and Queensware, invites attention to his stock, and P. A. Day, 21 E. Main St., announced his millinery and fancy goods. Another hardware dealer of the time was James M. Cooper, 16 W. Main St., "headquarters for baby carriages," etc.

Henry Hicks and Son, announced their new room and stock at 44 E. Main St., with illustrations of the "latest" in footwear of that day. Shearer and Bootes, undertakers and embalmers, illustrated their ad, with the much-decorated hearse of that period.

Charles Orr and Co., proprietors of The Xenia Bookstore and Xenia Bindery, carried school supplies, wall paper, music and magazines. The Xenia agency of A. Soward, music dealer, advertised accordions, harps, strings and clarinets.

"Old Reliable, the best baker in the known world" was the stove praised in the "ad" of Isaac S. Mowrer, 3 S. Detroit St. A. R. Crandall carried a large stock of clothing, he advertised. Other advertisers were W. M. Gatch, photographer, "with Rocky Mountain views" and Frank Foglelong.

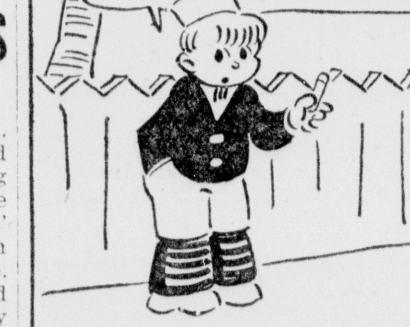

BUILDING AND LOAN NAMES DIRECTORS

City Manager S. O. Hale and H. L. Sayre, druggist, were elected directors of the People's Building and Savings Co., for terms of three years, at the annual stockholders' meeting for 1928 Saturday. Seven members compose the directorate.

The board of directors will hold its organization meeting Tuesday afternoon.

JIMMY JAMS

WHAT'LL GIMME FOR THIS DANDY PEN-KNIFE? IT'S JUST LIKE BRAND NEW, AN' IF YOU DON'T OPEN IT NODODY WILL KNOW THE BLADES IS BUSTED!

CAESARCREEK TWP., JUSTICE OF PEACE SUMMONED SUNDAY

William H. Carle, 74, who has served as Caesarcreek Twp., justice of the peace for the last eight years, died at his home on the Wilmington Pike near Middleton's Corner, eight miles from Xenia, at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Death was caused by heart trouble and a complication of diseases. He had been ailing for the last five weeks.

Mr. Carle was born in Adams County July 3, 1853, and had lived in Greene County for the last twenty-three years. He was a member of the K. of P. Lodge at Greenfield, O.

He was married to Eliza Jane Geller July 26, 1878. She survives with the following children: Mrs. William A. Ary, New Burlington; William O. Springfield, O.; Edward H. Wilmington, and Mrs. Minnie Mussetter and Alonzo Carle, both of near Xenia. One brother, A. J. Greenfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Nannie Geller and Mrs. Belle Jones both of Washington C. H. also survive.

One child died in infancy and another brother, Newton, J., passed away three weeks ago in Springfield.

Decedent was a member of the Eleazer Church from where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The "Cen Sen", high school annual, was the subject of an assembly in Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Friday afternoon.

The heads of the various departments and all described fully their part of the work. It was announced that the size of the book will depend entirely upon the number of advance subscriptions received. All students were urged to place their orders in the hands of the business manager as early as possible.

In connection with the "Cen Sen" the advisory council met Friday to discuss with Mr. Gray, of the Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, the possibility of obtaining funds for the annual by procuring subscriptions for magazines. The council took the suggestion under advisement.

The complete staff for the annual has not been chosen, but heads of the various departments have been selected as follows:

Lois Street, editor-in-chief; H. E. Schmidt, assistant editor; Ginn McClain, business manager; William North, assistant business manager; Leigh Little, feature editor; Kenneth Kristof, advertising manager; Gertrude Martin, art editor; and Betty Montague, circulation manager.

The literary and feature departments of the annual are under the supervision of W. C. Boyce. The art department is under the direction of Olive Allen.

East End News

MRS. JAMES HARRIS

Correspondent

TEL. 91-R

Mrs. James R. Pegg of Chicago, is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKnight and other relatives.

Mrs. Nettie Lee, E. Second St., is confined indoors with the grip. Mrs. Nancy Holten, E. Church St., is very ill at her home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Simms, E. Church St., who underwent a serious operation last week in the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, is somewhat improved.

Miss Mattie A. Thomas and her grandmother, Mrs. Joanna Payne, E. Main St., have returned from a very pleasant visit during the holidays with relatives in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

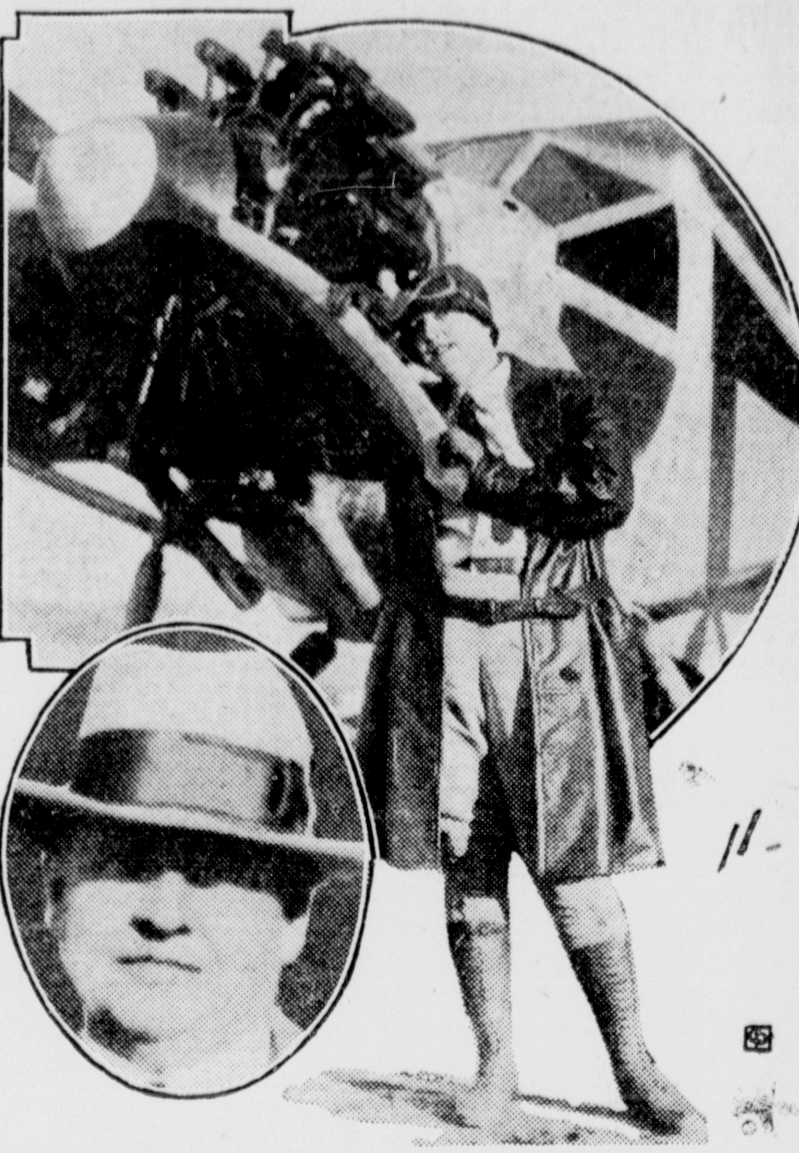

Little Louise Dooley and brother Lowell, E. Market St., are each on the sick list.

Mr. Lawrence Raymond, E. Second St., left last Thursday for Louisville, Ky., to resume his studies at the Simmons University after spending the holiday vacation with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Raymond.

PHONE SHRIEKS CAUSE DASH

TRENTON, N. J.—Troopers of the Kingston barracks of the state police made a thrilling dash to Burkett's riding academy when a telephone operator notified them that the telephone in the academy had been knocked over and cries had been heard. The police listened in and they too heard screams. They rushed to the academy and found it locked, but broke the doors and found that the commotion was caused by a horse that had broken loose and in running about knocked over the phone and burst into other horses, which screamed.

TRAINS FOR ATLANTIC ATTEMPT

Evelyn Rosencrantz and, inset, backer of the proposed flight, William E. Riker

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Gazette
HOLY CITY, Cal., Jan. 9.—From Holy City to the Eternal City in two jumps!

That, aviation fans, Evelyn Rosencrantz will attempt.

Now this aviatrix does not claim to be a finished flyer. In fact, she admits that she doesn't know the first rudiments of aerial navigation. Nor is she an expert pilot. But she will try to fly from California, to Washington, thence to Rome, Italy.

She ordered a monoplane specified to duplicate Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis.

Two Pilot Seats

The new monoplane will be christened The Spirit of Holy City, and will be capable of carrying two pilot seats.

William E. Riker, who founded the Holy City, in the Santa Cruz mountains of California, furnished the money to buy the new Spirit, paying $15,000 for it.

Before the graceful monoplane is completed, on March 20, the aviatrix plans to engage in "intensive" training at San Diego in preparation for the hop.

Part of her training will be physical, for she hopes (she announces) to crack the world's sustained flight record. Her setting for this will be the entire United States, or at least that part of it one would traverse between California and Washington, D. C.

Remain Aloft Over Potomac
She would rise from Holy City, fly direct to the nation's capital, then remain aloft over the Potomac until more than fifty-two hours had passed, or whatever time the endurance record is then.

Who will be the "other man" in the plane? It is announced Mrs. Rosencrantz will fly alone. But all store attendants marveled at the kindness of the woman. Next day will have places for two persons.

The aviatrix admits thirty-seven years. She was born in London, England. She did her first flying under tutelage of D. W. Fraser, at San Francisco and later conducted a flying school there.

FIFTEEN CHILDREN ADMITTED TO HOME

Fifteen children were admitted to the O. S. and S. O. Home, by the board of trustees at the monthly meeting at the Home, Saturday.

Other business taken up by the board was only of a routine nature. Plans are going forward for the new hospital at the institution. The consent of all members of the Volunteer Medical Staff is being obtained and after all have been interviewed the architect will begin his detail plan of the hospital.

Bids will be advertised in March, it is believed, and construction will begin about April 1.

KIND WOMAN TOO GENEROUS

KENOSHA, Wis.—A well-dressed woman entered a shoe store with a shabbily dressed newsboy shivering with the cold. The woman asked the clerk to fit the boy with a pair of shoes and throw away the torn tennis shoes that he wore. "I can't bear to see that boy suffer in the cold," she said. The shoes cost $4. The woman offered a check for $24.50 and received $20.50 in change. She gave the newsboy the 50 cents and left while store attendants marveled at the kindness of the woman. Next day the check came back marked "no such account."

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE CITIZEN'S NATIONAL BANK

at Xenia, in the State of Ohio, at the close of business, on December 31, 1927.

Charter No. 2575 Reserve District No. 4

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts including rediscounts of other banks, and foreign bills of exchange or drafts, sold with indorsement of this bank $385,071.40

Total loans $385,071.40

Overdrafts, unsecured $150.52

U. S. government securities $90,000.00

Deposited to secure circulation (U. S. bonds par value) $90,000.00

Other United States Government securities (including premiums, if any) $64,500.00

Total $540,161.92

Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc. $158,800.00

Total $698,961.92

Banking House, $28,000.00; Furniture and fixtures, $2,000.00; Total $30,000.00

Lawful reserve with Federal Reserve Bank $7,111.23

Cash in vault and amount due from national banks $42,336.34

Amount

The Theater

In April Charles Chaplin is to begin work on his proposed screen biography of Napoleon. Two months before that he will start work on his next comedy "Nowhere." After "Napoleon," the noted comic will make another humorous piece. In other words, Charlie Chaplin is getting down to work. And it's great news for the motion picture public. For the time being at least, romance seems to be a dead issue in the life of Chaplin. Shorn, by the divorce courts, of his latest wife, Charlie is plunging into work with Suzanne Caubet Wilbur, actress and niece of the late Sarah Bernhardt, was granted a divorce in superior court, Chicago, last Friday from Crane Wilbur, actor, whom she charged with cruelty. They were married April 3, 1922 and separated September 3, 1927. She resumed her maiden name.

Twenty Years '07 - Ago - '27

Clarence Schlichtz, mayor of Yellow Springs, is a candidate for the Republican nomination and election to congress from the Sixth District.

Mr. Harry Spencer, transfer man, sold his business to Clark Poland and Joseph Rudnicks and plans to go to Texas for a period of six months. Springfield sent thirty-two prisoners to the Xenia work house in December, the second largest number ever committed here in one month.

The cement cellar and foundation of the house W. G. Harrington is having erected on N. King St., is now complete.

The Gabbs

By Barrie Payne

JANE SMITH IS HAVING A TERRIBLE TIME WITH HER HUSBAND - JANE TOLD ETHEL DRITT AND ETHEL TOLD SOPHIE AND SOPHIE TOLD ME

HE'S A SOMNABULIST. I THOUGHT HE WAS A PRESBYTERIAN!

DON'T BE SILLY - HE WALKS IN HIS SLEEP - THAT'S WHAT I MEAN. FINE - THAT'S WHAT I CALL EFFICIENCY - HE SAVES A LOT OF TIME BY WALKING IN HIS SLEEP.

HOW? HE GETS HIS REST AND EXERCISE AT THE SAME TIME!

Calendar Of Events

(Notices of coming events in social or fraternal circles, lodge meetings, club gatherings or benefits will be published in this column free of charge. Phone notices not more than ten days preceding the event itself.)

MONDAY, JANUARY 9:
Unity Center every Monday.
Xenia S. R. O.
Modern Woodmen.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 9:
Obedient Council D. of A.
Kiwanis
Xenia I. O. O. F.
Rotary
O. E. S.
Chicken Supper, Trinity M. E. Church, 6:15 p. m. Public welcome.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11:
Church Prayer Meetings.
Jr. O. U. A. M.
L. O. O. M.
Ivanhoe Lodge, K. of P.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 12:
W. R. C.
Red Men.
W. R. C.
P. of X. D. of A.
Rebekahs

FRIDAY, JANUARY 13:
Eagles

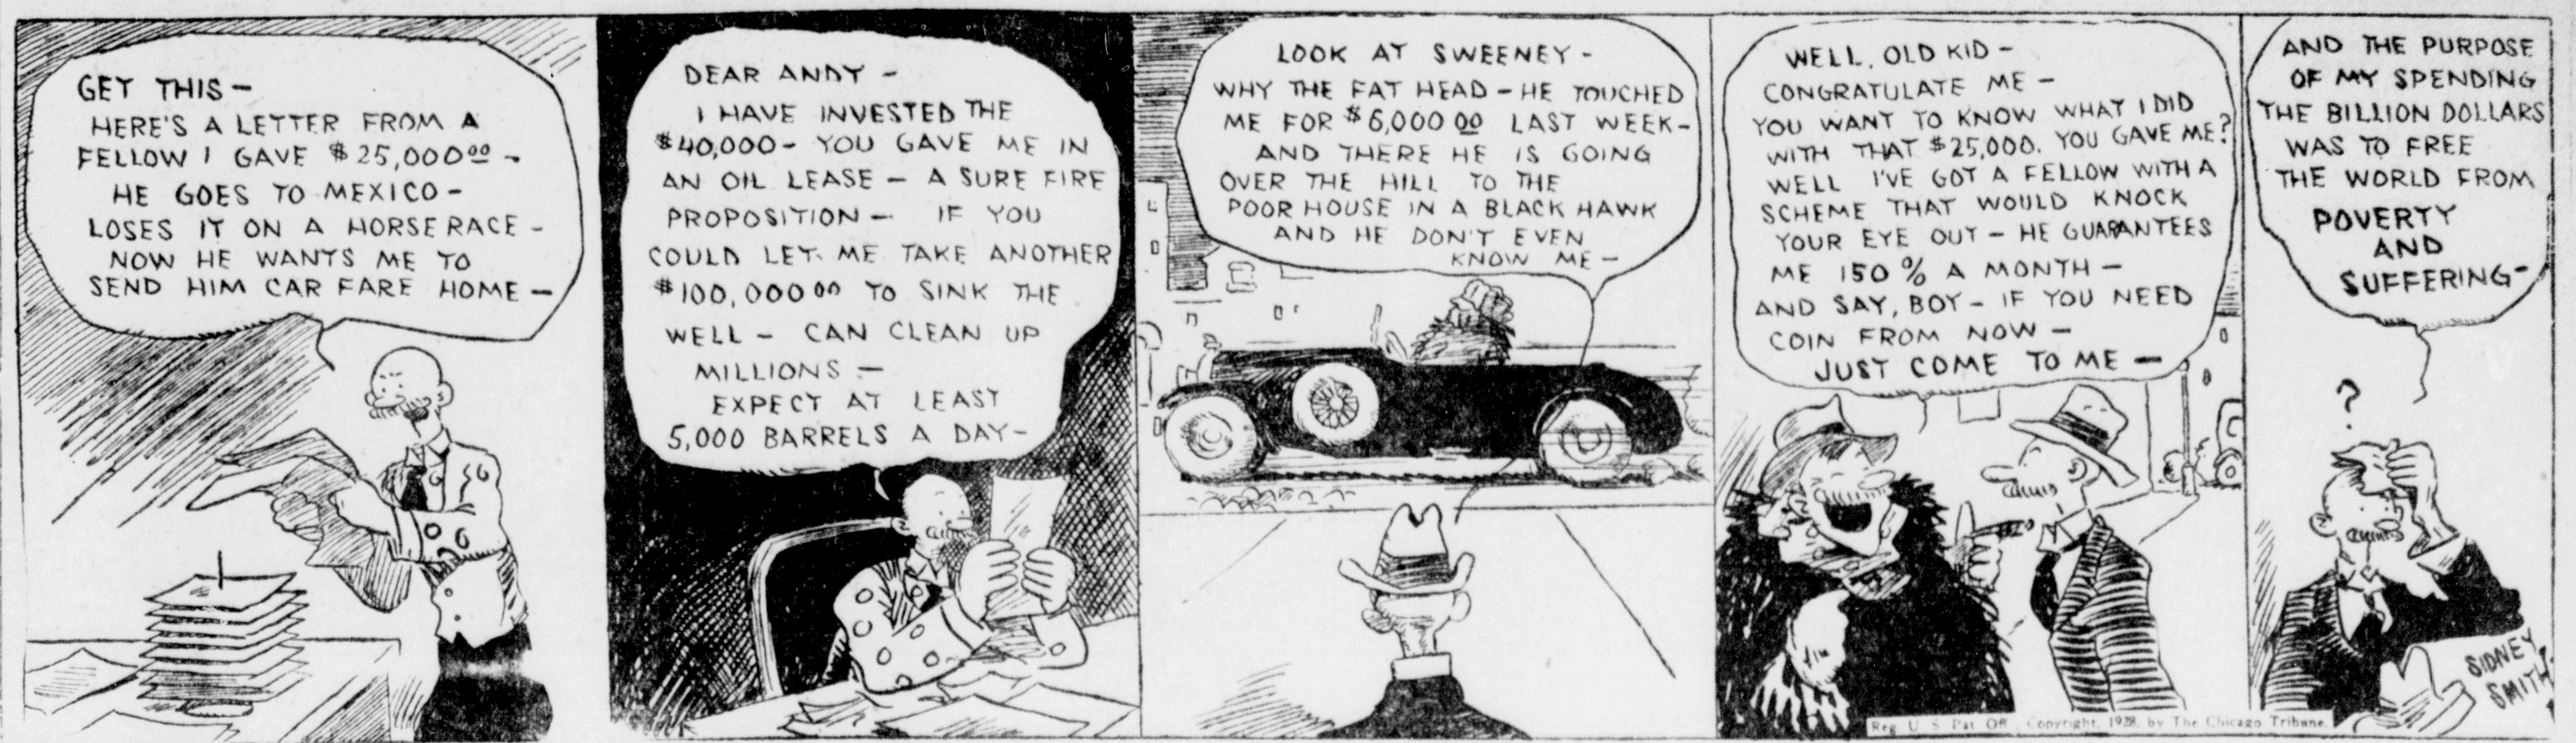

SATURDAY, JAN. 14:
G. A. R.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

"Imagine—a man with a heart of gold—and single!"

"Get busy—stake out your claim!"

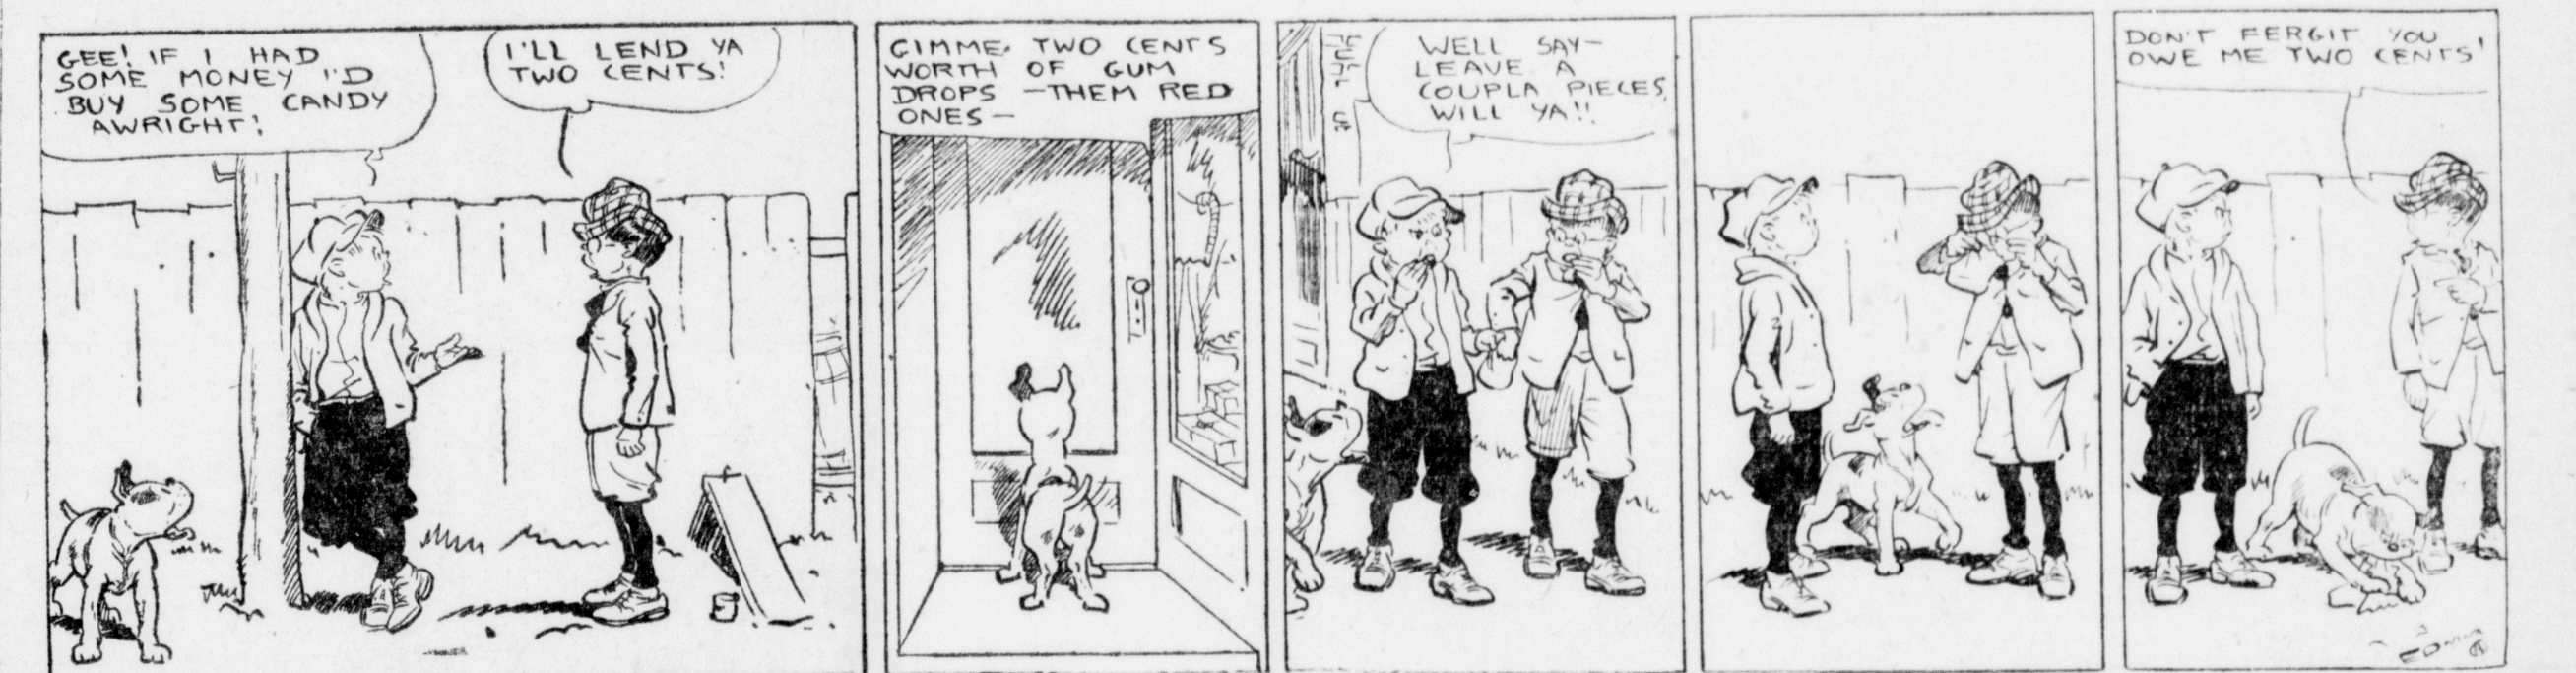

THE GUMPS—A Skin They Love to Touch.

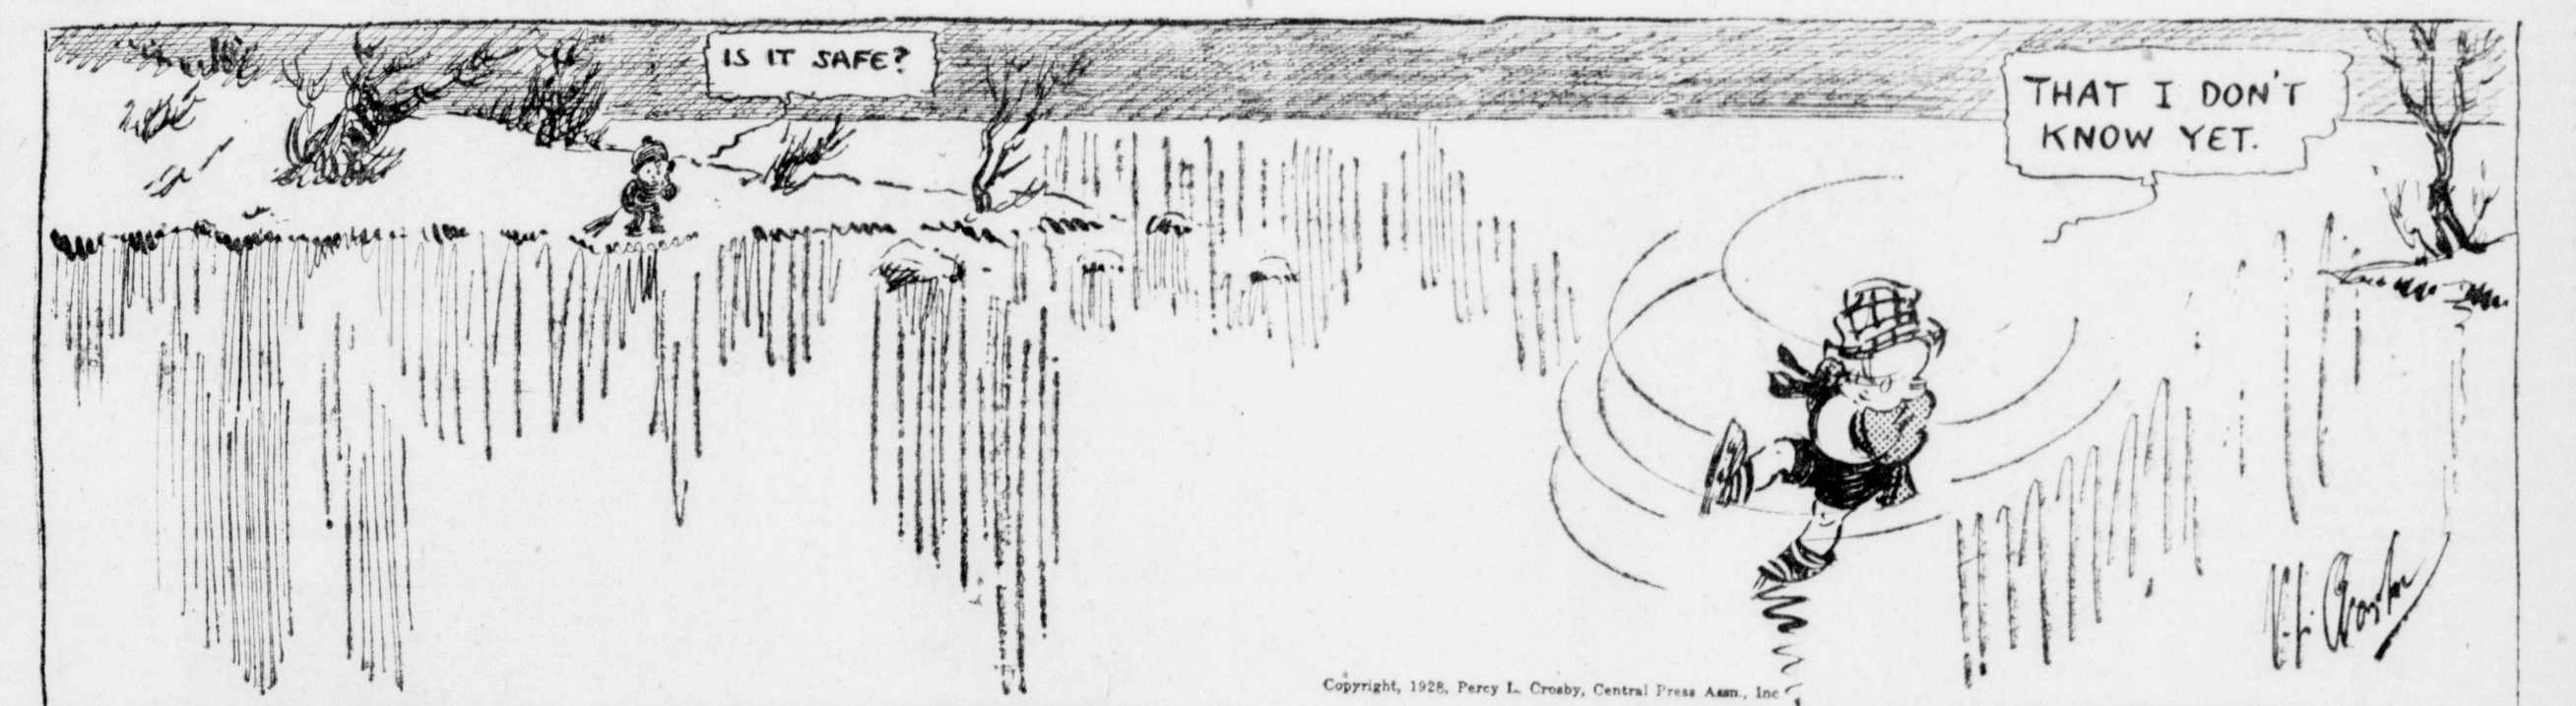

ETTA KETT—That's Gratitude for You!

"CAP" STUBBS—A Fine Chance He'll Have To Forget!!

"SHIRTY"

HIGH PRESSURE PETE—Leave It To Pete

GOOFEY MOVIES

—AND IT WAS YOU KNOCKING AT THE DOOR ALL THIS TIME INSTEAD OF CHARLEY??

ONE HOUR LATER—

—AN' HOW DID YOUR CLOTHING CATCH ON FIRE—

THEY BURST INTO FLAMES FROM DANCING THE BLACK BOTTOM TOO HOT!!

MY HOT DOG

UH—HUH!

ANNA SWIFT AND ALICE ROSENTHAL OF GALVESTON, TEXAS, SUGGESTED THE SCENARIO FOR "CHANCE LOVE" WASN'T IT GREAT!

MAIL YOURS TO GOOFEY MOVIES % THIS PAPER.

GET A PICTURE OF YOUR FAVORITE GOOFEY MOVIE - STAR -

MAIL A TWO CENT STAMP TO GOOFEY MOVIES, IN CARE OF THIS PAPER.

The Theater

In April Charles Chaplin is to begin work on his proposed screen biography of Napoleon. Two months before that he will start work on his next comedy "Nowhere." After "Napoleon," the noted comic will make another humorous piece. In other words, Charlie Chaplin is getting down to work. And it's great news for the motion picture public. For the time being at least, romance seems to be a dead issue in the life of Chaplin. Shorn, by the divorce courts, of his latest wife, Charlie is plunging into work with a seat that he failed to show during the last five years.

A tip from our Hollywood representative has it that Vilma Banky soon will be given starring parts all by her little lonesome. Heretofore she has been co-starred with Ronald Colman.

Up to 1925 Chaplin, after achieving his great fame, seemed content to make about one film a year. All that is now past. The current year will see him producing three pictures and probably four reaching the public. "The Circus" has already bowed its way in. "Napoleon" (tentative title) will be produced and directed by Chaplin, just as he did "Woman of Paris" of some years back.

John Van Druten, author of "Young Woodley" which attracted international attention both as a book and a play for Glenn Hunter, has written another play. The new play, "Diversion" will be presented at the Forty-ninth St. Theater, New York next Wednesday. The play tells of a boy a little older than

Calendar Of Events

(Notices of coming events in social or fraternal circles, lodge meetings, club gatherings or benefits will be published in this column free of charge. Phone notices not more than ten days preceding the event itself.)

- MONDAY, JANUARY 9:
Unity Center every Monday.
Xenia S. R. O.
Modern Woodmen.
- TUESDAY, JANUARY 9:
Obedient Council D. of A.
Kiwanis
Xenia I. O. O. F.
Rotary
O. E. S.
Chicken Supper, Trinity M. E. Church, 6:15 p. m. Public welcome.
- WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11:
Church Prayer Meetings.
Jr. O. U. A. M.
L. O. O. M.
Ivanhoe Lodge, K. of P.
- THURSDAY, JANUARY 12:
W. R. C.
Red Men.
W. R. C. of A. of A.
Rebekahs
- FRIDAY, JANUARY 13:
Eagles.
- SATURDAY, JAN. 14:
G. A. R.

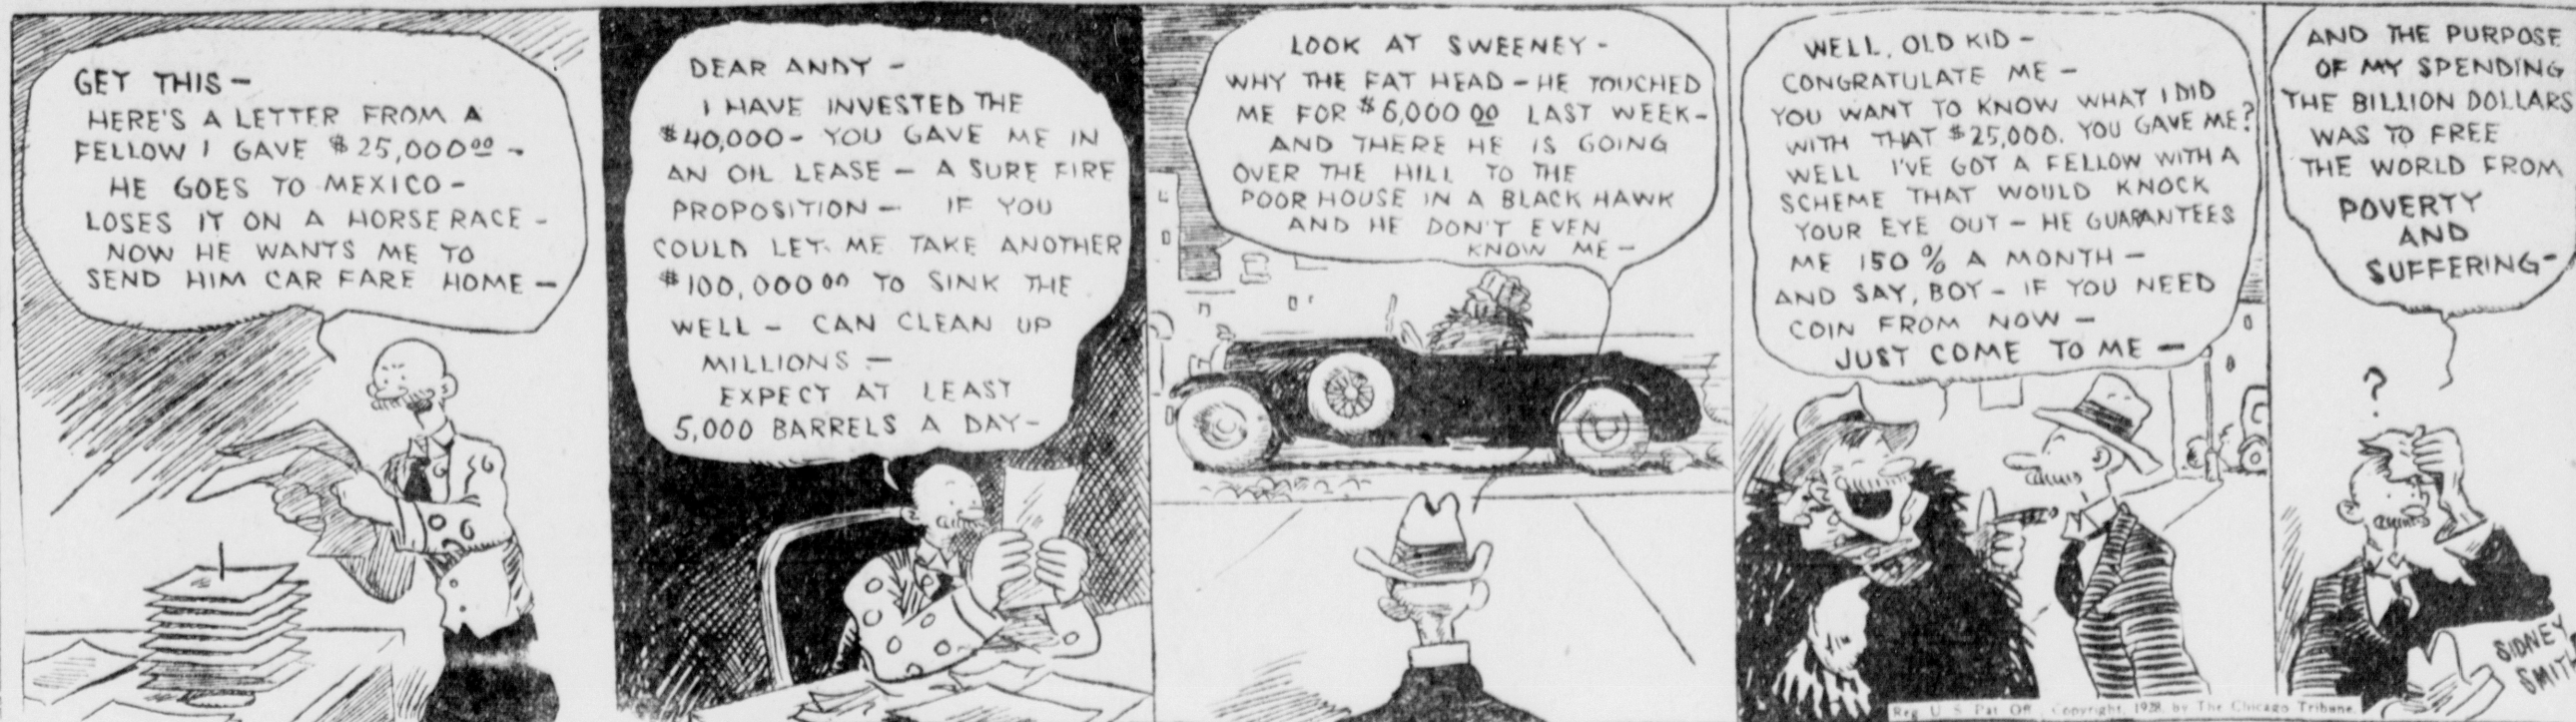

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

"Imagine—a man with a heart of gold—and single."
"Get busy—stake out your claim!"

Paul Robinson

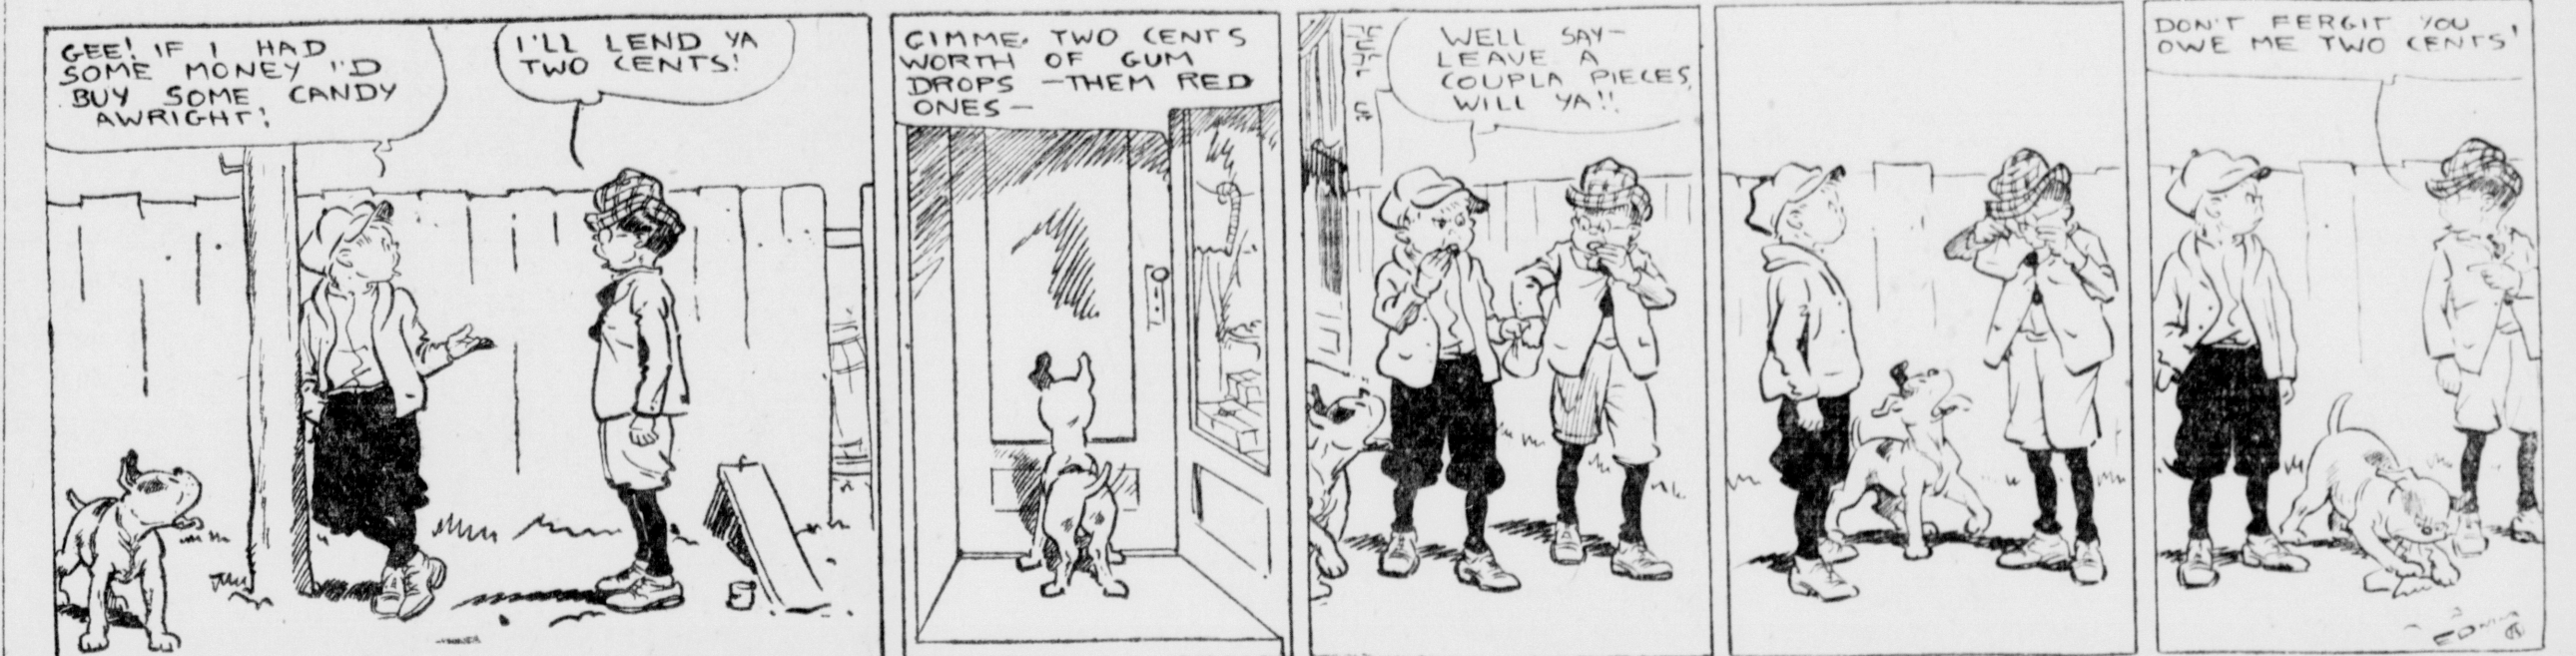

THE GUMPS—A Skin They Love to Touch.

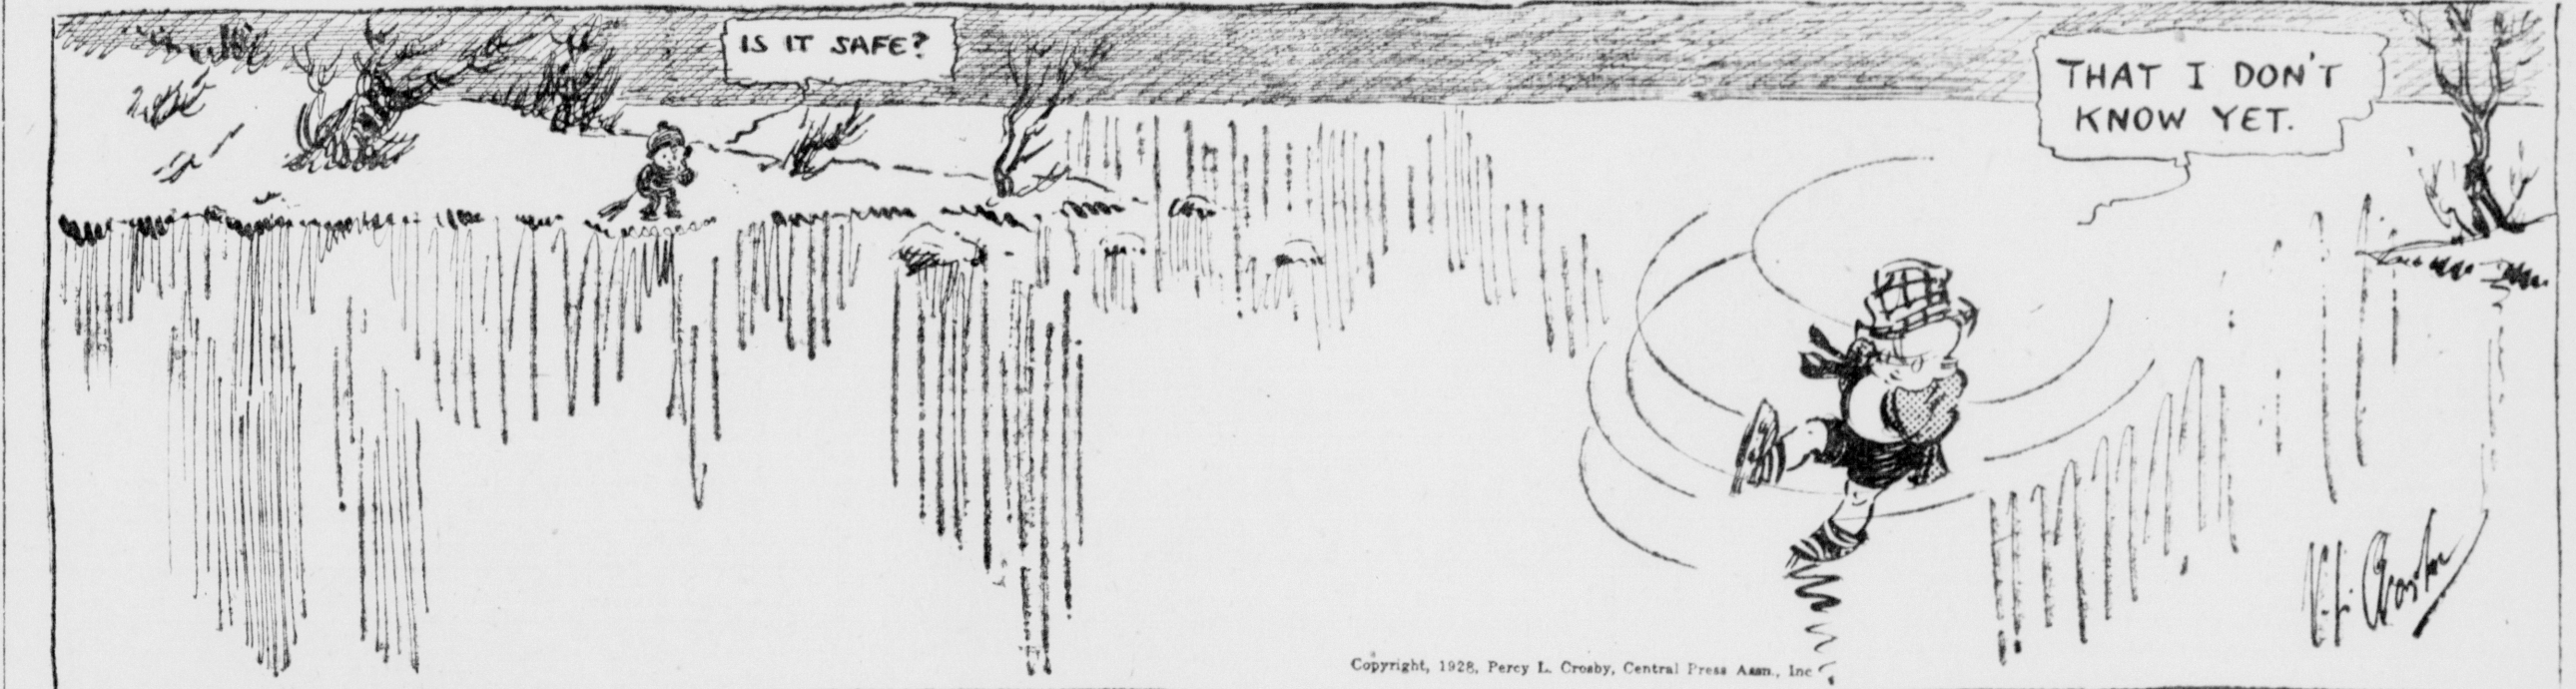

ETTA KETT—That's Gratitude for You!

"CAP" STUBBS—A Fine Chance He'll Have To Forget!!

"SHIRT"

HIGH PRESSURE PETE—Leave It To Pete

GOOFEY MOVIES

Money Love

By BEATRICE BURTON Author of

SALLY'S SHOULDERS
HONEY LOU
THE HOLLYWOOD-
GIRL, ETC.

"And you!—You common little vamp!"

CHAPTER LVII
Sally leaned back against the wall of the suite and deliberately tipped the end of one of his long, fat, expensive cigars, very slowly and deliberately, he smiled at himself as though he was enjoying the thought of the story he was getting ready to tell.

"Well," he began, "he narrowed eyes on the yellow flames that danced in the grate, 'your husband's piston ring was a good little ring, right enough. But the trouble is one was so much better than his didn't have a chance. And besides, he didn't have any money to advertise his. He didn't have a Dutchman's chance to put it over, and so he was pretty glad to sell out to us for a song. So was Jetterson. They won't have anything left out of their venture by the time they pay everybody what's due them.'"

He shook his head. "No, they won't have a dollar of profit. Not a dollar."

Not a dollar, Lily repeated to herself. She had been hoping all along that Pat would not have any money left when he had paid his bills and closed his books.

But now that she knew that this was just what was going to happen to him, she was unhappy and depressed over it.

She knew how Pat had slaved over that piston ring. How he had sold his cab, his own little run-about car, borrowed on his life insurance, worn his old clothes until they were shamefully shiny, and made her wear hers so he could "put over" that piston ring that was to make them rich and contented.

She shook her head mournfully. "He won't have a dollar," she echoed aloud. "Why, he'll just be broke-hearted, Staley."

And then another thought came to her. "Does Pat know that you're behind the company that bought him out?" she asked.

Staley shook his head. "No, I don't imagine he does—although I don't know. The president of the company is a man named Jennings. He swung the deal. It's nothing but an important, you understand. Both companies were tiny ones."

All this was very puzzling to Lily. She knew almost nothing about money and business deals. What she did know was that Pat had given up his cherished dream of success and prosperity when he sold out to the Scintilla company—and, knowing Pat as she did know him, she was sure that he was as blue as the ocean over it.

"Poor Pat!" she said, unhappily, and her eyes went to the clock above the mantelpiece. Half past nine. Too late to go to him now to try to comfort him, even if Staley did leave pretty soon. And Staley showed no sign of leaving. He stretched out his legs to the fire, pulled at his cigar and reached out an arm for Lily.

"You don't care what happens to him and his company, do you?" he asked. "Not that I had anything to do with the deal, anyway, for I didn't. I just happened to have some money in Scintilla, and they just happened to want to buy out this other little company. The whole thing is pretty small potatoes."

Lily nodded. "I suppose it does seem like small potatoes to you," she said quietly, "but it was life and death, almost, to Pat. I know—He's thought of nothing but that piston ring ever since I've known him."

Staley grunted. "He thought of you long enough to get you away from me last spring," he remarked, moving closer to her and laying his arm around her shoulders, and Lily had nothing to say, although she knew it was not the truth.

Pat had not taken her away from Staley. She had taken herself away from him, and then she had set about marrying Pat who knew that he ought not to marry her.

"Well, he can't marry now for a while, even after I divorce him," she told herself late that night, lying in bed and staring at the stars in the dark-blue sky outside her windows. He'll be too poor, even for Elizabeth Eriz, who probably isn't used to much in the way of money."

The next afternoon, while she was mending her stockings for the first time in her life—and doing a very poor job of it, too—the idea of going to Pat came to her.

Wasn't it the very least she could do? To go to him and tell him how sorry she was that all his fine plans for the piston-ring had come to nothing? And also to tell him that, even if Staley Drummond had put money into the Scintilla company, he had not done it because he wanted to send Pat's own company on the rocks?

"Of course I ought to tell him those things," she made up her mind, and dropping her mending basket on the floor beside her chair, she ran upstairs to dress.

She dressed very carefully for a woman who is going to see a husband for whom she no longer cares, supposedly—a husband whom she is getting ready to divorce. It took her an hour and a half to bathe and shampoo her hair—Pat always liked to see her hair light and fluffy—"wild looking," as he called it. Then she got into some new scarlet clothes that she had just charged at Azouliem's, where Madame France would know about them, and put on a new red slicker and hat.

Looking as gay as a red bird in the rainy gray day, she started out at four o'clock for the humble, crowded part of town where Pat lived.

It was five when she reached Roy Jetterson's garage, where the La France piston ring was still advertised on cardboard signs all over the painted brick walls.

But neither Roy nor Pat was there. "Probably over at the shop, gittin' things cleaned up down there," suggested the mechanic who was in charge, and over to the shop where the ring had been manufactured, went Lily.

She was shocked when she saw it, with its soot-blackened walls, its lopsided roof, and the mud that was all around it.

So this was the sad and gloomy place where Pat had been working at night for months, after he had finished his day's work at the garage! She could have groined at the sight of it. No wonder he had wanted a hot bath the minute he stepped into the house after hours in a place like this! No wonder he had wanted a decent meal and a clean, quiet, cheerful wife!

No wonder he was out of patience on those nights when he did come home early only to find his flat dark and cheerless and his wife absent—driving around with Staley Drummond and making plans to get away from the little flat and from him and from his poverty.

"Oh, I wasn't very nice to him, was I?" Lily asked herself, as she crossed the muddy yard and rapped on the weather-beaten wooden door of the ramshackle building.

After a long time—three or four minutes—there was a sound of slow, dragging footsteps within, and a man pulled open the door. He was a very old man in a ragged brown sweater, a grease-stained old hat, and dirty overalls. A dirty yellow dog was at his heels, and it growled at Lily.

"Is Mr. France here?" she asked, wishing that the man would hold the dog by its old leather collar. It really was a mean-looking dog.

Mr. France was not there, the old man told her, while the dog circled around her, his nose close to her heels.

"Seems like he said him and Mr. Jetterson was going up to Mr. Jetterson's for supper," he said. "Anyways, they drove off just a while afore you come up. Come here, Pat!"

Lily stared at him in surprise, and saw that he was calling the old yellow dog. The dog's name was Pat!

"Did you name that beast after Mr. France?" she asked, and he nodded his head solemnly.

"That's Mr. Pat's dog," he said. "Keeps him company down here when he's alone, he says. Sometimes when he works late, get the evenin' off with my old woman. Yes, this is Mr. Pat's dog."

There was a queer lump in Lily's throat as she slushed through the

Vern L. Faires
Represents
America's Oldest Life Ins. Co.
The Mutual Life Ins. Co.
OF
NEW YORK
Allen Bldg. Phone 240
Xenia, Ohio.

PUBLIC SALE
Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1928.
On farm of William Conley, 3 miles northwest of Cedarville and 1 mile southwest of Clifton. One black mare in foal, good worker.

16 head choice dairy cattle, fresh cows and springers, 1 yearling Guernsey bull. All cattle tuberculin tested.

40 head of feeding hogs, wt. 100 to 125 lbs. 7 sows bred, 1 sow with 7 pigs, 4 weeks old, 1 yearling Hampshire boar. Hogs immuned.

Farm implements, hay loader, milk separator etc.
Sale positive to close a partnership.

Terms on day of sale.
William Conley and James Kirk

to him. Lily saw the nurse's hand tighten on his arm. And then she lost her temper. She flung herself forward and pulled the belt away from Pat. She held her by both arms and shook her as if she had been a rag doll instead of a woman almost as big as herself.

"And—and you, you common little vamp!" she cried through set teeth, "you keep your hands off my husband as long as he is my husband. Do you hear me? Or I'll drag you both through the nastiest divorce trial that a woman's ever been dragged through. You keep away from him!"

She never had known such anger as the anger that surged through her now like fire in her veins.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

DEMURRER UPHELD BY APPEALS COURT IN SUIT FOR MONEY

J. W. Liles lost in the Greene County Court of Appeals a suit against Chester Campbell and W. A. Paxson to recover the unpaid balance upon an account for labor and material furnished, according to a decision announced Friday.

The appellate court held the defendant's demurrer in the case was properly sustained by Common Pleas Court, declaring that under the circumstances, after a lapse of more than four years from the settlement pointed out in the answer to the original petition, Liles cannot bring suit to open up the settlement upon the ground of fraud.

Defendants pointed out a compromise effected between them and Liles.

Liles filed an amended reply in which was set forth that a settlement between him and Paxson, Campbell and A. C. Carpenter was procured by certain false representations.

Fraud was charged, Liles claiming that on the date of the alleged compromise, Paxson called him in to his office in Jamestown and told him that they, meaning Paxson, Carpenter and Campbell, had made a settlement of all matters relating to the Whitacre farm, including the account and its payment, and that Paxson and Carpenter would pay the plaintiff $110. Campbell further agreed with the other parties that he would pay the balance, Liles contended.

Paxson also produced a check made payable to Liles for $110 and asked him to sign it, the reply alleged.

Relying upon the representations made to him as stated, and believing that the defendants had agreed among themselves as he was informed, the plaintiff declared he signed the receipt and accepted the check as a payment on the account. At this time there had in fact been no settlement among the parties, Liles claimed.

Paxson filed a demurrer to this reply for the reason that, on its face it was insufficient in law. The trial court sustained the demurrer and Liles appealed.

Frank H. Dean, this city, was attorney for Liles, W. S. Paxson, Washington C. H., and W. A. Paxson, Jamestown, were attorneys for Paxson, while Attorney Harry D. Smith, this city, represented Campbell.

As Lily stood facing Pat in the hallway the curtains in the doorway parted, and Elizabeth Eriz came out and stood beside him. She stood very close to him, with one of her hands on his arm as if he belonged to her and she to him.

The sight maddened Lily.

She looked from her to Pat. "I came to see you—to tell you I was sorry because your piston ring popped," she said bitterly. "But I guess you don't need sympathy. You seem to have plenty of it already."

He nodded indifferently, as if what she said did not matter much.

Let Cuticura Soap Keep Your Skin Fresh and Youthful Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Talcum Free. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. E, Boston, Mass.

YOU SAVE!

WHEN YOU SHIP BY TRUCK

No trucking to and from stations, cutting operators down to two. From your address to truck and truck to address.

Jesse Gilbert

136 W. Main St.

Phone 304

BIJOU THEATER

TONIGHT
ED WYNNAnd
CHESTER CONKLIN

In a six reel comedy detective story

"RUBBER HEELS"

Also

Billy Dooley

in "ROW SAILOR ROW" a two reel comedy

Admission 15c and 25c

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
LILLIAN GISH

In

"ANNIE LAURIE"

You will love this picture as you love the song. A thrilling tale of love in Bonnie Scotland during the Glencoe Massacres, the most colorful period of Scottish history. This has been hailed as the greatest starring vehicle in the career of Lillian Gish—a production of breath-taking magnificence and size, a drama of tremendous sweep and power, a romance of unforgettable beauty.

Admission For "Annie Laurie" 15c and 30c

I Have Said in My Heart

By IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON
GOOD SPORTS

The other day I visited the editor of a great magazine—if the word "great" can be used to describe its popularity and swollen subscription list. The man and I had been friends for many years, and evidently something had gone wrong with him that morning, for he said, "I wish you would write me a story from the woman's point of view which will show why so many marriages are unsuccessful. I have asked Mr. — to write it from a man's point of view. But your stories will have to be anonymous, you know, because I want both of you to be particularly honest, not only with the readers, but with yourself."

"Has there never been a time when you have looked into your husband's face and wished that he were dead?"

"How terrible!" I said. "Of course not!"

"Well, anyway, I bet you have wished he was miles away and was never coming back," he said, doggedly.

"Say, what's the matter with you, anyway?" I asked. "Don't you care for your wife any more?"

"Yes, of course," he answered. "I don't believe I could live with any other woman on earth, and it's all I can do to live with her sometimes."

"Then, it is you who are to blame."

"No, it's both of us. It's every married couple in the land. Why aren't we told when we are young and think that love is everything, that the time will come when we will grow tired, when we will grow bored, when we will almost have murder in our hearts? We look into the more or less placid face of the woman we have married and think that we have no individual life, that everything which is ours is held in common?"

"You are a poor sport," I said. "Do you know, I was talking with your wife last night and she fished out of her bag a poem called 'A Mood,' that I wrote for your magazine many years ago, and she told me that she had kept it all these years. Let me read you a couple of stanzas:

"I am only you,
I am yours, a part of you, your wife,
I cannot think, cannot do,
I cannot breathe, cannot see:
There is us, but there is not me."

The man looked up, startled. "Great Scott," he said, in a hushed voice. "I always thought Alice was perfectly contented."

Memo: You may not be the only good sport in your family.

FLUE BURNS

Answering an alarm at 5:07 o'clock Saturday afternoon, firemen discovered a chimney flue had burned out at the residence of Mrs. H. L. Dice, 140 S. Columbus St. No

COLDS
CHECKED IN 24 HOURS
Take HILL'S for quick, thorough results. Pains and fever stop. The system is cleaned and cooled. The Cold is checked. You'll feel better in a few hours.

Be Sure It's HILL'S Price 30c
CASCARA QUININE
Get Red Box with portrait damage was caused. A daughter had become frightened and turned in the alarm.

DOG ENJOYS SHOPPING RUSH
WILMINGTON, Del.—A dog entered a department store here, regarding with great interest shoppers as they hustled about their business. Repeatedly he would return to the store, roaming around wagging his tail until finally a manager called the Society for Animal Protection. It was found the dog was registered and the owner, Archie Drake, notified to come and get him. Mr. Drake came and took him home, but half an hour later the dog was back in the same store again.

ONE STOP

GAS, OIL, TIRES, BATTERIES, RADIO, ETC.
LOWER PRICES—INSTANT SERVICE

HONEYCOMB RADIATORS

FOR ALL FORDS

$8.95

A Liberal Allowance For Your

Old One

FAMOUS AUTO SUPPLY

The Yellow Front

IF

—it were not for the fact that the state recognizes that the lives and health of its citizens must be protected, there would be no regulations demanding that your pharmaceutical would be done by registered pharmacists.

Yet many products of a pharmaceutical nature that may affect the lives and health of the citizens of a community, are often purchasable, without the protection given when handled by a registered pharmacist.

To purchase material that properly should be handled by pharmacists, where there is no trained man to properly instruct in usage, is dangerous to the purchaser, and works a hardship on the pharmacist. For the pharmacist must pay the salaries of these trained men whether or not he is able to keep their time constantly employed.

The continuance of drug stores as pharmaceutical centers depends on taking to them the kind of business which the state requires that they maintain registered pharmacists to handle.

Your Druggist Is More Than a Merchant

Affiliated Druggists Of Xenia

Jones', E. Main St.

Sohn's, E. Main St.

Sayre's, So. Detroit St.

Donges', So. Detroit St.

"E" BRAND PANCAKES

Fluffy golden pancakes topped with syrup—how the children do love them for breakfast! "E" BRAND PANCAKE FLOUR makes cakes delicious in flavor and that contain 18 vital body building elements all in a form easy to digest. This flour is ready mixed and all you have to do is add water, cook on a HOT griddle and in less than five minutes you have perfect pancakes ready to serve.

BREAKFAST FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY—10c A BOX

"E" BRAND SYRUP

A clear, sweet, syrup of delicious flavor. Ideal for pancakes and all table purposes.

"E" BRAND ROLLED OATS

A dish of rich, creamy, fine flavored, rolled oats should be the first item of the children's breakfast every morning. The average housekeeper prefers "E" BRAND QUICK COOKING ROLLED OATS because it is partially cooked before packing and READY TO SERVE IN LESS THAN FIVE MINUTES TIME. It has all of the nourishment of old fashioned rolled oats but is especially prepared for the modern hasty breakfast.

OLD FASHIONED ROLLED OATS

For the housekeeper who prefers the old fashioned rolled oats nothing quite equals "E" BRAND OLD FASHIONED OATS that is prepared by the old Scotch method in a coke oven. It is fine in flavor and rich in nourishment.

THE EAVEY COMPANY

More Than 58 Years of Business Integrity Back of All "E" BRAND Products
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED

